

$1500 BOND PURCHASED FROM CEMETERY FUND

COUNCIL MET IN REGULAR SESSION MONDAY NIGHT—TAX RATE TO BE SET JUNE 16

The regular monthly meeting of Stirling Village Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening, with Reeve Wm. C. West in the chair, and Councillors C. B. Rollins, Gil Thompson and E. G. Bailey.

Following the adoption of the minutes, communications were read from Brunner-Mond Co. with reference to purchase of seven tons of calcium chloride, and Ontario Department of Health, relative to payment of account for insulin.

The question of additional pay to the Village Assessor for numbering the lots on the roll was discussed at considerable length.

Councillor Bailey stated Mr. Anderson, the assessor, had done a good job and he felt he should receive pay for the extra work involved. Councillor Rollins agreed that the job was worth more money, but thought the time to decide the amount of the salary was when the work was accepted. The practice of increasing the salary of an official during the year would eventually lead to trouble. On motion of Councillors Bailey and Rollins, Mr. Anderson was given $25 additional in payment in full for his duties as assessor.

Reeve West stated he had received further complaints concerning dogs destroying flower beds, etc., and the matter was discussed at length. Members agreed that some steps should be taken to curb this nuisance, but were undecided as to how best to do so. It was decided to appeal to the dog owners to keep the canines confined to their own property from the first of June until the first of August. Failure of owners to comply with the request will result in severer measures being taken.

Councillor G. Thompson gave notice that he would introduce a by-law to levy tax rate on the rateable property of the Village of Stirling at a special meeting of council to be held on Monday, June 16th.

The Reeve reported the receipt of a Victory Loan Banner, for which a bill was enclosed for $15.00. Officials of the campaign had suggested this banner be paid for by local interests. No action was taken by Council.

The purchase of Victory Loan Bonds with funds of the Cemetery Trust Account was considered and on motion of Councillors Rollins and Bailey, the purchase of $1500 worth of bonds was authorized.

Reeve West introduced the matter of motorists failing to observe the stop signs and speeding on the streets of the Village. He stated there were far too many infractions of the law, and the Chief Constable had been

BAKERY IS CLOSED

Fink was written to a Stirling business establishment last night when Cranston's Bakery closed its doors. This action followed the sale of the firm's several bread delivery routes to the Weston Bread Co., by the estate of the late Thos. Cranston. It is understood that Messrs. Eric Lovell, Vernon Eggleton and Alfred Livingstone, who have been operating the various routes, will continue with the Weston Co.

Cranston's Bakery opened business four years ago in April, when the late Thomas Cranston took over the business operated by Bert McMullen in the Connor Block. In August, 1938, it was moved to the present location and has been carried on by the estate since the death of the late Thos. Cranston in February last.

CONFERRED DEGREE

Members of Madoc Degree Team paid a visit to Stirling Lodge, No. 239, I.O.O.F., on Wednesday evening last and conferred the third degree on a number of candidates from Trenton, Stirling and Madoc lodges. At the conclusion of the ceremony, refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

RED CROSS CONCERT

A successful concert and fashion show under the auspices of the local branch of the Red Cross was staged in the local Theatre on Monday evening. There was a good crowd in attendance and some thirty-two dollars was realized for the work of the society. Mrs. Gordon Bailey, president of the local branch, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the various numbers on the program. During the evening the different articles of clothing made for refugees and soldiers by members of the society were displayed with a number of children and prominent citizens acting as models.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Miss Marjorie Clements has accepted a position in the office of the Stirling Creamery and began her duties on Monday morning.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Friends of Mr. A. L. Hough, who recently underwent an operation in a Kingston hospital, will regret to learn that it was found necessary to take him to Belleville Hospital, where a second operation was performed on Thursday night. The latest report is that he has greatly improved.

DEER PLENTIFUL

All signs point to deer being plentiful in this district for the hunting season next fall. During recent weeks several reports have been heard of district residents seeing these elusive animals, but the latest comes from Fred Anderson, of Anderson's Island, who informed the writer yesterday that a deer feeds in a field of alfalfa on his farm every day.

RUNAWAY TEAM CRASHES WINDOW

Considerable excitement was occasioned on Front St. on Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock, when a runaway team owned by Arthur Scott, of Stirling, crashed into the front of Walter T. Elliott's office, breaking a large plate glass window and causing slight damage to a new washing machine and some radios on display.

The horses were hitched to a farm wagon and were tethered in a shed at the rear of F. Stapley's feed store, when they broke loose and ran out the alleyway between the feed store and the Melklohn block and across Front St. When they hit the curb on the south side of the street one horse fell but the other continued through the window. However they extricated themselves and were out on the street again before they were caught. Only minor injuries were suffered by the animals. It was very fortunate that there were no children playing in the alleyway at the time or more serious consequences might have resulted.

SHOWER GIVEN BRIDE-TO-BE

MISS WINNIFRED WARD, R.N., RECEIVES MANY BEAUTIFUL GIFTS FROM LOCAL FRIENDS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ward, was the scene of a delightful event on Friday evening, when friends and neighbours gathered to tender a miscellaneous shower to their daughter, Miss Winnifred Ward, R.N., one of the month's brides.

Rev. W. H. V. Walker acted as master of ceremonies and a short program was presented consisting of a trio by Misses Doreen and Mary Agnes Fox and Marilyn Eggleton, a duet by Misses Iris Bastedo and Jean McIntosh, readings by Mrs. A. Hammond, Mrs. Louis Rodgers, Miss Gena Spry and Miss Jean McIntosh. At the conclusion of the program, Miss Ward was given a seat of honour and the Misses Eva Ann Bastedo and Isabel Fox, dressed as a bride and groom, presented her with a large number of beautiful and useful gifts. Miss Ward made an appropriate reply, following which short addresses were delivered by Mesdames W. L. Anderson and Nora Westcott, Miss Eliza Donnan, and Mr. E. Berry, of Belleville.

The serving of a dainty lunch and a social hour brought a pleasant evening to a close.

CAR DAMAGED

Slight damage was done to the front of a car owned by J. B. Thompson, on Wednesday afternoon, in a collision with the rear of a truck parked on the south side of E. Lawrence's service station. Mr. Thompson had parked his car in front of Jas. Sarles' store, while he went into the bank, and during his absence the vehicle coasted across the road and collided with the truck. One headlight broken off and a damaged grille was the extent of the damage.

STIRLING WINS FROM GLEN ROSS

EXCITING GAME AT FAIR GROUNDS TUESDAY NIGHT—MEET SPRINGBROOK NEXT

Stirling's entry in the Rawdon softball league got off on the right foot on Tuesday evening, when the locals defeated Glen Ross by a score of 13-5, in a seven-inning contest. The game which was played on the diamond at the Fair Grounds, was featured by sparkling plays by the players of both teams and was witnessed by a fair crowd of spectators.

Doug May was on the mound for the winners and held the losers in check in five of the seven innings. He retired six by the strike-out routes and issued three bases on balls. Hackney behind the plate held him up in good fashion.

R. Pyear and J. Armstrong alternated on the mound for the losers and both were hit hard at times. Defensively Gerald Pyear, Glen Ross first baseman, was the fielding star, roaming far and wide to make no less than eight put-outs unassisted. He also contributed a pair of singles to his team's offensive. His was the best individual performance seen here in a long, long time.

For the winners "Billie" McGee and B. Bastedo led the attack, the former getting two doubles and a pair of singles in five attempts, and the latter a double and three singles in a like number of tries.

The three Pyear boys and Loshaw, were the best hitters for the losers, each contributing a pair of singles.

Score by innings:

Stirling . . . 4 0 0 5 0 3 1—13

Glen Ross . . . 2 0 6 0 0 0 0—8

The lineups:—

Stirling—B. McGee, 2nd; B. Bastedo 3b; G. Bailey, 1b; D. McIntosh, rf; D. May, p; D. Patterson, ss; G. Dainard, lf; Hackney, c; R. Walker, cf.

Glen Ross—H. Brown, 2b; D. Pyear, ss; R. Pyear, p; Loshaw, lf; Armstrong, cf; G. Pyear, 1b; McDonnell, c; E. Grills, rf; Vandervoort, 3b.

Umpires—plate, H. Conley; 1st, C. A. Wells; 3rd, R.E.Fox.

FRIDAY GAME

The opening game of the Rawdon Softball League was played Friday evening last, when Springbrook defeated Glen Ross by a score of 13 to 11. The game, which was played on the diamond at the Fair Grounds, was viewed by a fair crowd of spectators, and was productive of both good and bad ball. Considering it was the first game of the season, it was a good game to watch, but the teams erred from the spectators' point of view in not starting earlier.

Springbrook took the lead in the first innings, when they greeted R. Pyear, on the mound for the losers, with a barrage of base hits and aided by several errors, scored five runs. They picked up two in the second, one in the third, three in the fourth and climaxed their efforts with seven runs in the fifth to make their total eighteen.

Glen Ross counted three runs in the first, three in the third, two in the fourth and three in the fifth.

R. Pyear on the mound for the losers gave up 16 hits and three walks. He had six strikeouts to his credit. Herrington was the winning pitcher and gave up 12 hits. He issued four walks and struck out three.

Lavery, with a triple and a single in four trips to the plate, and G. Pyear with a double, were the heavy hitters for the losers.

A. Holland, the Springbrook centre fielder had a pair of doubles, a single and a walk for a perfect average, and along with R. Bailey, C. Thompson and R. Richardson, led the winners' attack.

Fielding plays were contributed by "Wimpy" Vandervoort, with a fine running catch of a foul ball of third base, Richardson who made a circus grab of a hard smash, and Holland.

Springbrook centre-fielder, who handled several chances.

By innings:—

Springbrook . . . 5 2 1 3 7—15

Glen Ross . . . 3 0 3 2 3—11

Umpires—plate, C. A. Wells; 1st, H. Conley; 3rd, E. Munday.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Arthur Weaver, Front St., underwent an operation for appendicitis in Belleville Hospital last night. Her many friends in Stirling and vicinity wish her a speedy recovery.

SECURES CONTRACT

Fred Elgie, local contractor, has been awarded the contract for the construction of a new United Church at Muncey, Ont., and expects to leave on Monday to begin operations. The contract also includes the demolition of two old churches.

SOFTBALL TOMORROW NIGHT

Two games are scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) night in the Rawdon Softball League, with Stirling playing Springbrook, on the latter's home diamond, and Glen Ross and Mt. Pleasant clashing at the Stirling Fair Grounds.

JUNIOR FARMERS TO JUDGE HERE

COMPETITION TO BE HELD HERE THURSDAY NEXT UNDER DIRECTION OF H. L. FAIR

A judging competition for the Junior Farmers of Hastings County will be held at Stirling, on Thursday next, June 12th. Registration will be at the local Agricultural Office, at 8.30 a.m., standard time, and the competitions will be under the direction of H. L. Fair, Agricultural representative.

This competition will consist of a Junior and Senior Competition in Live Stock Judging. Contestants must judge two classes each of horses, Dairy Cattle, Swine and Beef Cattle. Oral reasons will be given on one class of each breed. Contestants can win trophies and cash prizes.

The Junior Competition is open to all farmers and farmers' sons resident on farms in Hastings County, under 21 years of age and who have not previously represented the County at any inter-county Live Stock Judging Competition or those who have not completed a two year course at an Agricultural College.

The Senior Competition is open to all farmers and farmers' sons, who have not reached their 26th birthday on August 1st, 1941 and who have not completed a two year course at an Agricultural College.

In addition to cash prizes there will be the following trophies for competition.

C.N.E. Shield—Highest aggregate score for boy attending his first competition.

Shield donated by the Canadian National Exhibition.

Wardens' Trophy—Presented for annual competition and held by the contestant junior or senior with the highest aggregate score in Live Stock Judging in 1941.

P. C. McGuire, Trophy—Must be won three times before becoming the property of any one winner; awarded to the contestant junior or senior with the highest score in judging Dairy Cattle.

Coaches' Competition—There will also be cash prizes offered for coaches. Coach to be a farmer or farmer's son in Hastings County who has not reached his 26th birthday on Aug. 1st, 1941. He must coach and enter a team of three boys, who have never been through a Live Stock Judging Competition before. Boys on the team will be eligible for regular prizes. Coaches are required to send in to this office names of team members with two spares, two days before the Competition.

Special prizes by Junior Farmer Clubs consisting of $5.00 each, which represents registration in any of the Winter Short Courses at the O.A.C., Guelph or Kemptville, will be awarded.

Winners of the above prizes must attend a Short Course for which this prize is given, or prize will go to the next highest contestant.

Winners of these prizes are not eligible for cash prizes. Previous winners not eligible to win trip again.

ADDED BONUS ON CHEESE

GOVERNMENT TO PAY AN ADDITIONAL ONE CENT A POUND FOR EXPORT CHEESE

Cheese production in Canada was given an added impetus on Monday with the announcement by the Dominion Government of an additional supplementary payment of a cent a pound on all cheddar cheese exported to the British Ministry of Food.

This new grant makes a total of 1 6-10 cents a pound paid by the Dominion on cheese for export, as a payment of 5-10 cents a pound on export cheese went into effect April 1, when the agreement with the United Kingdom became effective.

In addition, the Agriculture Department pays two cents a pound on all cheese scoring 94 points or over out of a possible 100 and one cent a pound on all 93 score cheese.

The Province of Ontario pays a bonus of two cents a pound on all Cheddar Cheese produced and a similar Quebec bonus applies on first-grade cheese only.

The government decision to pay an additional cent a pound for export cheese came at a time when production figures were causing a brighter outlook.

Agriculture Department officials reported that cheese gradings for the week ended May 31 were up 44.7 per cent over the same week last year at 36,251 boxes, for the major producing provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

If this increase is maintained, officials said there was little doubt that Britain's cheese requirements could be filled. During April, the first month of the present agreement, cheese production was down 1,217,000 pounds compared with the year before, but in every week except one in May the 1941 production showed substantial gains over 1940.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLD SPECIAL

RESIGNATION OF MISSES G. KIPPEN AND J. WORKMAN ACCEPTED BY SCHOOL BOARD

A special meeting of the Stirling Board of Education was held in H. C. Martin's office, Monday forenoon to consider two vacancies on the High School staff, Misses J. Workman and G. Kippen having tendered their resignation to take effect at the end of the school term.

Chairman Ewart Bailey presided and Messrs. J. S. Morton, N. E. Eggleton, C. F. Linn, R. B. Duffin, J. B. Belshaw and H. C. Martin were in attendance.

The resignation of the two members of the staff were accepted, following which a discussion took place on the course of study in the local school. It was decided to resume the teaching of art in grade IX and the teachers' committee was authorized to fill the vacancies forthwith.

following instructions in sequence:

(1). Telephone (reversing charges) Trenton 944, Local 107 and ask for the aerodrome control officer.

(2). Give him the following information distinctly and as accurately as possible:

(a) If the crash is in the immediate vicinity of a town or village, give the name of such town or village.

(b) If on a farm, give the lot number—north or south half, as the case may be, concession number and township.

Having 'phoned in the above information, then take action to post someone on the road nearest the scene of the accident, to guide the ambulance when it comes along.

When an accident occurs, you will be rendering a most valuable service by taking action as above indicated and your co-operation will be most sincerely appreciated.

THE PLEDGE

● "I hereby declare my belief in Almighty God and reaffirm my Loyalty and Allegiance to His Majesty, the King, and further declare my support of British Institutions.

"I pledge myself and my all to hold the Torch on high, and to march shoulder to shoulder with the United Kingdom and her Allies in our righteous cause to victory and enduring peace."

APPEAL TO DOG OWNERS

● The dog question in Stirling is again to the fore. At a meeting of the council held on Monday evening members of council spoke of receiving complaints regarding the destruction of flower beds, etc. by roaming canines. A discussion of the question revealed that members of council were unanimously agreed that some action should be taken to abate the dog nuisance particularly during the spring and summer months.

In most towns a by-law goes into effect from May to August, forbidding dog owners to let their dogs run at large, and it gives general satisfaction. Stirling has no such by-law, with the result that flower beds, lawns, and shrubbery are damaged.

Rather than take legal action against local dog owners who persist in letting their pets run at large, council is appealing to their sense of fair play in the matter, and are asking them to keep their dogs from running at large from now until the first of August. We venture the opinion that there isn't a dog owner but who would be angry if a neighbour's cow or horse were to trample his garden. Then why allow your pet to annoy your neighbour? Council isn't asking anything unreasonable and we urge the dog owners to comply with the request.

A MATTER OF INSURANCE

● Picture the plight of a chairman of the Board of Directors who reports at the annual meeting of his company that his colleagues had taken out ten thousand dollars fire insurance policy to protect plant buildings and equipment valued at two hundred thousand dollars.

At home that evening he would likely explain that he had had a very hard day and that he was now ex-chairman of the board.

"Ah," you say, "that can't happen to any Canadian business in this modern day!"

But don't reach such a conclusion too hurriedly. Have you stopped to consider that the Dominion of Canada—our ace business institution—may be under-insured?

Europe is in flames. And that huge conflagration will surely catch Canada if the blaze is not checked on the other side. That is irrefutable.

In the light of this understanding, with the full knowledge that unless fiery Nazism is brought under control at its source, Canada stands to lose everything, what action should Canadians take from the viewpoint of good business? Canada's developed resources are measured by billions of dollars. Her undeveloped resources are so vast that they cannot be earmarked by the dollar sign. Our other assets of freedom and happiness are almost as precious as heaven itself.

The only insurance available to us is ever increasing production of material for the fire fighters overseas. That production hinges on the assets of Canadians in terms of dollars.

The present War Loan is an insurance premium, small enough in relation to the size of the policy we should take out for the protection of our very existence.

CURRENT COMMENT

● We heard a woman say in all seriousness the other day that a man was a necessary thing around the house. Pressed for an explanation, she said he could cut the lawn. We might add that a man is awfully useful to hold a skein of yarn or keep the family car in gasoline and oil.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

● Softball fans would do well to wend their way out to the Fair Grounds on Tuesday and Thursday nights to witness the games being played in the Rawdon Softball League. The teams are evenly matched and are playing a good brand of ball. Your support will be appreciated by the players.

● Good news for Stirling housewives will be found in the announcement that the council has made arrangements for the purchase of several tons of calcium chloride for distribution on the village streets. Due to the unusual dry season the dust nuisance has been greater than customary and the action taken by council will be greatly appreciated.

● The Winchester Press tells a story of co-operation in a farming community, which will stand repeating. According to the story a farmer in that district died recently, leaving a widow, with a small family, to face the problem of running a farm. It was seeding time and the neighbours rallied to her assistance, with the result that 22 teams and three tractors were put to work and over twenty acres were worked and seeded in less than one day. This was a most commendable act on the part of those friendly neighbours and their example might well be followed by others when the occasion arises.

● The additional one-cent bonus on cheese made for export to Britain, announced by the Dominion Government this week, will be an added impetus to the production of this commodity. This makes the Dominion Grant one and six-tenths cents per pound and together with the Ontario bonus of two cents and the grade bonus makes it possible to obtain a maximum price of twenty cents per pound. While the production of cheese was considerably lower than last year in the first four months, it is reported there was a big increase in May and now that the price has been made more attractive there should be more farmers turn to the production of milk for cheese.

What Others Say

BEGINS AT HOME

Too many parents leave their children to roam the streets by night, while they go out to tell others how to raise their little ones. It would be encouraging if there were any indications that the country is awakening to the fact that a parents most important contribution to the public good is the rearing of children who will be public assets rather than public liabilities. Like charity, welfare work rightly begins at home.—Guelph Mercury.

ILL-ADVISED

There is a growing feeling among people generally that this is an ill-advised time to stage a strike in any industry, but more particularly in plants engaged in the production of war supplies. Our soldiers are working for a small enough pay envelope and we who are outside the danger zone should not impede production which might further jeopardise the men in our fighting forces. One can hardly pick up a daily newspaper these days without learning of "a strike in some war production plant."—Carleton Place Canadian.

PASSING THE BUCK

There are four thousand and thirty "conchies" in Canada. What is a conchie? A conchie is a conscientious objector. And a conscientious objector is a person who believes that his country should give him a living, but that he should give nothing to his country.

Assuming that there is such a thing as a honest-to-gosh person who does not believe in defending his country to the death—and it is hard to believe there is such a person—we contend that the majority of these conchies are nothing but cowards. They have an exaggerated ego, a torpid condition of the conscience and a yellow streak a foot wide down their spinal column.

There is no shame in these people. As a rule they are a loose-tongued, ~~stupid~~ class who may be physically perfect, but mentally imperfect. And their deserved punishment is in the latrine section at the military camps.

And just to think that two thousand six hundred and thirty-six of the total conchies in this country were born in Canada. Their parents raised them tenderly no doubt, but 'twere better they had raised something more useful to their country.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

Succession duties will be collected by the Federal Government just as if there were no such thing as provincial duties. In other words, Ottawa reports that succession duties are to be collected twice from now on in Canada.

What Others Say

CENSUS NOT SENSE

We would just like to point out again that Nero was a piker. After all, there was only one city burning while he fiddled. Canada proposes to fiddle around with a decennial census while the whole world is ablaze. We are sending an army of men out to count the cows and the chickens while British bones are bleaching upon Egyptian sands and Cretan hills. —Thomas Richard Henry in Toronto Telegram.

THE COW

There are clever and discerning people abroad in the land at present, and as evidence we submit the work of a student who was writing an essay on "Cows."

Leaving out a good deal of the preliminary wordage, we come to that place where it says: "The most important part of a cow is the receptacle in which the milk is stored. This is called the udder. By a clever arrangement, it is divided into four compartments, each with a separate tap."

"By this means the milk is divided at the source so that one part goes to the landlord, one to the mortgage company, one to the government, and one to the farmer."—Peterborough Examiner.

WHERE THE WAS IS

A major and an M.P. man says that he has been ordered by Mr. Ralston to keep quiet as an M.P. or resign his commission in the army.

Mr. Ralston was where the war was in the last war.

We aren't in favor of gagging an M.P. because he is critical of the Government, but maybe Mr. Ralston remembers what the boys in France used to say about the lads in the pay office at London.

We could understand Mr. Ralston advising an army man to take off the uniform or go where the war is, but not this particular army man who happened to be an overseas man in the last war, and is headed for overseas in this war.—Thomas Richard Henry in Toronto Telegram.

DON'T HIDE YOUR LIGHT

We once heard a farm woman declare she could tell a good farmer from a silphod one by the size of his woodpile. Well, there is another measuring stick which can be used similarly in judging the acumen of a business man. The smart, aggressive business man proclaims himself to the public in the form of advertising. Many business men declare they cannot afford to advertise. What they really mean is that they cannot afford any outlay of money because they do not advertise. Advertising is not a liability, it is a sound investment. A dollar spent in advertising display brings back many dollars in new business. Don't hide your light under a bushel; use the advertising medium of your local paper.—Erin Advocate, Ont.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU!

The growth and prosperity of a community depends upon the spirit of its citizens, says The Chatham News, and adds that the reason why some towns grow is because there are men of push and energy in it who are not afraid to spend their time and money in improvements. Notwithstanding there is a war in progress, there are certain improvements which must be kept up to keep a town from running over at the heel. When sidewalks become an eyesore, they should be replaced. When roadways resemble ocean waves they should be repaired. Entrances into a town should be as attractive as possible. Junk yards should be enclosed by painted fences, and morgue-like lights should be replaced by larger and brighter lights.—Petrolia Advertiser-Topic, Ont.

YOUR MOUTH!

Did you ever realize what a busy place your mouth is? It's always working at something. For instance, here is a wee list of a few of its chores and contortions:

- It chews.
- It spits.
- It smokes.
- It yawns.
- It kisses.
- It talks.
- It whistles.
- It coughs.
- It smiles.
- It pouts.
- It puckers.
- It yells.
- It yodels.
- It hollers.
- It cries.
- It sings.
- It licks stamps.
- It sticks out its tongue.
- It occasionally bites off more than it can chew—sometimes it gets cold and, too often these days, it gives information to the enemy—which brings us to one of its main abilities (which same a lot of us seem to forget)—it can be shut up.

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL PROCEDURE

No less than 13,807 Orders-In-Council have been passed in Ottawa since September, 1939. This information was disclosed by the Prime Minister of Canada in answer to a question asked by a Member of Parliament who wanted to know how many of the Orders-In-Council were passed in order to change or suspend operation of the laws passed since the outbreak of the war.

NEW BUILDING RULES

The licensing of new buildings or the enlargements of old buildings will depend upon conditions in the locality and in the particular business affected. This information was given by the Priorities Commissioner, R. C. Berkinshaw of Ottawa, who also indicated that licensing will not be difficult if there is actually a shortage of homes or apartments, which happens to be true in the case of many localities. Likewise, if there is a need for enlargement or expansion of building in certain industries or businesses, this will be permitted when it is proven to be necessary, though the industry or business is not concerned with war matters. Otherwise, a license may be refused as it has already been done in the cases of two motion picture undertakings or projects in Edmonton.

CANADA AND THE GRAVITY OF FRENCH COLLABORATION

Though Britain severed diplomatic relations with the Vichy Government in France a long time ago, Canada carried on these relationships through the French Legation in Ottawa since this was the only channel of communication or inquiry on various affairs, though it was never indicated whether this was used or not. Mr. Ristelhueber was in charge of the office in Ottawa ever since he came here prior to the collapse of France and he carried on his duties quietly. However, the Canadian Government will not be able to remain indifferent, if the Petain-Darlan Government at Vichy collaborates extensively with the enemy, with Premier King referring to the whole matter as "a very delicate subject" as an indication of the seriousness of the problem for the Dominion of Canada.

U. S. WHEAT POLICY AND CANADA

In view of the intentions of the United States to guarantee farmers a return of 97 cents a bushel on wheat compared with 70 cents in Canada, this disparity has caused much discussion on Parliament Hill. Under the present plans farmers in the United States will receive 85 per cent of parity regardless of market conditions, with parity being a price that would give farm products relatively the same purchasing power as they commanded in the years 1909-1914. However, it is argued that a policy of this kind would raise the cost of living and the defence programme. Then again conditions in the two countries and the basic wheat policies are not alike in many respects. Moreover, it is known that United States authorities are worried in case Canadian wheat is attracted to their markets despite the 42 cents a bushel duty rate. But a high rate in the United States and a much lower rate in Canada is bound to attract attention by its disparity, with this being a subject of much discussion in well-informed circles in the capital, particularly on account of the prevailing conditions amongst wheat farming communities in Canada.

WAR CRISIS AND PARLIAMENTARY SESSION

It can be reported now that there will be no prorogation of Parliament, but merely an adjournment. This means only a temporary recess and such circumstances in face of the fact that these proposals have been rejected by the Government. However, in any crisis, there is no doubt that these would be revived as live issues once again, and whether Parliament is in session or not now, important news is certain to emanate from Ottawa within the next few weeks.

such as national government or national service on selective lines and other matters touching on the war and its direction would be revived under

To the Employer...

Contributions to the Unemployment Insurance Fund become payable as from July 1st, 1941.

Contributions are made by the employer and the employee, and are paid by the purchase of Unemployment Insurance stamps by the employer from the Post Offices.

The employee's contributions are deducted from his wages by the employer.

Stamps will be affixed to a special book, called the Insurance Book, by the employer. The book is the employee's record of contributions, and when he becomes unemployed it forms the record from which insurance benefits may be paid. Full details will be sent to you when you have returned the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails.

The plan of procedure has been adopted after consultation with employer and employee associations and is one which has been based upon thirty years' experience in Great Britain.

The Dominion Government adds 20% to the combined employee-employer contributions, and in addition, pays the administration costs which include the operation of a National Employment Service for the convenience of employers and employees.

Contributions are payable by all persons while in employment and by their employers, with the exceptions listed in the panel below.

The first duty of every employer will be to REGISTER WITH THE COMMISSION by completing the postcard attached to a form which is now in the mails, and obtaining and issuing insurance books for all his employees. If there is doubt as to whether your employees, or any of them, are insurable, ask for instructions when you return the postal card. If you do not receive a form through the mail go to the nearest Post Office and ask for one. All employers must complete registration prior to June 14th, 1941.

The Commission feels that it can be assured of the full cooperation of all employers. Nevertheless, attention is drawn to the fact that registration is compulsory and any failure to register is an infraction of the law and is subject to penalties.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE COMMISSION, OTTAWA, CANADA

MADOC JUNCTION

On Friday evening, May 30th, a large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker, to spend a few hours with their son, Pte. James Wannamaker, of Peterborough, who was home on leave. During the evening a short program of community singing, solos, etc., was enjoyed with Mr. Kenneth Stewart as chairman. Mrs. Bert Reid was asked to come forward and read an address.

Dear friend:—
In every community from time to time there are gatherings such as this. Sometimes we gather to honour those newlyweds, sometimes we gather to say "Good Bye" and "Good Luck" to one going away to follow a profession and sometimes we gather to honour a young man who has volunteered his services to his King and country. This last, is the reason for our assembling this evening to spend a social hour with another of our boys who has answered the call to active service. We all of us have a road to take, That Road is the Road of Life.

We each of us have a share of joy And each have a share of strife. But since we all must travel that road

In sunny or stormy weather, We each can lighten the other's load If we all pull along together.

And so James, while we all cannot follow the road you have chosen we will try to do our appointed tasks in a whole hearted way, that together we may preserve our freedom.

And with the words of Winston Churchill's ringing challenge:—

"Come then, to the task, to the battle and the toll, each to our part, let us go forward together in all parts of The Empire."

As a mere token of our esteem and of our sincere good wishes we ask you to accept this watch—and as it records the passing hours, may memory recall familiar friends and scenes, and keep you happy in anticipation of a not too distant return to friends in Eggleton community.

Signed on behalf of all present,

Raymond Chambers,
Clarence Fitchett.

James made a suitable reply, and all joined in singing, "For he's a jolly good fellow. The National Anthem was then sung and lunch was served.

Mrs. Harry Jones and family of Stirling, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Eggleton.

Mrs. James Raynor of London, spent a few days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Welbert Hagerman, and Mrs. Harold Hagerman, of Anson and Mr. Henry Hagerman of Edmonton, Alberta, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stapley.

Canon Smith had been visiting friends in Cataragui since Tuesday and at 4 o'clock Friday Miss Eunice Heaton started to drive the aged cleric, his wife and her own father, John Heaton, to Trenton.

Two miles west of Cataragui Canon Smith said he was not feeling well. He died within a few minutes.

NORMAN BROWN BURIED AT CAMPBELLFORD

Funeral services held in Campbellford, Sunday afternoon for the late Frederick Norman Brown were largely attended as friends from over a wide district came to pay their last respects to one of the town's leading business men. His sudden passing in Fitzroy Harbour on Thursday evening came as a great shock to all who knew him for although he had been in business in Campbellford for less than twelve years he had many friends from all walks of life.

Mr. Brown came to Campbellford from Lindsay twelve years ago to take over the drug store operated by F. W. Wood and since that time he has taken a keen interest in the affairs of the town. He was born in Lindsay 46 years ago, a son of Joseph Brown and the late Mrs. Brown. Besides his business, which claimed a considerable amount of his time. Mr. Brown was active in various other organizations in the community. He was an enthusiastic member of the bowling club which he served one year as president, and was also a member of the Masonic Order and of the I.O.O.F.

Surviving him besides his widow, the former Lillian Ringland of Ottawa, and an infant son, is his father, Joseph Brown of Lindsay. The funeral services were under auspices of the I.O.O.F. and the many floral offerings bore testimony of the high esteem in which he was held. Following the service conducted from his late residence on Rear street by Rev. G. N. Maxwell, of St. John's United church, the body was taken to Riverside cemetery, Lindsay, for interment. The pallbearers were Messrs. Chas. Davidson, George Smith, Ralph Locke, Earl Craighead, Gerald McGregor and T. J. Craighead.

Overseas Mail

Following is a letter received by Mrs. Harold Skillicorn, from her brother, J. W. Schofield in England:

Dear Ada,

I suppose by this time you were beginning to think I had forgotten where you lived, well really that is not the case, the trouble being that I have been kept so busy since I took up this new post that I have not had much time to write to anyone apart from sending a letter to Evelyn and Mother now and again, but as for forgetting you, well—that will never be—though there may be a long period between my letters. So am I forgiven this time? I think I will be.

So now we'll get down to business shall we? I see you had my last letter published in your local paper, well if it did any good at all towards your war effort then I am grateful that I was able to subscribe, even if only indirectly.

By Jove, sister, you certainly get your information first hand, listening in while the raid was in progress that is certainly going some, and I can imagine your distress as you heard the news, but I should like you to bear in mind Ada, that an unseen terror is always more terrifying than when brought face to face with the real thing, but as I have already told you the folk here take the air raids as part of the daily routine and are carrying on as though everything was quite normal.

Perhaps the most outstanding thing about this fortitude is the manner in which women—so often regarded as the gentler sex—have adapted themselves to circumstances reigning at the present time. They have taken up all kinds of jobs, too numerous to mention of course, but which hitherto had always been regarded as a man's task, and what is even more remarkable is the high state of efficiency achieved.

I may appear to have been a little sceptical of their capabilities, but really it is not that for I am sure that even Mr. Bevin must have been surprised at the results obtained by them since his appeal to them to help in the war effort.

I for my part,—and I feel sure that most men would say the same thing—am proud, very proud, that I have a wife, and a mother, and a sister in this great body of women who are playing their part so well.

There is a passage in the Bible which reads:—"Men must fight and women must weep" well, sister, such is not the case today for we men have been made to realize that we are no longer fighting FOR them but fighting WITH them in an effort to slay the monster who has partly devoured Europe and threatens the whole of Democracy.

You can rest assured Ada that we shall inevitably win, for when a nation and its great Empire are united, as we are today in this great fight for freedom no power on this earth is strong enough to stop them,—and we were always game for a fight anyway. So what?

Pte. J. W. Schofield,

3 GEORGES' STRIKEN

Three of Campbellford's well-known residents were Monday stricken with slight strokes. Strangely each of these highly respected citizens have the same name. They are Mr. George Dunne, Front street and Mr. George Hammond, Rear Street, and Mr. George Smith, Seymour. It was reported that all were progressing favorably.

TWO WARKWORTH BUILDINGS DESTROYED BY $25,000 BLAZE

Two buildings were destroyed and others were damaged when fire of undetermined origin broke out in the business section of Warkworth Sunday. Damage was estimated in excess of $25,000. No one was injured.

The fire started in Stanley Hart's restaurant, a frame building, which was destroyed. Benjamin Buchanan's large furniture store was gutted and the complete stock was lost.

Other buildings badly damaged included Leonard's hotel and the Gallagher homestead.

Heat from the blaze caused damage, including broken windows, to J. Dixon's dry goods store, Andrew Thompson's grocery shop, A. M. Smale's drug store and the Royal Bank branch office.

Handicapped because their pump did not operate satisfactorily at first, firemen assisted by citizens got the fire under control in four hours. Police and firemen said there was a possibility wiring in the Hart restaurant caused the blaze.

Twenty Years Ago

Ivanhoe

Our Sunday School observed Go-to-Sunday School Day on Sunday. A good attendance enjoyed the good program. Rev. Mr. Hazard, of Toronto preached on Sunday evening in the interest of the Bible Society.

Everything is looking fine after the beautiful showers we have had.

The first part of Entrance Exam. will be held in the school-room here on Saturday next, June 4th.

The Executive committee of the Sunday School met on Wednesday evening of last week to re-organize their forces for the coming year. All the old officers and teachers were re-elected. Our school has reason to be proud of the fact that we won the "Record of Honor" for receiving a 100% on the standing in all points on the International Standard last year.

"An Optical Romance"

A Short Short Story

By LESLIE HAMILTON

"Oh, Mary! I've got them. Isn't it an asset in that case, not a handicap?"

"All right, fence rail!" came the indignant retort. "Suppose you go as the shadow of a lamp post. You wouldn't need a special costume at all for that the annual masquerade ball of the Hichone Tennis Club."

"The next proposition before our committee of two," the first girl at the committee named was Molly Darling, whose name was Molly Darling, announced the capture of tickets for the annual masquerade ball of the Hichone Tennis Club.

"Yeah—and that's going to be some problem!" Mary sighed in a lugubrious tone of voice. "It's been tough enough getting tickets, what with everybody's far and near relations trying to crash the party, and with half the eligible boys in town away on this defence training business, finding a couple of dateless guys for some smart promoting—and I don't mean perhaps, beautiful? Got any ideas on the subject?"

"There's Bill Smith, the chemist, and Harry Chester, the photographer," Molly suggested, adding with a sly glance at Mary: "You were always a bit sweet on Harry, yes, no?"

"You were always a bit stuck on the Smith merchant, unless my eyes are going bad, weren't you?" Mary retorted, inwardly damning the allure of her friend's goldlocks while deftly trucking a stray wisp of her own strawberry blonde tresses in place. "But neither of these fellows have a car," she added, "and we've simply got to do this affair a la limousine, especially as we'll be in costume."

"Speaking of costumes, what are you going to wear?" Molly prompted, opening ridiculing, but secretly admiring, the other girl's tall, lissom, well proportioned figure.

"Me?" Mary laughed at the naïve question. "Suppose you confess what you've got in mind, then we'll be sure we're not going to clash?"

"I was thinking of going as a hula-hula girl," Molly grinned a bit sheepishly, "but I couldn't get a costume to fit. The only grass in town wouldn't go around my waist without a corset laced to the last notch, and who ever heard of or saw a hula-hula girl wearing a corset? So I gave it up."

"Why not try a Dutch ensemble?" Mary suggested, tilting her eyebrows at Molly's pleasingly plump anatomy. "All Dutch girls are supposed to be a bit humpy-dumptyfied, so you chocolate and ice cream soda spare-tire man like you just looks the part to a he's here too!"

"Bill Smith?" Molly exclaimed in surprise. "Why, the big loafer smug male vanity, unsuccessfully trying to snatch a kiss as they clambered into the waiting car and started on their way."

"Are you ready, folks?" Mary greeted Molly on arrival at the home of her friend.

"Be with you in a minute," Molly laughed in confusion, while the others stood in the doorway and watched Bill Trevor struggling to put a pair of Dutch clogs on the girl's feet.

"So you decided on the pirate get-up after all?" the handsome sheik in the person of Andy commented to Molly's companion, as the latter rose with a satisfied smile when the shoes were affixed okay.

"Doesn't he look a awful cut-throat?" Mary giggled, pointing to the vicious rubber cutlars forming part of the pirate's accessories.

"He sure does," Andy agreed.

"But doesn't Molly look great?" Bill demanded, turning to Mary and Andy for confirmation of his opinion—expressed to Molly before their arrival—that she would be the best looking girl at the ball.

"She took my advice about her costume, anyway," Mary laughed with a knowing glance at her friend, "so I've got to say yes, or make myself a liar—isn't that right, Bill?"

"Is the padding under the bodice natural or artificial?" Andy tactlessly interrupted.

"Andy!" Molly cried in outraged indignation, while Mary trod on the sheik's big toe to silence any further breaks of that sort.

Bill rose to the occasion and covered his friend's faux pas, however, by saying: "Let's go if we're all ready. It starts at nine prompt, you know, and if we're not there early we'll never get a table. They're not reserved, so it's first come, first served."

"This way, gang!" Andy led the way to the car; "and don't forget to put your masks on before we go into the dance hall."

Soft lights and slow music greeted the party on their arrival at the big show, where the boys were fortunate enough to secure a table which would give them a good view of the grand march, when the judging for prizes went on later in the evening.

"Located anyone you know," Mary asked Molly after the girls had danced with several other gallants attired in every sort of fancy costume on the floor, ranging from milkmen and firemen to kings and peasants.

"Just had a nice whirl around with Harry Chester. He's here with that little mutt from the canning company. I'm surprised at Harry bringing her to an affair like this," Mary sniffed contemptuously. "Incidentally, I had a dance with your big moment; again, and the dialogue was as follows:—

"Better?"

"Worse."

"More poutices,"

Two days later the woman made another call.

"Better?"

"Well, Fee?"

"Nothing. Most sensible woman I ever met."

CHEESE BOARD

Letters were received by the Belleville Cheese Board from Hon. P. M. Dewar, Minister of Agriculture and secretary to the Premier, thanking the members for the letters of appreciation respecting the Provincial bonus being given for cheese. James L. Irwin told the meeting that orders had been issued that only white large cheese was to be manufactured and all must be exported and that the names of the purchasers on the board must be sent to Ottawa following each meeting of the Board.

There were 3,384 boxes of white cheese offered and all were sold to Wm. McCreary at 14 5-8 cents. Hunter made a selection at 14 9-16 but the price was lifted 1-16 by McCreary and he took the board. The following factories were represented.

MUST KEEP EGGS COOL TO RETAIN QUALITY

When eggs are being gathered the thought of how far they will have to travel may not necessarily occur to the person gathering them. It may be just a few yards for consumption on the farm; it may be a few miles to the nearest market, or it may be thousands of miles to Britain. No matter where they may be used it is a certainty that the consumer prefers the best quality. Most eggs are of good quality when they are handled whether or not they retain their prime condition.

Canadian research scientists say that heat is the chief enemy of quality in eggs. Consequently, they recommend cooling the eggs as quickly as possible and keeping them cool all the time, on the farm, in the grading station, and in transit. With the advent of warmer weather it will be more difficult to keep the original fresh-laid quality. It will mean gathering the eggs two or three times a day and giving them a chance to cool before they are packed and taken to market.

When an egg is laid it is at the body temperature of the hen, about 105 degrees. Tests have shown that the sooner the natural heat leaves the eggs the better they will keep. That is why it is recommended to place the eggs in a cellar or cool room. If the eggs are packed at once it will take almost 24 hours for the eggs in the centre of the crate to cool to below 68 degrees, even if the temperature of the room is at 50 degrees. Eggs in more than 425,000,000 lbs. of bacon, the centre of a tightly packed pallet hams and other cuts placed last November will take almost 10 hours to cool, under the best conditions, by the British Ministry of Food for delivery by October 31, 1941, cool in a wire basket, and only three hours if placed on wire trays. Thus, form of Wilshire sides. In connection with the proper feeding of hogs, good feeds need to be properly combined in the hog ration. A mixture of farm grains is the best foundation. Protein supplements promote growth and save grain. Minerals and vitamins are essential for health and vigour, says the Board and emphasizes that good feeding is a continuous job. The good feeder keeps his pigs thrifty and gaining steadily until properly finished at the correct weight of 200 lb.

TESTING CORN HYBRIDS IN ONTARIO

Hybrid corn is a comparatively new crop in Ontario. During the past four years a large number of well-established hybrid combinations have been imported and tested along with those produced in Ontario. Four of these tests have been located in Essex and two in Kent counties. Tests of these hybrids for ensilage have been conducted at Guelph and Ottawa. In each test some forty or more hybrids have been compared for yield of grain and general qualifications, says C. W. Owen, Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont.

The need for extensive tests arises from the fact that corn hybrids are more responsive to variations in soil and climatic conditions than open-pollinated varieties. Also represented among the hybrids tested were those varying in maturity from early to late. From the tests already conducted certain hybrids have been selected as suitable for various sections of the corn growing area. In the shorter season districts more extensive tests are planned for 1941. As this testing proceeds and additional information is accumulated, adaptation zones will be established for the entire corn growing district.

When a new or unknown hybrid is produced or received at Harrow, a preliminary test is conducted to determine its general maturity and qualifications. If this hybrid shows promise for a certain district, it is tested in that district the next season.

TIMELY CULTIVATION WILL CONTROL WEEDS

Perennial weeds, a menace on most farms, are reproduced by underground rootstalks as well as from seeds. There is a vast difference in the ability of the various species of perennial weeds to withstand eradication treatments.

It is an easy matter to destroy the root system of a shallow rooted plant like ox-eye daisy or orange hawkweed, but it is extremely difficult to eradicate field bindweed, the roots of which often penetrate into the ground to a depth of seven feet. Between these two extremes is a list of well-known perennial weeds, such as couch grass, Canada thistle, perennial sow thistle, milk weed and toad flax, which are moderately persistent, yet they can be eradicated by cultural practices which may be followed by any farmer.

The Field Husbandry Division, Experimental Farms Service, states George Knowles, has found that many of these common perennial weeds can be effectively controlled by after harvest cultivation commenced not later than August 1st in each year, and continued until the end of the growing season. This treatment, if followed by a well worked hoe crop, is a further insurance of eradication. This treatment is not sufficient, however to eradicate a persistent weed like field bindweed. The best cultural method for controlling this weed is to plant corn in hills so that it can be cultivated in two directions. The corn should be grown continuously on the same area for two or three years in order to control effectively this troublesome weed.

Small patches of any perennial weed may be killed by applying sodium chlorate. Such a treatment is not recommended for large areas, however, because of the high cost. The killing of small areas of perennial weeds with a chemical is good practice. It prevents the development of what may later become a serious problem.

PROPERLY FED HOGS GIVE TOP WILTSHIRES

Top quality Wiltshires are made from properly fed hogs and what to feed and how to feed are both important, says the Agricultural Supplies Board. It is top quality Wiltshires centre of the crate to cool to below 68 degrees, even if the temperature of the room is at 50 degrees. Eggs in more than 425,000,000 lbs. of bacon, the centre of a tightly packed pallet hams and other cuts placed last November will take almost 10 hours to cool, under the best conditions, by the British Ministry of Food for delivery by October 31, 1941, cool in a wire basket, and only three hours if placed on wire trays. Thus, form of Wiltshire sides. In connection tion with the proper feeding of hogs, good feeds need to be properly combined in the hog ration. A mixture of farm grains is the best foundation. Protein supplements promote growth and save grain. Minerals and vitamins are essential for health and vigour, says the Board and emphasizes that good feeding is a continuous job. The good feeder keeps his pigs thrifty and gaining steadily until properly finished at the correct weight of 200 lb.

CANADIAN HOG PRICES

While hog prices during the first quarter of 1941 averaged nearly 19 per cent less than a year ago, the prices during the second quarter, in view of the recent increase in bacon prices, will be stronger than in 1940, states the Current Review on Agricultural Conditions. In April, 1940, hog prices dropped and did not again reach former levels until July, with and export requirements during that period. In 1941, however, an increased production is finding a ready market.

ON MILK PRODUCTION ISSUE NEW HANDBOOK

A new handbook on milk production prepared by the Ontario Feed Board, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, is now in process of distribution to farmers through creameries and manufactured milk plants.

The booklet contains a wealth of valuable information, and was prepared with a view towards enabling milk producers to increase the milk flow of their herds by at least 500 pounds per cow in order that Ontario may keep faith with the British people through shipments of milk products needed to feed these stout defenders of democracy.

This handbook is the most complete of its kind ever issued by the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture and provides the farmer with almost every question a farmer might ask on the feeding and management of a dairy herd throughout the entire year. Its importance is such that the Hon. P. M. Dewar, Ont. Minister of Agriculture, has had 100,000 copies of this book printed for free distribution.

Farmers who do not receive copies through creameries or other milk receiving agencies, should ask their local agricultural representatives for a copy, as they are entitled to one. It is important that they should have it immediately.

The inquisitive old lady was bending over the bed of a wounded soldier whose head was swathed with cotton and linen.

"Are you wounded in the head, my boy?" she asked.

"N'm," replied a faint voice, "I was shot in the foot and the bandage had slipped up."

CRAMPTON — WARD

A pretty June wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, here on Monday, June 2nd, at 1 p.m., when Winnifred Marian, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ward, Stirling, became the bride of Mr. George Charles Crampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Crampton, Innisville, Ont. Rev. W. H. V. Walker officiated and the wedding music was played by Miss Grace Pitman, A.T.C.M. During the signing of the register, a lovely vocal duet, "I Love You Truly" was sung by Mrs. W. H. V. Walker and Mrs. Roy Eggleton.

The bride given in marriage by her father was charming in a pretty frock of turquoise blue crepe with matching hat and white accessories, she carried a large bouquet of pink and white carnations. The couple were unattended. Mr. James Ward, brother of the bride, and Mr. J. Crampton, of Perth, brother of the groom, acted as ushers and witnessed the registration.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket and necklace; to Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Eggleton and organist, China cups and saucers, and to the ushers gold tie clasps.

Directly after the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents by Miss Elsie Kerr, R.N., and Mrs. E. A. Berry, assisted by Mrs. N. E. Eggleton. The bride's mother received the guests attired in an ensemble of black and white crepe with white accessories and enhanced by a lovely corsage of sweet peas. She was assisted by Mrs. Crampton, mother of the groom, who wore navy crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of Tallman roses.

Following a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Crampton will take up residence on the groom's farm near Innisville, Ontario. Out of town guests present were, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Crampton, Innisville; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crampton, and Barrie, Perth, Ont.; Misses Iva Cooke, R.N., and Hazel Cooke, R.N., Perth; Mrs. Donald E. Ward, Regina, Sask., LAC. D. E. Ward, Dartmouth, N.S.; Mrs. E. A. Berry and Carol Anne, Woodstock, Ont., and Mr. James Ward, Belleville, Ont.

A BOWLING SONG

(By A. H. Allen)

In the spring, oh! in the spring,
When that little kittle thing
Rolls out upon the broad and level green,
Then the men with chalk and line,
For the rules are very fine,
In little groups upon the lawn are seen.

Chorus:

Oh! you wee, little kittle,
Elusive little kittle,
Your wonderful attraction here is seen;
For all the lads and lasses
Who have joined the club for passes,
Are sporting with the kittle on the green.

Then when the lines are drawn,
And the greens upon the lawn,
Are ready for the bowlers all to play,
Then who'll the kittle touch,
Or not disturb it much,
Or roll it to the ditch may win the day.

Chorus:

So when you're feeling blue,
Just see what you can do
In playing with the bowlers on the green;
For whatever be your mood
You will gain a world of good
By sporting with the bowlers' little Queen.

ST. PAUL'S W. A.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Will West, on Tuesday afternoon, June 3rd. The President, Mrs. R. B. Duffin, directed the opening portion of the meeting, which included the singing of the theme song, prayer by the President, followed with the Lord's Prayer in unison. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, read several acknowledgements of cards and letters received during the month, also reported eight cards, and two letters sent during the period. Fourteen visiting calls were reported. Mrs. A. E. Good and Mrs. M. Pitman were appointed for the visiting committee for the month of June. The roll call revealed forty ladies presents. A very satisfactory financial report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. M. Hick. During the business part of the meeting, a motion was passed, that the W. A. contribute one hundred dollars to the General fund of the church, for part of the Association's Thank Offering. The report of the W. A. Convention held in Trenton, on May 22nd was given by Mrs. R. Duffin in the absence of Mrs. Jackson, who was the official delegate to this convention.

Mrs. R. A. Patterson presided over the remaining program. Following the singing of the Patriotic hymn, well situated length prior to adjournment. No. 513, prayer was led by Mrs. Patterson. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Thos. Donnan, taken from Psalm 141, and seventh chapter of Matthew, closing with a inspiring paid: sermon poem on "Criticizing." Mrs. Accounts

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR LIVER

Buck it up right now and feel like a million!

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, supplies new energy, allows proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order food decomposes in your intestines. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. You feel "rotten"—headache, backache, dizzy, dragged out all the time. For over 35 years thousands have been promptly relieved from these miseries—with Fruit-A-Tives. So can you now. Try Fruit-A-Tives—you'll be simply delighted how quickly you'll feel like a new person, happy and well again. 25c, 50c.

REMEMBERED BY HIS FRIENDS

AIRCRAFTSMAN O. STAPLEY
PRESENTED WITH A WRIST
WATCH AT SOCIAL EVENT

The home of Aircraftsman and Mrs. Oliver Stapley, Front St., was the scene of a social gathering on Friday evening, when friends from the Ridge Road and adjoining communities gathered to pay tribute to the former on his enlistment in the R.C.A.F. Rev. A. M. Lavery acted as master of ceremonies and a short program was presented consisting of community singing; two songs by Ridge Road School pupils; solo, Mrs. Raymond Chambers; reading by Mrs. Louis Rodgers, and a short address by Mr. J. N. West. During the evening, Mr. J. N. West, on behalf of the community, presented Aircraftsman Stapley with a wrist watch, and Mr. Frank Woods read the following address:

Dear Oliver,
We, your friends of the Ridge Road and adjoining communities, have gathered here to-night to pay tribute to you on your enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force. We appreciate the stand you have taken for King and Country. We realize it has meant certain sacrifices on your part, and this evening we do you honour.

You have always been willing to help and cooperate in services of our communities, but now, a perhaps greater call for service has transferred you to other fields, and our sincere hope and prayer is that wherever duty leads you, God may preserve you from all evil and harm.

As a token of the affection and esteem in which we hold you we ask you to accept this gift on behalf of your many friends.—Signed, Jack West, Frank Woods, Milton Reid.

Mr. Stapley made a suitable reply to the address and thanked all for the lovely gift. Lunch and lemonade was served and a social time was spent for the remainder of the evening.

BOWLING NEWS

Two rinks of Stirling bowlers attended the doubles tournament held at Campbellford yesterday afternoon. Twenty-eight rinks took part, but none of the locals got a prize. Those who attended from here were Dr. E. A. Carleton and Messrs. R. A. Patterson, F. R. Mallory and H. R. Tompkins.

HONOURED PRIOR TO DEPARTURE

Friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kellar, gathered at the home of Mrs. Chas. Scott, on Friday night, to pay them honour prior to their departure to reside in Belleville. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kellar were presented with an illuminated address and a floor lamp. Dainty refreshments were served and a social time spent. Following is a copy of the address read by Miss Reta Tucker.

Dear Geraldine and Harry:
It was with deep regret that we learned you had decided to leave our community and move to a new sphere of life, yet we should not be selfish. It is this move for your good, and we should rejoice with you. Every cloud has a silver lining and your welfare is the one that brightens this.

To say you will be missed is putting it mildly. During the time you have lived here, you have indeed become a part of us. You have always been willing to take your place in anything that was for the good of the community. You have been in every sense a good neighbour, and when that is said, it means everything. Your place will be hard to fill, but we know you will be made welcome where you are going. We hope you will like your new life very much, but not to the degree that you would forget your old Stirling friends.

We ask you to accept this gift, not for its intrinsic value, but as a slight token of the esteem and love in which you are held by your friends and neighbours.

GRADUATE NURSE

Miss Keitha E. Stapley, Stirling, received her diploma at the annual graduation of nurses of Toronto Western Hospital, held Tuesday afternoon in Convocation Hall. Her many friends in this community extend congratulations.

VISIT AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

Mr. E. R. Mundy, of the High School staff, accompanied by Gordon Reid, L. Sills, Malcolm Richardson, Jas. Watson and D. Wright, students, attended an agricultural field day at the Kemptville Agricultural School on Saturday.

WILL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

At a meeting of the Vestry Council held recently, plans were made to celebrate the 80th Anniversary of the completion of the building of St. John's church. There will be special services on Sunday, June 22nd, at 11:00 a.m., and at 8:00 p.m. The special preacher for these services is to be Rev'd N. R. Stout, of Gananoque, who is well known in this community. The choir of Trinity, Frankford, will assist St. John's choir in the special music at both services, which will include—the Anthem—"Send out Thy light" at the morning service and "When night involves the skies" at the evening service. Also special settings for "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis".

Rawdon Red Cross

Mrs. W. R. Campbell, National Chairman, in the June Bulletin of the Ontario Division of the Women's War Work Committee, makes this appeal to the women workers. The decrease in shipments of supplies reaching the Ontario warehouse necessitates this appeal to all branches:

"As we have been fortunate enough to secure some additional shipping space for the month of June and are most anxious to get as much civilian clothing and knitted comforts overseas as can be possibly managed, will you urge your workers to redouble their efforts and ship everything you possibly can to the Bay & Hayter Street Warehouse at your earliest convenience."

It is earnestly hoped that there will be no slackening on the part of our workers since the need grows more urgent hourly and since we must do our utmost to encourage the people of Britain by our gifts, which we know are being so gratefully received and which really mean so much more than just clothes.

We beseech Canadian women to rally to the cause of our brave defenders and while we realize it is a difficult time of year for many people, it should be remembered that for them the war is gathering momentum and for us it is little enough to give a few hours each day to a job we can easily accomplish from the safety of comfortable workrooms or the shelter of our homes."

In Hymen's Bonds

FOLEY—O'SHEA

A quite but pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday, June 5th, by Rev. Father Farrell of Marmora, when Lillian Bridget Tobin O'Shea, only daughter of Mr. Patrick Tobin and the late Mrs. Tobin, became the bride of Mr. Walter Tobias Foley, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Foley. The bride looked lovely in a blue sheer frock and matching hat with white accessories and wearing a corsage of white roses and baby breath. Mrs. Clifford Reid, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a rose sheer frock and white accessories and wearing a corsage of roses similar to that of the bride. Mr. Leo Foley supported the groom. Immediately after the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride.

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the happy couple left for Kingston and Ottawa. On their return they will reside near Madoc, Kenilworth, Rawdon, and other relatives in Stirling.

WEST HASTINGS W.I. HOLD DISTRICT ANNUAL

MRS. W. C. WEST, STIRLING
ELECTED PRESIDENT—MRS.
P. BRONSON, SEC.-TREASURER

The Fortieth Annual Convention of West Hastings District took place at Sydney Baptist church, Chatterton, on Friday, June 6. Mrs. Casey Ketcheson, Bayside, Dist. President opened the meeting with the singing of the Maple Leaf, Institute Ode and the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. R. Vanderwater acted as pianist throughout the day. The minutes of the last District Annual were read by the District Sec.-Treas. Mrs. P. Bronson of Stirling. She also gave the financial statement of the district and the branches. Mrs. Prest and Mrs. B. Bleeker, auditors, reported the statements correct. The Secretary reported sending out 93 letters, 23 cards and paid one phone call. The District receipts were $124.90, expenses, $94.41, and cash on hand $30.49. The Branch report showed Receipts as $1461.86, Expenses, $1273.46 and Cash on hand, $188.40.

A five minute talk on "Countries at War" was the Roll call for the branches.

Mrs. W. H. Cooke, of Stirling, spoke on England "As I see it", pointing out the wonderful courage that prevailed among the bombed and broken English people.

Mrs. J. Cain, of River Valley, spoke on Australia and the challenge of every man, whether in factory or elsewhere. "What am I doing this day, and what can I do to-morrow to preserve the rights of humanity." Australia is one of the greatest of the food producing colonies, exporting meat, wheat, wool and hides. In the great war, Australia took its full part. Although she did not adopt conscription, she gave three hundred and twenty thousand men of whom sixty thousand were killed and the war cost her three hundred and fifty million pounds.

Mrs. C. MacInnes, of Chatterton Branch, spoke on Africa, mapping out the borders, the difficulties in travelling, baked deserts, dense tropical forests, towering mountains. Roads are few and inadequate. "Key"

SHOWER IS GIVEN NEWLY-WEDS

MR. AND MRS. LORNE BATEMAN HONOURED BY SPRINGBROOK FRIENDS ON FRIDAY

On Friday evening of last week two hundred friends of Mr. Lorne C. Bateman, popular insurance man of Peterboro and formerly General Merchant of Springbrook and Clerk of Rawdon Township, showered him and his bride with many beautiful and useful gifts.

The shower was held in Springbrook Orange Hall, Mr. Lorne Johnston acting as chairman.

On behalf of Mr. Bateman's many friends an address was read by Mr. Elwood Bateman, wishing the happy couple health and success and expressing the esteem in which they are held by one and all. In replying, Mr. Bateman thanked all present for their splendid gifts and invited all cordially to call on them at any time in their home in the city or at his office.

The following program preceded the presentation and address:—Violin Solo, "Sing me to sleep" by Wallie Ketcheson, Vocal Duet, Helen and Dorothy Ketcheson; Vocal Duet, "Louise" by Miss Laura Mason and Miss Dorothy Ketcheson; Vocal solo, "The man who sells insurance" by Mr. J. F. Baker; Vocal solo, "Cod liver oil" by Mr. Ken Bain. Community singing. Mr. Lorne Johnston and Mrs. J. Ketcheson acted as accompanists.

A pleasant feature interjected during the evening was the presentation to Gunner Eddie Galloway, of Petawawa, (a Springbrook lad) of a wrist watch from the friends of Springbrook and vicinity. Township Clerk W. J. Barlow, in making the presentation assured Gunner Galloway that the entire community were proud of him and that with the gift went the good wishes of all for his safety and success while serving his King and Country. Eddie gave a splendid reply, thanking all sincerely for the gift. After a bountiful lunch, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

HELPING OURSELVES

Here and there throughout the Dominion of Canada, some citizens have allowed themselves to become bewildered by large figures which represent the cost of this War in Canada. Apparently, they scan the headlines, note the billions of dollars which are being spent to fight Hitler, and then sit back and moan something of this kind:

"How in the world will the Government of Canada ever find the money to repay the people who have invested in War Savings Certificates and War Loan Bonds?"

What some of these people overlook is the fact that the Government of the country was not fooling when it declared that Canada would operate on a "Pay as you go" policy.

There was one point which the Minister of Finance brought out in his Budget Speech on April 29, 1941, that should be re-emphasized to allay foolish fears. The Minister reported that, excluding the assistance which this country is given Great Britain, Canadians in this fiscal year are, providing, by their tax payments and other Government Revenues, 79% of our War and non-War budgetary expenses. In other words Canada is exercising a very great measure of control over the amount of debt being piled up for future payment.

In the light of conditions all over the world, it is not too extravagant to say that the security behind Canada's War Savings Certificates and War Loan Bonds is just about the best in the world today.

The only real threat against this security is a victory for Hitler.

CANADA NEEDS VISITORS

Sinister attempts are under way in the United States to discourage travel between our two countries. Stories of the difficulties which Americans encounter on this side of the border, are being told and believed in many sections of the U.S. The effect upon Canada's normally flourishing tourist travel, particularly at a time when this country needs American dollars more than ever before, was apparent last year and is again visible this year. Here is what Douglas R. Oliver, Director of Travel and Publicity for the Ontario Government, says in this connection:

"I am hopeful that many Ontario Municipalities will hold Homecoming Weeks this year. We simply have to explore every possible means of getting people of the United States over here this year if we are to make of our tourist industry the win-the-war effort it is now cracked up to be.

"We learned for the first time last year that we cannot take this tourist business for granted. In 1941 we are endeavouring to re-establish the industry, if possible, to something like the pre-war scale. It will take tremendous effort to attain this goal and only with the help of the municipalities—and every person residing in them—can we possibly make it.

"Here is a chance for everyone to do his or her part to back up the determined efforts that our governments are making. The Homecoming Week idea has the endorsement and the active cooperation of the Ontario Travel Bureau. With the further support and assistance of the individual citizen, we can really accomplish something worthwhile."

"ULTIMATE" VICTORY

In a searing editorial the London Daily Herald attacks those who speak of "ultimate" victory. The adjective, it says, is poisonous, is used to excuse failure and inefficiency and to condone failure to make sacrifices.

Many will agree. And if what the London Herald says applies to Britain, where there is evidence of terrific effort and sacrifice, how much more does it apply to us here in Canada?

This country is plagued with "ultimate" victory people; people who, dissatisfied with what we are doing, and privately deploring complacency, shrug their shoulders and say: "We can't lose."

There is the case of recruiting. It isn't satisfactory; everybody knows it. Yet we have people now suggesting that it doesn't matter vitally, that even if enlistments are slow, or even if we fail to get the men we are appealing for, we are bound to win out in the end.

This is dangerous nonsense. We need men, and we need them badly, and if we don't get them now, when we could use the favorable Summer months to train them, our war effort is failing tragically.

The phrases "we can't lose" and "ultimate victory" are treacherous phrases; almost traitorous. We can lose; and unless we recruit and arm men and put every ounce of our strength in the struggle quickly we will lose, and will have no "ultimate" victory.—Ottawa Journal.

CURRENT COMMENT

When morning comes get into your clothes in a hurry and then get into a hurry in your clothes.

The strawberry festival season is here. The local grown product made its first appearance on the market last week but unless rain comes the crop in this area will suffer.

Some farmers in the neighbourhood of Stirling have commenced haying operations and according to reports the crop is not heavy. The dry weather has retarded the growth and in some instances the cattle have been turned on the meadows for pasture.

Victory bonds are available in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000. Arrangements may be made whereby the banks will carry the bond at the prevailing rate of bond interest for six months, purchaser to pay ten per cent. of the face value at time of purchase.

Newspapermen are blamed for a lot of things they can't help, such as partiality in folks, leaving others out, etc. The newspaperman cannot help this. He simply prints the news he can find. Some people inform him about things and others do not. Newspapermen are always glad to learn the news.

"Take your neighbour for a drive in your car," is a slogan that should be adopted by the car owners of Stirling and district. This village has within its limits many persons who have no means of transportation and would gladly welcome a drive through their home district, particularly during the summer months. The next time you take a pleasure drive think of your less fortunate neighbour, and take him along.

PUBLIC OPINION

We sometimes wonder if it is necessary to coddle public opinion the way we do in a democracy.

Surely most of us are sufficiently grown up to realize the significance of allowing a dictator government to gain control of the world.

Then why should it be necessary to disperse our energies all along the line trying to raise public enthusiasm instead of using them 100 per cent. for efficiency against the enemy?

Why is it necessary to spend a lot of money in publicity stunts to attract soldiers and dollars to defend our country?

Surely most of us are willing to voluntarily give up many of our peace-time perquisites so that they may be preserved for a peace-time yet to come.

Let us have compulsory contribution to government loans, and compulsory military service, and cut out all this expensive cajoling.—Thomas Richard Henry in Toronto Telegram.

UNCLE SAM'S SHADOW

The following editorial appeared in last week's issue of the Bowmanville Statesman, one of Ontario's leading weeklies, and certainly expresses a feeling rampant in many sections of this great country of ours:—

"Saturday Night of May 21, has some pointed things to say about the national mentality that has grown up in Canada under the present governmental regime. It says, among other things, 'The mental atmosphere of Canada is that of a province of the United States.' It sketches the idea of being loyal to the Empire and at the same time kidding ourselves that if Britain fell we could duck under the skirts of Uncle Sam and feel secure... all of which is 'fantastic and childish illusion'.

"What Saturday Night really says between the lines is that we lack virile, two-fisted, war-time leadership. There ought never to have developed within this country the least taint of this uncertain, hesitant, defeatist, mentality... this feltering dependence upon a big, brotherly 'good-neighbour' not even in the war. But there is evidence to support Saturday Night's contention which that paper has failed to mention. With increasing uneasiness we have wondered at our increasing reliance upon moral aid from the U. S. A. Let us review the case!

"We imported Wendell Willkie to launch an appeal for funds and his dull-blooded enthusiasm was welcomed by an audience of listeners who must have noted the contrast in virility between the two main speakers on that occasion. We have had Senator Pepper, Dorothy Thompson, Walter Lippmann, Madeline Carroll over here 'boosting' Britain's cause. Norma Shearer is coming to 'boost' some appeal. Elsa Maxwell, the fat girl of the Rivera and the Stork Club, is out in B.C. putting on leg-shows and rolling up the cash for British charities. And so it goes. We, proud, free, in such numbers that Ford Motor twelve million virile Canadians find it necessary to invite strong, forceful, come the largest single source of this

NEW PUBLICATION

BY FORD-CANADA

Facts of public interest regarding the civilian and military production of one of Canada's larger industries are presented in a new all-Canadian publication, "Ford Times", the first issue of which is now being circulated.

This publication portrays the answer of one Canadian company to Winston Churchill's plea, "Give us the tools." It shows how the more than 12,000 workers in the company's plant at Windsor, Ontario, produces mechanical transport of many types and so it goes. We, proud, free, in such numbers that Ford Motor twelve million virile Canadians find it necessary to invite strong, forceful, come the largest single source of this equipment in the British Empire. Ford Times is produced in the style of the modern picture magazine and with many photographs of the activities of the company's employees and dealers, particularly in regard to the war effort of this large group of Canadians. One section of particular interest depicts "Then and Now" stories of company employees and dealers who served in Empire forces in the war of 1914-1918, with photographs of them as comrades in arms and current photos of the same men who are now busy providing essential equipment to a new generation of fighting men.

SEEK HAPPINESS

Happiness is the one thing in this world that nobody has ever found by going out to look for it. Seek truth or beauty or the opportunity to serve your fellowmen and you will find happiness without expecting or desiring it. But go out deliberately to search for happiness itself, and it will dodge you down the years till you die.—Winchester Press.

BOOST YOUR TOWN

To hear every person saying something pleasant about its people and its interests is the surest quickest way to make a place attractive to a stranger. One of the best ways in which to make a town attractive with that sort of attraction that will draw other people to it is for every man and woman to have a pleasant word for the people and the town generally. Talk up your town if you would feel an interest in it and have people feel an interest in you. There is no better way to do it.—Chatham News.

BICYCLE FATALITIES

Highway accident statistics for 1940 show that forty-two bicyclists were killed during the year in Ontario. With the great increase in the number of bicycles, as well as of cars, on the highways in recent years, this problem has become a serious source of worry to all concerned. Boys and girls on bicycles are prone to take chances and unfortunately many motorists are in the same category. The result is that meetings of cars and bicycles are of daily occurrence, with resultant loss of life and limb. It will require a Solomon to find a solution of this problem. —Simcoe Reformer.

COOPERATIVE SPIRIT

You may call it what you wish, a Chamber of Commerce or a Board of Trade, but the simple fact emerges that the really "alive" towns and communities, all across this continent, have these organizations composed of public-spirited, patriotic, wide-awake citizens, imbued with the belief that harmonious, cooperative effort is the one sure way to build a better place in which to live, work, and play. And that just about sums up our conception of what modern civilization should be. Communities that have no such organizations, or have allowed them to lapse, exhibit that fact to any experienced observer, be he either visitor or industrialist.—Bowmanville

THE WEEKLY NEWS

BY MURDIE McDONALD

The people of Canada are proud of the people of Great Britain that they will provide the tools to finish the job. And without doubt the people of Canada will back their government in taking whatever steps are necessary to keep that promise.

All hats should be doffed to the women of Canada for the manner in which they have conducted the war effort. In every city, town, village, hamlet, and country place the work has gone on. For the Red Cross, the Navy League, the soldiers, British war victims, and every worth while endeavor. Even in hours of relaxation busy needles have continued to click. Thousands of dollars have been raised by means of rallies, teas, concerts, dances and bazaars, and willing hands have been held out to welcome the refugees from the old land. In every way they have been a stimulating influence to the men who should be proud to fight for such women.

Poaching, although a relative term, seems to be creeping into the churches. Reverend John Coburn, retiring president of the Toronto Conference of the United Church, strongly denounced the practice of a number of congregations which make overtures to young ministers to leave their posts during the middle of the year. He declared congregations were continually asking for ministers not more than forty years of age and he wondered what would become of the older men if this state of affairs continued. He deplored the growing tendency to gauge the suitability of a minister upon his age. Another matter that came in for an airing at a lay meeting of the conference was the custom of city preachers invading the Muskoka district in vacation time to the detriment of the poorer churches of this community. Tourist and other organizations staged services outside the church. With a "big shot" as preacher, the services not only attracted the visitors but members of the adjoining congregations as well. The usual generous collections went to pay the expenses of the visiting divines, in any event none of it was received by the Muskoka congregations. A woman delegate from Muskoka stated that the congregations of many of the churches in the district depended upon the collections secured at the Sunday services during the holiday season. Another delegate said there was a case where a minister received $75.00 for one Sunday service. It was alleged that some of the preachers were on holiday on salary and that their regular pulpits were being filled at the time by reliefs who were paid by the congregation. The discussion gave the delegates quite a thrill but no action was taken.

The result of the current Victory Loan Campaign is going to mean more to Canada than the raising of 600,000,000 dollars or 750,000,000 dollars. With the campaign underway but a few days, there was evidence from widespread sections of Canada that the spirit of the people was being quickened by this drive for money.

The message of the Victory Loan Torch in itself is enlisting thousands upon thousands of men and women into a more active service for the country at war. All Canadians in every province of the Dominion are joining as one in sending this message of cheer to the hard pressed peoples of the British Isles. And in that very act, the Canadian in the east has been drawn closer to the Canadian in the west. Without doubt, Canadian unity becomes more of a reality everyday.

No one would be seriously challenged, who pushed forward the thought that the rift between the Ontario government and the Federal government over taxation policy will be healed partly by this strengthening of unity across the country.

Those people in Ontario, who were expressing tears a short while ago that the Dominion government and the Federal Department of Labour was favouring the union worker and was showing discrimination against the employer may now possibly change their minds, following the department's action against strikers in Toronto and Montreal who quit their jobs of war work before asking for a conciliation board hearing.

There seems to be little reason now to doubt the determination of the department of labour in preventing uncalculated delays in production of war materials. The strikers faced the danger of arrest in connection with the more force after the episode at Hamilton where the department backed the strikers and took over the management of the Hamilton Plant.

Apparently, neither the employer nor the employee will be spared from now on, when the country's vital interests are at stake.

Citizens may also read into these recent developments the first hint that the government is about to use its wartime powers to make sure that nothing impedes production.

DONOR'S DIET

Most important consideration for blood donors is to avoid eating fats immediately before giving their blood. The dietitian for donors has suggested the following "Fatless Menu" for whichever meal immediately precedes the donation:

Fat-free breakfast—Fruit juice or fresh fruit; cereal and syrup; bread or toast; jam or marmalade; clear or toast; jam or marmalade; clear tea or coffee.

Fat-free lunch—Fruit or tomato juice; salad, vegetables such as tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers, cabbage, or celery with salt, pepper, vinegar, or sugar; cooked vegetables with potatoes, bread, soda biscuits, jam, fresh fruit, clear tea or coffee or buttermilk.

Foods not allowed—Eggs, meat, milk, butter, cream, cheese (except skim milk or "cottage" cheese), fried foods, doughnuts, pies, cakes, rich desserts, tea biscuits, salads oils and dressings, rich candies such as chocolates or fudge, nuts.

Unemployment Insurance

Unemployment Insurance becomes an actuality in Canada from July first. For the Workers who are subject to periods of unemployment through no fault of their own it will mean the difference between being on relief or charity and the self-respect of having provided for their own welfare through a plan of insurance savings.

The plan is one of co-operation between the employer, the employee, and the Government. Each makes a contribution based on the weekly wages earned by the employee. To the amount contributed by the employer and the amount deducted from the employee's wages, the Government adds one-fifth of the total, and pays for the cost of operation. These contributions are similar to insurance the day when the worker, either male or female, becomes unemployed. Then, in a very short time the worker begins to receive weekly cheques which will continue for a limited period of unemployment.

This, briefly, is the Unemployment Insurance Plan which becomes a law of Canada, just as it has been a law in Great Britain for more than thirty years. With the experience of the British Act as well as the examples of other Countries to draw upon, the Unemployment Insurance Commission has created a plan which should operate with the least inconvenience to the employer and to the greatest possible benefit to the workers.

A unique and simple system of making contributions to the Fund through the Employer purchasing special stamps from the Post Office and at fixing them each week in a book designed for the purpose, is the record of each worker's contributions, as well as the employer's. In this way every worker can find out exactly at any time where he or she stands in respect to Unemployment Insurance.

There are some classes of workers who are not eligible for Unemployment Insurance, and there are certain conditions which affect all workers. Both employers and employees should familiarize themselves with the terms of the plan which will be made available by the Postmaster in the locality you live.

A part of the plan is the opening of Employment Offices throughout Canada where workers may seek jobs and employers can seek workers. These offices will be opened as rapidly as possible to facilitate the most effective utilization of Canada's labour force during the war and in preparation for the return of workers to peacetime employment after war work has ceased.

GASOLINE PRICE IN CANADA

It is expected that the price of gasoline, both wholesale and retail, will be fixed in the best interests of the consumers and retailers, and there will be more control over this article, with the possibility of certain limitations. It has been discovered that 59.07 per cent of the gasoline used in Canada is consumed in business and 40.03 per cent is used in pleasure driving.

MORE LIBERAL PENSIONS

A wider pension bill has been passed to aid Canada's fighting men and this new enactment provides that the pensions commission will have a discretionary power in cases of financial need where there has been a serious disability or where death has ensued on service. Since this war began pensions awarded have amounted to $193,698.86, and though 12,786 soldiers had been discharged, yet only 687 persons have received pensions out of this large group of medically unfit individuals.

TOURIST BUSINESS AND CANADIAN DOLLARS

With the vacation season about to begin, an especially strong effort to bring tourists to Canada this summer is expected to increase the rate of the Canadian free dollar, which has ranged this year from a low of 17 1/4 per cent discount in January to a high of 11 1/2 per cent in April or 12 3/4 in May. Last summer the average rate rose from 81 cents in June to nearly 87 cents in July and August when the tourist rate is at its peak. This indicates the importance of tourist trade in Canada's foreign exchange issues or problems and this is emphasized in Ottawa.

BECLUED AGRICULTURAL ATMOSPHERE WILL BE CLEARED

There are signs now on Parliament Hill that the beclouded agricultural atmosphere in Canada will be cleared up. Indeed, it is said in usually well-informed circles in the capital that the Canadian farmer will receive more attention than he has obtained for a long time, with some claiming that the partial reason for the planning of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's trip out West can be traced in some ways to more aggressive action in this direction on the part of the Government. Likewise, the resignation of Hon. James G. Gardiner as Minister of National War Services in order to concentrate entirely upon his duties as Minister of Agriculture is tantamount to an admission that this new action is imminent.

OTTAWA—WEEK BY WEEK CLOSER CO-OPERATION OF NATIONS

Whether the Parliament of Canada will be in session or not, there will now be a much closer co-operation between the United States and Canada along military, economic and industrial lines than ever before in the history of these two neighbouring countries as a direct result of the implementation of the unlimited national emergency proclamation issued by President Roosevelt which is regarded along Parliament Hill as equivalent to a total mobilization, though technically in law it may not be equal to a declaration of actual war. This means that the United States and Canada will now collaborate completely, their war resources of a present and potential nature being practically pooled for a greater stimulation and more effective effort in this war as well as a synchronization of the production of raw materials and manufactured articles essential for ultimate victory.

GROWING BUSINESS OF POST OFFICES

An interesting disclosure has been made in Ottawa that the business of the Post Offices throughout the country has been growing rapidly, with gross revenues for the fiscal year 1940-1941 being $3,649,900 above those of 1939-40 or an increase of 8.25 per cent, and likewise, the requirements in 1941 increased $1,923,942, 50 or 40.96 per cent over the appropriation in the main estimate of 1940-1941. An additional disclosure was made that Saturday afternoon de-

RIVER VALLEY W.I.

The June meeting of the River Valley Women's Institute, was held at the home of Mrs. F. McDonnell, on Thursday afternoon, June 5th. The meeting opened with the opening Ode followed by the Lord's Prayer.

After a number of business items were discussed, Mrs. Symons took the programme. She gave an excellent paper on Education, which all enjoyed.

Mrs. Hanna then gave a reading, "Do you want to feel better?", Mrs. Belshaw kindly came to the meeting to give us all the points she could on the Red Cross knitting. Everyone was glad to have Mrs. Belshaw with us, and many difficulties were discussed.

The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Utman.

RIVER VALLEY S. GROUP

The River Valley Study Group held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Detlor. The president was in charge and opened the meeting with hymn and prayer by Mrs. Sager. The minutes were read and approved and letters read thanking group for cards sent at time of illness. The June meeting was invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Bush and Rev. M. Lavery was invited to be the guest speaker. Mrs. Don Donohoe took charge of program, which had for its theme "Friendship". Hymn, "What a friend we have in Jesus", was sung and Mrs. C. Lansing offered prayer. A reading, "A bit of living" was given by Mrs. Roy Bush. A paper "A Friendship in Unity" was read by Mrs. D. Donohoe. Readings were given by Mrs. H. Detlor and Mrs. C. Lansing. Bible study was taken by Mrs. Lindenfield. The Study Book, prepared by Alta Hanna, was read by Mrs. R. Bush. Meeting closed with prayer after which the hostess served sandwiches and lemonade.

ST. ANDREW'S W. M. S.

The Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. E. Ormiston, on Tuesday afternoon, June 10th, with a good attendance. "What a friend we have in Jesus" was sung as an opening hymn. All repeated the Glad Tidings prayer and The Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Roy Eggleton read the Scripture lesson from 4th chapter of John, 4-9 and an explanation of the previous meeting was read and communications dealt with.

Mrs. Rollins and Mrs. C. Tummon gave a report of the visiting committee. The roll call was answered with the keyword "Glory". Mrs. C. Tummon read a report of the Provincial meeting held in Brockville at which Princess Alice was in attendance.

H.R.H. Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, delivered a highly interesting and stirring address to an enthusiastic congregation which filled the first Presbyterian Church where the convention was held.

Hymn 513 was sung and Mrs. B. Hoard, then took the topic on "Faith and Prayer." Missionary work is founded on Faith and Prayer, and many helpful thoughts were given. Faith of Our Fathers" was sung as a closing hymn and the benediction.

Lunch was served at the close and a social half hour was enjoyed by all present.

ST. PAUL'S W. M. S.

The Annual Mothers and Babies Day of St. Paul's W.M.S., was held in the Church parlour on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 10th. The meeting was directed by the President

Mrs. George Pollard and the devotional period opened with call to worship and the singing of the National Anthem. In the absence of the Secretary, Miss Mae Currie, Mrs. R. A. Patterson presented the secretary's report. During the business part of the meeting plans were completed for W.M.S. Sunday, June 16th, when the speaker will be Rev. McClelland, of Trenton. The remaining portion of the meeting was directed by Mrs. Sid Williams, convener of the program committee. Following the use of a hymn, Mrs. H. C. Martin led in prayer.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. R. B. Duffin, who also summarized the lesson in a brief address. Speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. C. Macklin, who gave an interesting talk on the subject "The Child in Our Midst." An interesting musical contribution in the form of an instrumental solo by Mrs. Pidgeon was very much enjoyed. Special Children's hymns appropriate to the occasion were enjoyed particularly by the visiting youngsters. Tiny members of St. Paul's Mission Band offered a chorus, "Jesus Bids Us Shine" and "There'll Always Be An England", directed by Miss Madeline Gray and Miss Gertrude Poynter. The meeting closed with the use of another hymn and the Mizpah Benediction.

STIRLING W. I.
Mrs. T. Cranston was hostess to the members of the local Women's Institute for the June meeting, held on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. Gordonier occupied the President's chair, calling to order and singing The Institute Ode and O Canada. The roll was called with 12 members and 2 visitors present. Thank you letters were read from Mr. A. L. Hough and Mrs. E. D. Beauchamp (nee Phyllis Mitchell). Words of thanks were also expressed by Mrs. L. Rodgers in Walter's behalf.

Bills were presented—fruit 50c, Tea 40c, program, $4.00; these being ordered paid. Mrs. W. C. West gave the auditors' report, finding the statements correct, made by Mrs. R. Woodbeck. It was decided to hire cars to go to the District Annual Convention. Mrs. Bronson was authorized to announce a course on needlecraft at District Annual Convention.

Mrs. West was program convener—A splendid talk on home economics, balanced rations of work, pleasure, exercise and rest, was given by Mrs. Nicolson.

Work comes first, we work because it is a necessity—we work to provide those things which satisfy stomachs, clothes bodies, make homes, pay taxes, and educate children, but work is a blessing. Having work to plan, and do, keeps the mind in a constructive frame.

Pleasure—Every woman has a talent. It is one duty to find what one's talent is and develop it. The radio speaker was asking women to stop being Mary's mother and John's wife all the time, and be herself for a few moments at least. Show to the people her true self—free to develop her talent and pursue the hobby or do just what she really enjoys.

Exercise—Housewives have plenty of exercise. Their minds are exercised by planning meals and making cents do what dollars should be do. Reading will help develop this part of the ration, it will exercise the mind so that we can think beyond our own home and family and create an interest in the other people's happenings.

Rest—The health book tells us the number of hours spent in bed. Rest, though not sleep, rebuilds the worn-out parts of the body, the energy is restored, the muscles and nerves relax. Without such rest one cannot arise to a day of activity and give one's best. Every housewife needs a holiday away from home, different scenery—such change rests the nerves, gives new food for the mind. It is important that that work, pleasure, exercise and rest should be found wisely proportioned in our daily programme.

Mary Belle West gave various numbers on the piano and later was highly congratulated. Readings were given by Mrs. G. Mitchell and Mrs. West followed by a contest. Mrs. H. Rodgers moved a vote of thanks to the Hostess and Committee.

"It's An Ill Wind"

A Short Short Story

By LESLIE HAMILTON

"Oh, Mr. Hardcase!" gency and a pretty bad accident was the result.

"Well, what is it?" barked the boss of Lightning Carriers Ltd.

"It's about my truck, sir." Driver Jones replied. "That steering gear hasn't been fixed yet."

"Okay. I'll see to it the first chance we get."

"It's over three months since I first reported it, sir." Driver Jones reminded Boss Hardcase, "and I have been reporting it every week since, but nothing ever happened, at least not yet; but something's going to happen to the truck darn soon unless it's fixed pronto, and I don't mean perhaps!"

"Look here, Jones! You were hired by this company as a truck driver, not an equipment inspector," Hardcase retorted, "and your job is to get our loads out without beefing about the shape of your truck every few days. If you don't like it, you know what you can do. We turn a dozen men away from the office looking for jobs every morning, so govern yourself accordingly, if you expect to draw a pay cheque on Saturday."

"What's the use?" Jones muttered to himself, walking to the garage after the above verbal tilt with the head of the concern. "Talk about being appreciated for trying to keep out of trouble, a man's just a mule in this dump, but I can't afford to be fired, no thinking of his wife and kiddies who depended upon him for their milk and daily bread."

Crash! A scream and shattering glass! The wall of a police siren, blue coats and morbid crowds drawn by the smashing impact of Jones' truck as the heavy vehicle plowed into a sedan at a major intersection a few hours later.

With madly pounding heart and clammy heads of sweat oozing from the pores of his forehead, Jones had striven desperately to turn the truck in the limited space between two cars waiting for the go-ahead traffic signal, but it was of no avail. The off-reported steering gear, just as Jones had foreseen would be the case if not repaired, had failed in an emerto the office of Lightning Carriers a short time later.

"Well! What's disturbed your equilibrium so early in the day?" Hardcase wanted to know.

"Jones has just had a smash at Blank and Broadway and the coppers have taken him in for a going over. They're giving him the works right now!"

"Thanks. Get me Skinem, Twiston and Skinom," the boss commanded the girl on the switchboard, dismissing the driver who had brought the news.

"Hello, Hardcase," Skinem replied a few moments later. "What's the trouble this time? Another traffic jam?"

"Yeah! A mug by the name of Jones we hired about three months ago has messed up a sedan at Blank and Broadway. At least one hospital case, as far as I know now, and the bulls have the sap down at headquarters on a criminal negligence charge."

"What's the out? Same old line?" Skinem paused waiting for confirmation of his defense tactics.

"Sure. We fired Jones immediately we heard—for carelessness, etc. He's been warned about reckless driving before. What's that? Not a chance. These dumb clucks driving trucks haven't any money for counsel. Let your mug take a rap. We can hire the likes of him at a nickel a bunch these days. Just clean it up as usual and send in your bill."

"Okay, Hardcase. You're the doctor," Skinem replied, preparing to leave for the police station immediately.

"Sit down, son," Captain Murdock commanded gently, motioning Jones to a chair in his office, after Skinem had spoken on behalf of Lightning Carriers and departed.

"So they dropped me in the lurch, have they?" Jones murmured after the police Captain had informed him that he was fired, and that Lightning Carriers had hired legal counsel to clear them of any responsibility in the matter.

"Would you like to tell me your side of it?" the Captain ventured, watching the tide of wrath mount higher and higher as Jones reflected on the dirty deal he was getting from his former employers.

"I'd like to talk to a lawyer," Jones exploded, "but what chance have I got, just a poor fish of a truck driver against that outfit!"

"Maybe I can help you, son," the Captain suggested again. "If you'll give me the inside story."

"You'll twist anything I say so as to make it look the worse for me. I know your police methods," Jones answered. "All you fellows are after is a conviction, somebody for a goat—and the poor sucker like me without any money is always it."

"We'll try to convict someone for a thing like this," the other replied, "but we aim to get the right party, and I'm not so sure that you're the guilty person. If you will talk freely, I'll give you my word it's off the record—just between ourselves. Then perhaps I can help you quite a bit, my boy. How about it?"

"Okay, Captain. I'll take a chance," Jones decided after he had gazed into the quiet, steady blue eyes of the police official. "It's about time that the mob was put on the spot."

"Cheer up, Jones. I'll tell your wife you're okay and see that she doesn't worry," Captain Murdock concluded, after Jones had given the police information on the methods of Lightning Carriers Ltd. "I know a young lawyer just starting out who'll be glad to handle your case for the experience. He couldn't lose it—not on what you've told me."

"Thanks, Captain. I'll never forget your help."

"I'm always ready to help a fellow when I'm sure he's on the level," the officer encouraged him. "So just take it easy and leave it to me."

"Mr. Sam Jones at home?" a smart looking business gentleman enquired at the Jones house about a week later.

"I'm Jones," the defendant in the late criminal negligence action smiled at his caller. "Won't you come in a moment?" opening the door to admit his visitor, who smiled in reply as he entered the clean but cheaply furnished cottage of the ex-truck driver.

"I'm Mr. Harris," the stranger announced, looking at Jones intently when they were seated in the living room. "Employment manager for Consolidated Transport Limited. Captain Murdock drew our attention to your case after Lightning Carriers were padlocked by order of the court the day before yesterday. We can always use conscientious men of your type, Mr. Jones. So if you care to see me at the office in the morning, I think we can offer you something much better than you've had before. Will you come down and see us?"

"Well!" Jones fairly bubbled over with excitement. "Gee, it's an ill wind that blows nobody any good! Wait till I tell the Mrs. about this; that's always been her daily proverb—and it's mine too, from now on. You can bet your last dollar on that!"

The End.

Sunday Is Still Sunday In England

How a free expression of public opinion will, sometimes, over-rule a Government measure was illustrated in the British House of Commons last week when an order for the opening of theatres on Sunday, sponsored by the Home Secretary because of a supposedly popular and general demand, was voted down by 144 votes to 138.

In the debate the arguments for were along the lines that people can not be made religious by prohibitions; that no one needed to go to a theatre who wanted to stay away, and that the theatre was a normal recreation that should be available to war workers and men of the fighting forces.

The opposition view was that those who now rather sneer at the Christian observance of Sunday, would close the churches if they had their own way of it. But that England was still a Bible reading country, and that it was in the best interests of the people to maintain a day for quiet reflection.

So Sunday is still Sunday in England.

—Huron-Expositor, Seaforth.

Why Canadians Fight The Nazis

All trade unions in Canada would be dissolved under Nazi domination. Collective bargaining, which workers have secured after years of struggle, would be wiped out overnight.

Canadian parents would be deprived of the right to decide what their children should be taught.

Christianity would be censored and teachers instructed by Nazi authorities as to what they should and should not teach.

All Canadian business would come under the thumb of Germany. Workers would no longer be able to choose their own trade, nor would they be allowed to select a living place of their own fancy.

There would be butterless days for all citizens if butter were needed for export to Germany.

Old age pensions would be a thing of the past.

Widows' and mothers' allowances would be stopped.

Developed sections of the country would be cleared of Canadians to make room for German immigrants. There would be no more minimum wage act.

Canadians would step from the sidewalk to the roadway to allow German officers to pass. Canadian citizens would be forced to give the Nazi salute or court imprisonment.

Canadian newspapers would no longer express the opinion of Canadians and would submit all news items and editorials to the Nazi censor.

Radio programs would be produced to suit the purpose of the aggressor. Public meetings, when allowed, would be watched by the Gestapo.

Taxation to provide indemnities to Germany would be heavier than Canada's present taxation.

Masonic lodges and all fraternal orders and organizations would be dissolved.

Theatres would be jammed with Nazi propaganda material and moving pictures would be subject to rigid censorship.

Books which would fail to meet the pleasure of the Nazi authorities would be burned or banned.

Private telephones, if permitted, would be subject to "tapping" by Nazi agents.

Travel from one section of the country to another, if only for a visit, would be subject to permission from the Nazis.

Farmer's Rise

Hoping to get a rise out of the farmer hoeing in a field by the road, a fellow called: "Hey, did you see a wagon load of monkeys go by here?"

"No," replied the farmer, "did you fall off?"

Sir Wilfred Grenfell's Courtship

A pleasant story is told of the courtship of Sir Wilfred Grenfell. He first met his wife on a voyage across the Atlantic, and, being a man of impulse and decision, asked her to marry him. "But we're hardly acquainted," she demurred. "Why, you don't even know my name." "But that doesn't matter," he said, "what interests me is what your name is going to be."

Chase Snakes Away

"Aren't you ashamed of yourself?" asked the temperance reformer. "Day in and day out you are in a state of intoxication. You know what such dissipation leads to. Already you show the symptoms of a man on the verge of delirium tremens. And I understand that some poor girl has been foolish enough to accept your proposal of marriage. I shudder for her, and for you!"

"Never mind old chap" replied the hopeless case. "The girl I'm going to marry is a snake charmer."

I noticed the other day that a coffee stall proprietor with a sense of

HELPING AGRICULTURE MEET THE Challenge

The providing of the foodstuffs for an Empire at war is a prodigious undertaking. Fortunately for our fortunes at war we can accomplish this with comparative ease and little or no disturbance of our regular farming regime. Abundance is our problem.

To produce such great quantities of farm products with a minimum of labor—releasing men for more direct war activities—is the triumph of modern power-farming which, with its time-saving multiple operations and cost-reducing equipment, helps the farmer to carry on operations more efficiently to meet the present difficult conditions. Thus modern farm machinery helps agriculture meet the peculiar challenge with which it is confronted in making its contribution to Canada's and the Empire's war effort.

ANNUAL HAY AND PASTURE CROPS PROVIDE THE ANSWER TO FEED SHORTAGE

Shortage of rain in the month of May this year affected somewhat seriously hay and pasture yields in some sections of eastern Canada, consequently hay crops, with the possible exception of well-established stands of alfalfa, will undoubtedly be light. Timothy, particularly, suffered severely in some areas, and much of it will be short.

In the affected areas farmers are faced with the problems of providing supplemental pasture for summer grazing, and of securing additional hay to offset the reduced yields from established meadows. An abundance of good grazing throughout the season is important, particularly to the dairy farmer. As the pasture gets bare the milk flow diminishes to the dairy farmer. As the pasture gets bare the milk flow diminishes, and once the flow goes down it is difficult to bring it back.

Many farmers have, no doubt, already taken steps to provide additional pasture and hay. In general, two plans are being followed, both of which involve the seeding of annuals. Where it appears that the rotation and permanent pastures are not likely to provide much grazing beyond the earlier part of June, plans are being made to plow up some of the old rotation pastures and seed them to millet for hay. This crop may be sown as late as the 20th of June with prospects of it producing a good crop of hay, says Dr. T. M. Stevenson, Dominion Agrostologist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. In this plan the necessary pasture provided is provided by putting an electric fence across one end of an established hay meadow. The fence can be moved as required, but in order to avoid wastage, the area being grazed at any time should not be too large. This plan has much to recommend it. The cattle are provided with an abundance of grazing when it is badly needed. The old pasture should produce much more hay from the millet than would normally be produced on the grazed portion of the meadow, and the land following the millet is in excellent shape for the next year's crop.

Another plan which is widely used but which is less suitable to emergency conditions is to seed annuals with a view to providing supplemental pasture as required. This plan calls for seedings to be made at the right time, according to a prearranged plan. Oats, sudan grass, millet, and mixtures of oats and sudan grass and of oats and sweet clover are most commonly grown for supplemental pasture. Seedings should be made from 4 to 6 weeks before the crop is required for grazing.

Oats, and mixtures including oats, should not be sown later than the early part of June. Sudan grass and millet may be sown up to the 20th of June.

Oats alone are usually sown at from two to three bushels per acre. In mixture with sudan grass the recommended rate is two bushels of oats and 25 pounds of sudan grass per acre. In mixture with sweet clover, two bushels of oats and 15 lb. of sweet clover per acre are required.

The Empire variety of millet has given highest yields of hay at Ottawa, although any variety of the foxtail type, such as Common, or Siberian, are quite satisfactory. The usual rate of seeding is 20 to 25 pounds of seed per acre.

When sudan grass is sown alone about 30 pounds of seed are required per acre.

Additional information on annual hay and pasture crops may be secured upon request from the Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

HERE'S MIXTURE TO KILL POTATO BEETLE

Potato beetles are usually found in the field before the new crop of potatoes is above ground. They lay their eggs in yellow masses on the underside of the young leaves, and when a number of the eggs have hatched, control measures should be commenced at once, either by spray or dust. The best and cheapest poison to use, states Alan G. Dunstan, Entomological Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, is calcium arsenate, at the rate of one and a half to two lb. in 40 gallons of Bordeaux mixture (copper sulphate four lb., lime, four lb., water, 40 gallons). If the poison is used in water alone, add two to three pounds of hydrated lime to each 40 gallons. Should arsenate of lead or Paris green be preferred as a poison, two or three lb. of the lead and a half to one lb. of Paris green may be substituted in each 40 gallon barrel of spray.

Growers who prefer to apply the poison in powder form should use a dust composed of one part of arsenate of lead to six parts of hydrated lime. In dusting, best results will be secured if the application is made in the early morning or late evening when the vines are wet with dew and the air calm.

In spraying potatoes, the poison should always be mixed with Bordeaux as this material is not only a valuable fungicide but repels the attacks of destructive insects, such as flea beetles and leafhoppers. Two or three applications in a season should give sufficient protection from all insects when applied thoroughly and at a time when the new damage first becomes evident. In spraying, the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves should be covered and an abundance of material used. When the plants are small, 50 to 75 gallons per acre is a sufficient quantity to use and 100 to 120 gallons when the plants are fully grown.

NOW TIME TO ATTACK CUCUMBER BEETLE

Control measures for striped cucumber beetles should be commenced at their first appearance for the beetles are fast workers and much damage may be done before the grower who is not on the lookout for them is aware of their presence. Growers of cucumbers, squash, pumpkins, melons and such like plants on which the insects feed would be well advised, states Alan G. Dunstan, Entomological Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, to watch the plants closely and take action without delay. The plants should be dusted with a mixture of calcium arsenate and gypsum (land plaster), using one part of the arsenate to 20 parts (by weight) of the gypsum. The young plants should be thoroughly covered on the lower and upper surfaces of the leaves, because the beetles feed on both sides indiscriminately. Hydrated lime may be substituted for gypsum but the lime tends to dwarf the plants and temporarily stunts their growth. Striped cucumber beetles are small, about 1/4 inch in length, and are yellow in colour, with black heads and three longitudinal black stripes down the backs. They make their attack immediately after the plants break through the soil, often completely destroying the unfolding leaves, and as a result the tiny plants die quickly.

Three or four applications of the dust a few days apart, depending on the severity of the attack, are usually sufficient to hold the beetles in check.

CARMEN GRILLS ELECTED HEAD OF CHEESE BOARD

Mr. Carmen Grills, R.R. 5, Trenton, was unanimously elected as president of the Belleville Cheese Board of Trade at the annual meeting of that body last evening which was held in conjunction with the regular Thursday night meeting of the board. Mr. Grills replaces Mr. W. McLaren of Melrose who acted as president for the past twelve months.

Vice President, H. L. Adams, R. R. 7, Belleville; 2nd Vice President, Ernest Bateman, Tweed; 3rd Vice President, Clayton Wright, R.R. 3, Holloway. Mr. Fred Mallory was re-elected to act as secretary-treasurer for another year while auditors appointed were Mr. J. B. Thompson, Stirling, and Mr. William Bedell, Hillier.

Before stepping down from the presidency, Mr. McLaren thanked the members of the Belleville Cheese Board for the co-operation which they had shown during the past year and especially thanked Mr. Fred Mallory and Mr. Jim Irwin, Chief Dairy Grader, for the many kindnesses received during his term of office. Mr. George Weaver, R.R. 3, Stirling, conducted the election of officers for the ensuing year and extended a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. McLaren for the efficient manner in which he had carried on the board during his term of office as president.

The number of cheese boarded showed a considerable decline from that of the previous week as due to a recommendation of Mr. W. R. McCreary, cheese buyer, no cheese manuf. factured after May 25th were boarded. The cheese boarded totalled 2865 all of which sold for the one price of 14 7-16 cents with McCreary taking 1,522; Swift Canadian Company 902

ERLE DENYES NAMED VICE PRESIDENT

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Reforestation and Conservation Association for Zone 4 which extends from Ontario County in the west to Lennox and Addington County in the east and which was held in Peterboro on Thursday, Mr. W. A. Anderson, of Peterboro was elected as Honorary President. Mr. Harry Sirrett of Brighton was elected President and Mr. Erle Denyes, County Clerk for Hastings County as Vice-President. Mr. Ian McCleod of Brighton was chosen Secretary-Treasurer.

A Thought a Day For a People At War

"We must look to distant horizons in this war, for it is a conflict not only for the supremacy of our own people, but that the world may be better for all freedom-loving people."—Honorable R. B. Bennett, Chairman, Canadian Red Cross.

Lend to Defend our way of life!

DOWN THROUGH THE AGES
Britons fought and suffered and died in order that their children and their children's children might be free. Today the forces of darkness threaten to engulf us once more. Shall we give up those rights which our forefathers won?

Today our country must arm. No time can be lost. We must build the greatest war machine the world has ever known. We must accomplish in two years more than the enemy has accomplished in seven.

That is why Canada needs your savings—not as a gift, but only as a loan. Canada's army must be maintained and equipped with the most modern fighting machines. Scores of warships and merchant vessels must be built. Thousands of planes, thousands of pilots must be rushed to the scene of conflict.

So Canada needs the use of your money now. Later on, Canada will repay you in full. In the meantime, you will receive regular interest on your loan.

When you buy Victory Bonds, all Canada is your security. These Bonds are more readily turned into cash than any other.

HOW TO BUY—Give your order to the canvasser who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Canvasser, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

I.O.O.F. GRAND LODGE TO MEET

With 1,000 delegates from all parts of Ontario in attendance, several branches of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will hold their annual sessions in Toronto during the week commencing June 16th.

The Grand Lodge of Ontario and the Patriarchs. Militant Department will meet in the King Edward Hotel, and the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario will meet in the Prince George Hotel to review the progress made during the past year and to plan for the future and elect new officers.

A Rebekah Memorial Service, Reception and Dance, Exemplification of Degrees, and a series of luncheons, will precede the business sessions. On Wednesday evening there will be a banquet and dance for all delegates and their friends. Thursday evening they will be entertained at the Tam O'Shanter Golf and Country Club, Agincourt.

The Rebekah or ladies' branch of the Order was founded 38 years ago, and the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario was established in 1891. The Odd Fellows maintain Homes for orphan children and for aged and indigent members. Through an Educational Foundation Fund sons and daughters of members are financially assisted in securing higher education.

Fred Kent will represent Stirling Lodge, No. 239 of Stirling at these sessions.

BLACK AND WHITE FIELD DAY

The annual field day of the Hastings County Holstein Friesian Association will be held in Stirling Fair Grounds on Saturday, June 14th. It has been announced by Mr. H. L. Fair, Hastings County Agricultural representative. Mr. Fair and Mr. R. M. Holby, field man for the Holstein Friesian Association, selected the classes to be judged from the herds of county Holstein breeders.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

The 84th Birthday of Mr. William Hagerman was observed by his family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wright, Harold, where he now resides. Mr. Wm. Hagerman and his twin brother, Mr. Henry Hagerman, Westlock, Alberta, are the only two surviving members of one of Rawdon's oldest families.

Mr. Henry Hagerman has recently arrived from the West to visit relatives. The twins are both smart and active.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Seales Oak Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone Park, Oak Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hagerman, Ivanhoe; Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hagerman, Minto.

A Birthday Cake with 84 candles adorned the table during the dinner which was enjoyed by all.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT ST. PAULS

The Woman's Missionary Society of St. Paul's is sponsoring the morning service, Sunday, 15th June and has secured The Rev. P. G. McLennan, B.A., B.D., of King Street United Church, Trenton, to conduct public worship and preach the sermon.

Mr. McLennan is a graduate in Arts of the University of British Columbia and in Theology of Union Seminary, New York City. During his students days at Union Theological Seminary he took an active and responsible part in the Christian education program of Riverside Church.

Returning to Canada he was ordained by the Toronto Conference and sent to serve the newly-opened mission station in Noranda, Quebec. Under his vigorous and sound leadership a strong congregation was formed there and a beautiful stone church built. After eight years' continuous service in Noranda, Mr. McLennan was called to King Street, Trenton in June, 1940.

WARD - DUNLOP

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, April 22, in Central United, when Ivie Viola, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunlop of Delta, was married at a double ring ceremony, to Capt. Frederick Thomas Ward of the 14th Army Tank Battalion (Calgary Regiment), C.A. (A), eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ward of Belleville, Ontario. Rev. J. Thorne Gordon performed the ceremony against a background of spring flowers, palms and ferns.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. She was gowned in white jersey with a Tudor cap and full length veil of silk embroidered tulle. She carried garlands resting on a white prayer book, from which streamers knotted with alternating sweetheart roses and wensonia fell to the hem of her gown.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. P. M. Gilles, and the bridesmaid, Miss Marion Bigelow, were gowned in pastel shades of green and orchid organza embroidered with silver, and carried Johanna Hill roses with cream sweet peas.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. P. M. Gilles, and Mr. Weston Anderson and Mr. Allistair Brown of Drumheller were the ushers.

At the reception held at the York hotel for immediate friends and relatives, the bride's mother received in an afternoon dress of black Jeroma, falls with white scroll embroidery and a black straw hat trimmed with white giraffe blossoms. She wore a corsage of Brarcliffe roses.

Capt. and Mrs. Ward left for the east on the evening train, the bride wearing a Naassau beige dress hand-embroidered in brown wool with a top coat of sunbeam beige trimmed with brown squirrel and accessories to match. Her corsage was of Tallman roses and forget-me-nots.

OVER 340 MILLION SUBSCRIBED TO LOAN

Emphasizing the appeal which the victory loan is making to the small investor is the fact that up to Wednesday, 336,253 individual subscribers, more than the combined total of the two previous war loans, had invested 340,397,400.

Most encouraging to headquarters were the returns from rural units, many of which have already exceeded their objective and are striving to further increase their cash subscriptions as well as their numerical totals.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE

The Sunday Sessions of the Bay of Quinte Conference was a decided success. In the morning nearly fifteen hundred people filled to capacity Bridge St. United Church, Belleville. The sermon was preached by Rev. H. Wolford Cliff, of Kingston, the past President of the Conference. Rev. W. P. Fletcher, of Marmora, the newly elected President, conducted the service and ordained for the ministry of the Church the following young men—Boyd Keith Cronk, B.A., B.D., Victor Henry Fiddes, B.A., B.D., Kenneth Allan Moyer, B.A., David Charles Osborn, B.A., William Wallace Patterson, B.A., Gerald William Payne, B.A., Orscar Eric Wagar, B.A. and Gordon Arthur Armstrong.

The evening Session held in the same Church was also a decided success, with probably six hundred in attendance. The Young People's Union of the Conference had charge of the worship service, under the direction of Mr. Bill Weir, of Omemee. All the Presbyteries of the Conference were represented. Rev. W. R. Alp, B.A., of Perth, preached the sermon. Conference was officially closed at the service to meet in Cambridge St. United Church, Lindsay, in June, 1942.

On Wednesday, the Memorial Service was conducted by the President and the obituaries of the following ministers who had died during the year were read, namely:—Rev. Rueben Calvert, B.D., of Kingston, Rev. George Carpenter, of Bobycagen, Rev. Wm. H. Higgs of Manilla, Rev. Robert Laird of Toronto, Rev. Alexander McLachlan, Kingston, Rev. D. N. Morden of Pictou, Rev. Joseph W. Ogden of Glenora, Rev. J. O. Watts of Kingston.

Only three ministers were superannuated this year, namely:—Rev. J. E. Blanchard of Bloomfield, Rev. D. T. McClintock of Belleville, Rev. M. L. Hinton of Kingston Mills.

Four young men were received as candidates for the ministry, namely:—Mr. Boyd Beckel, Stirling; Mr. Harold Burgess, Cressy; William Geoffrey Julian of Albert College, Belleville, and Mr. John H. McAvay of Kingston.

The Laymen's Banquet on Thursday night was a decided success. The address of the evening was given by Hon. Earl Lawson, of Toronto, on "The House that Jack Built".

The officers of the Lay Association for 1941-1942 are, President, Mr. C. E. Walker, Kingston; Vice-President, Mr. J. W. Kitchen, Smith's Falls; Sec. Treas. Mr. H. C. Martin, Stirling.

The Oak Lake Tabernacle Property which for some months has been under discussion has now become an incorporated company, known as the Oak Lake and Stirling Incorporated.

Plans have been completed to hold on this Oak Lake property, near Stirling, this summer, a boy's camp, a girl's camp, a family camp and two summer schools.

Saturday morning the report of the Settlement Committee was presented and the changes of interest to this neighbourhood are—Rev. R. J. Merriam, leaves Montague, Maynooth and goes to the London Conference, and Mr. Geoffrey Julian a student goes to Montague, Maynooth. Mr. Irwin Fyle continues as student supply at Flinton and Cloyne. Rev. Ed. Snellgrove of Queensborough, goes to Warsaw and Rev. W. W. Patterson, one of the new Ordinands, to Queensborough.

Mr. Boyd Beckel of St. Oia goes to Demorestville, and Mr. J. F. Ralph a lay supply, goes to St. Oia. Rev. D. T. McClintock, of Tabernacle, Belleville, goes to Toronto and Rev. J. W. Houston of Copper Cliff, comes to Belleville; Rev. J. T. E. Blanchard of Bloomfield, goes to Mallorytown and Rev. D. J. Butters comes to Bloomfield. Rev. J. G. McKee, of Wellington goes to Trenton Grace, Rev. George Campbell of Trenton Grace goes to Colborne, Rev. Roy Rickard of Colborne goes to Palmerston, Rev. Fred Lane of Frankford goes to Wellington and Rev. H. H. Lackey of Enniskillen, comes to Frankford. Rev. J. M. Lovelace of Dunstons comes to Rednersville, Rev. J. R. Beck comes to Seymour Pastoral charge.

WEST HASTINGS W.I. HOLD DISTRICT ANNUAL

the district program and proved very outstanding. Mrs. C. Ketcheson, gave the ladies praise for doing this part so well.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. L. Prest, of Holloway. The W. I. is faced with its biggest program in its history. In Red Cross work or whatever form of war work we are doing, let us put our shoulder to the wheel and let us not be satisfied with the minor things, but do our level best and better. A special welcome was given the new branch, Pine Grove, who have joined a district of friendly and ambitious women, trying to do our bit for "Home and Country." Mrs. Morley Sine, Uniondale, replied, with these courageous words: "Our fair land and loved ones are at stake. Canada will not fall. England will not fall, for unity will keep us together to win."

Marching in, in single file, the school children, led by Miss Dorothy Reid, teacher, of the neighbouring school, sang several numbers which were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. C. Ketcheson, Dist. President, in a brief address, voiced her pleasure at meeting so many nice ladies during her term of three years in office. She thanked the Department for their outstanding assistance and in closing wished her successor the best of luck. Standing committee reports were given as follows:—

Education, Mrs. G. Frederick, Holloway; Community Activities and Relief, Mrs. R. Bush, Stirling; Home Economics, Mrs. F. Campbell, Chatterton; Historical Research, Mrs. B. Bush, Uniondale; Canadianization, Miss Greta Nicolson, Stirling; Health and Child Welfare, Mrs. Geo. Luery, Stirling.

Mr. H. L. Fair, Dept. of Agriculture spoke on cheese in Britain.

The forenoon session closed for lunch, which all enjoyed to the fullest. The committee met at noon, with Mrs. C. Ketcheson presiding—Order was called and the Chatterton girls sang "Carry On", with Miss A. Horton, taking the solo part. All joined in singing "O Canada".

Miss Slicer, Dept. Rec. discussed the standing Committee reports. Every woman, rich or poor, old or young, can and should further her education. "Never too old to learn" is a very strong statement, but a very true one. A community activity report should bear results and action, otherwise it is not an activity. Referring to peace report, she said we cannot set at home and expect peace; we can't expect God to do every thing, although when we are depressed, we ask ourselves the question, why can't our Saviour bring us peace? We must meet him halfway in helping ourselves to a better world.

Miss Slicer stated the Department was not in favour of dropping any standing committee. Carry on, for there will be still a greater work for the women to do after the war. We must have knitting done, we must have money, but we must too have a balanced life. Keep your institute and keep yourself at an even keel. Miss Slicer congratulated the branches for the work they were doing.

Mrs. F. Heasman, Pine Grove, the District Delegate, gave a splendid report of the Area Convention at Belleville.

Miss Slicer conducted the election of officers, with Mrs. M. Sine as chairman of the nominating committee. 1941 and 1942 District Officers are as follows:

President: Mrs. W. West, Stirling
1st Vice-president, Mrs. F. Heasman—Pine Grove.
2nd Vice-president, Mrs. B. Hecker,

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH ANNIVERSARY, SUNDAY, JUNE 22

SPECIAL SERVICES 11.00 A.M. and 8.00 P.M. (D.S.T.) — REV. N. R. STOUT, GANANOQUE, PREACHER — SPECIAL MUSIC BY THE FRANKFORD AND STIRLING CHOIRS

STIRLING TAX RATE FOR THIS YEAR 47 MILLS

SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL HELD ON MONDAY NIGHT TO PASS NECESSARY BY-LAW

The tax rate for the Village of Stirling for the current year is forty-seven mills. So decided the members of the council at a special session held on Monday night. This rate is the same as last year, and with the provincial subsidy of one mill deducted, the actual levy on the village assessment will be 46 mills.

The total assessment is $477,479.36, a reduction of $5,257.63 over last year.

Mr. R. A. Patterson, Village Treasurer, gave a full and comprehensive prospectus of the finances of the village and the various departments were discussed in detail by the members of Council. Due to the reduction in the assessment along with the increase in the County Tax Rate, it was found necessary to increase the mill rate slightly for several departments, but sufficient reduction was made in the general rate to offset this. The village is in a good financial position and compares very favourably with municipalities of like size anywhere in the province.

County Rate	7.00	8.00
School Rate	12.25	12.30
Library	3.50	1.50
Hydrants	3.10	3.15
Board of Health	.50	.55
Debentures	11.25	11.35
Street Lighting	3.65	3.65
Town Rate	7.15	6.59

S. S. ANNIVERSARY

At the morning service in St. Paul's on Sunday next, the Sunday School Anniversary will be observed. All teachers, officers and pupils will be in attendance and special choral music will be offered by some of the pupils under the direction of Miss Gertrude Poynter. The Minister will conduct public worship and preach. An offering for the support of the work of the Sunday School will be taken.

SHOWER HELD FOR RECENT BRIDE

On Friday evening Mrs. J. S. Whitehead entertained about thirty guests at a well arranged kitchen shower in honour of Mrs. R. Wall, (nee Marie Demorest).

The early part of the evening was spent at bridge, after which the bride was given a seat of honour and Mrs. Jas. McC. Potts read an address, which she had composed. This address was very witty and added much to the merriment of the evening. Miss Marie Luery, then presented Mrs. Wall with a large daisy. As the bride pulled each petal she found written instructions where to find the various gifts which were hidden throughout the house.

After the gifts were opened and displayed, Mrs. Wall very capably voiced her appreciation to all. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, following which a social hour was spent.

PLAY TONIGHT

Stirling footballers play a postponed game with Mount Pleasant tonight (Thursday) at the Stirling Fair Grounds. Both teams are tied in the league standing and the players of both teams will be giving their best for a win tonight. Come out and Glen Ross and your support to your favourites, Mt. Pleasant.

Successful In Normal Examinations

Among those successful in the examinations for teachers at the Peterboro Normal School, the results of which were announced today, are Misses Winona Beckel, Hazel Detlor, Helen Thain and Muriel Welbourne, of this district. The News-Argus joins with their many friends in extending congratulations.

GLEN ROSS IN TOP PLACE

OTHER TEAMS TIED FOR 2ND PLACE — STIRLING MEETS MOUNT PLEASANT TONIGHT

The Rawdon Softball League is nearing the end of its schedule and the results to date point to one of the closest finishes in years. Glen Ross have played all their games and are leading the league with three wins and three losses, while Springbrook, Mount Pleasant and Stirling have each won two and lost two and have two games yet to play. Unless one of the last three teams makes a clean sweep of the remaining games there will be a tie all round and an elimination series will be required to straighten things out.

In the games played since last week, Stirling defeated Glen Ross on the High School diamond on Thursday night by a score of 12 to 8, and dropped a close decision to Springbrook on Monday evening 5 to 4. Mount Pleasant, also won one and lost one, defeating Springbrook 3 to 2 on the latter's diamond on Friday night, and losing to Glen Ross at the Fair Grounds on Tuesday evening 9 to 1.

Thursday's Game
In Thursday's game here the locals scored two in the first, but their lead was overcome in the second when Glen Ross broke out into a hitting spree which netted them five runs. Stirling made it close when they scored two in the third but Glen Ross again broke loose in the fourth to add three runs. Stirling matched their efforts to bring the score 8 to 7 and when the losers were blanked in the fifth they scored five runs to take the game with a whirlwind finish.

May was on the mound for Stirling with Hackney behind the plate, while R. Pyear and H. Brown formed the battery for the losers.

Monday's Game
On Monday night Springbrook defeated Stirling 5 to 4 in five innings. This was the best game of the season on the local diamond with play being featured by sparkling fielding plays and heavy hitting. Herrington, on the mound for the winners held the local hitters in check, while Rodgers, Richardson, Holland and Bailey led the attack. One run in the first, two in the third and two in the fourth accounted for their runs.

The locals scored two in the second and two in the fifth.
Glen Ross vs. Mt. Pleasant
Glen Ross won their final game at the local Fair Grounds on Tuesday night when they defeated Mt. Pleasant 9 to 1. The boys from the River put on the pressure in the opening frame to score four runs in rapid succession before their opponents could settle themselves. From that time on they held the upper hand, adding one in the third and four in the sixth. Mount Pleasant got their one run in the fourth inning.

LEAGUE STANDING

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

One of this district's most highly respected and aged ladies, Mrs. William Jackman, observed her 91st birthday on Tuesday of this week. Despite her years she takes a keen interest in the current happenings of the day and her numerous friends in the district join in extending good wishes. At present she is residing with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Dracup of Sine.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR MILK PRODUCTION

In order to encourage cheese production the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. are offering special prizes for greater milk production at the Fall Fairs. The following prizes are offered to the members of Stirling Agricultural Society whose herds produce the highest amount of milk per cow from May, 1st to August 31st, 1941, for the manufacture of cheese: 1st prize $3.00, 2nd prize $5.00; 3rd prize $2.00. These prizes according to the T. Eaton Company, are in addition to the regular prizes which they give to the Society each year. The Dairy Inspectors have agreed to work out the prize winners.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

A very pleasant event took place at the home of Mrs. Minnie Foreman, on Friday evening, June 13th, when she celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday. Those present were Rev. A. M. Lavery, Stirling; Mr. Joseph Grills, Mrs. Walt Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Grills, Mr. and Mrs. John Grills, Garret and Evelyn Grills, of Carmel, Mrs. Jack Johnston and family, Mrs. Thos. Clark, Mrs. Mary Fennell, also Mr. William Montgomery, all of Norwood; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gummer, of Norham, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rushaw of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKeown of Stirling, and Mr. and Mrs. George Rupert and Russell Tea was served at 7 p.m., and a very pleasant evening was spent. Mrs. Foreman received many useful presents.

During the evening, he was presented with a bill fold and a camera, following which refreshments were served and a social hour spent. The good wishes of his many friends go with him in his service to King and Country.

ANNIVERSARY AT ST. JOHN'S

CHURCH WAS OPENED ON JUNE 24th, 1861 — REV. N. R. STOUT WILL BE PREACHER

The Church of St. John the Divine in Stirling will celebrate the 80th Anniversary of the completion of the building on Sunday next, June 22th, when special services will be held at 11.00 a.m. and 8 p.m. (D.S.T.). The combined choir of Trinity Church, Frankford, and St. John's, Stirling, will lead the singing and render special music for the occasion.

Rev. N. R. Stout to Preach

The Rev. N. R. Stout, of Gananoque, who is well known to many in this community, will be the guest preacher. He was born on a farm about five miles north of Stirling, and received his elementary education in Rawdon Township. He attended the local High School, later going to Trinity College, Toronto, where he studied for the Ministry. He was ordained on June 21st, 1919, and has served all his ministry in the Diocese of Ontario. He followed the late Archdeacon Creegan as rector of Christ Church, Gananoque, and later became Rural Dean of Leeds. He has many friends in this district, who will be glad to welcome him next Sunday at the Anniversary services in St. John's church.

A Short History of St. John's Church
Owing to the fact that the early records of the Church were destroyed by fire, this history must, of necessity, begin in the year 1847 when services were held under the incumbency of the Rev. Groves, either in the schoolhouse, or, later on, when the Village of Stirling was incorporated, in the Town Hall. At this time the Mission of Stirling embraced the Villages of Stirling, Marmora and Madoc, and parts of the Townships of Rawdon, Sidney and West Huntingdon.

In 1859 the Rev. J. A. Preston was appointed and under his leadership the little band of Church people undertook to erect a church. The corner stone was laid under Masonic auspices on June 25th, 1860 and the edifice was opened for services the following year. The land was donated by Mr. Wm. Mitchell. The beautiful little Gothic Church cost $5,000.00. The architect was Mr. Richard Meath, of Trenton. The building has weathered the past 80 years and is a wonderful example of the stone-masons' art of those days. It stands, today, a monument to those faithful people of our ancient Church.

In 1862, during the incumbency of Rev. E. H. M. Baker, Bishop Lewis made his first official visit to the church, among those Confirmed being Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Belshaw. Mr. Baker was succeeded by Rev. G. W. G. Grant in 1863. In 1873 the Rev. John Halliwell was appointed Incumbent until 1876, when he was succeeded in turn by Rev. F. L. Stephenson, a plain-spoken Irishman, who, among other things, put a stop to the custom of mourners, at funerals, wearing their hats all through the Service in the Church. During his incumbency (Continued on Page Eight)

HOLSTEIN FIELD DAY SUCCESS

MEMBERS OF BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION AND FAMILIES ENJOY SPLENDID OUTING

The Annual County Holstein Field Day for the Counties of Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington, Northumberland and Hastings was held at the Stirling Fair Grounds on Saturday, June 14th. About 200 Holstein breeders and their families took part in the Field Day.

A Judging Competition was held in the morning. The cattle used in this Judging Competition were trucked from the herds of Clifford Ketcheson, Halloway; Emilie Masse, Belleville; Herb Wait, Foxboro; Earl Burnside, Madoc; Geo. Burnside, Madoc; and Philo Harris, Madoc.

Substantial prizes were offered for the best lady judges, farmer judges and junior farmer judges. The winners in these classes are as follows:

Ladies—Miss Catherine Convey, Dartford; Mrs. Walter Kannamaker, Madoc; Mrs. E. L. Anderson, Campbellford; Mrs. Percy Honey, Dagford; Mrs. Helen Masse, Belleville; Marian Hoskin, Cobourg; Mrs. Lillian Fair, Dartford.

Junior Farmers—Wesley Finch, Campbellford, No. 2; Harold Geen, Thomasburg; Elwood Bateman, Springbrook; Donald Geen, Thomasburg; Clare Hoskin, Cobourg; T. M. Letts, Warkworth; Lewis Dunk, Dartford.

Men—Henry Levens, Bloomfield; A. T. Sirett, Brighton; Walter Wannamaker, Madoc; E. L. Anderson, Campbellford; Bert Walters, Campbellford; C. Cole, Cobourg; Geo. McKeown, Bloomfield; Frank Huff, Bloomfield.

In the afternoon Philo Harris, President of Hastings County Holstein Club, gave the address of welcome. Mr. C. D. Graham, Chief Ontario Holstein Field Service, and Mr. R. M. Holby Holstein Field Man for Central Ontario, gave appropriate addresses. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to sports.

In Hymen's Bonds

BAKER—COOKE

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday, June 14th, at the United Church parsonage, Stirling, when Annie May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Cooke of West Huntingdon, became the bride of Raymond Oral Baker, Kingston. Rev. A. M. Lavery was the officiating minister. The youthful bride looked very sweet and lovely in a powder blue sheer costume, with white accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses and was attended by Miss Helen Thain, of Harold, wearing dusky rose sheer with white accessories and wearing a corsage of pink roses. Mr. Dan Cooke, brother of the bride was best man for the occasion. After a short honeymoon trip they will reside at 431 Alfred St. Kingston. The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silver, to the bridesmaid a gold compact and to the best man a bill fold.

TOO FAST

Thirty miles an hour is too high a speed for automobiles through the main streets of Stirling, or any other village, particularly when the streets are lined with cars. Even on Saturday nights, when the largest crowd of the week is in town there are motorists who speed through the village and it is a wonder there hasn't been a serious accident. Fifteen miles an hour, would be more in keeping with the rules of safety in the main business section and one would think that some of these rattle-brained drivers would realize it. Apparently the only cure is to pass a by-law limiting the rate of speed through town, then crack down on those who violate it, irrespective of who they are or where they come from.

It wouldn't take long for the news to get noised around that it didn't pay to speed through the streets of Stirling, and there would be a strict observance of the law as a result. Unless some action is taken, there is bound to be an accident sooner or later, and who knows who will be the victim.

IS IT YOUR TORCH YET?

Canada's Victory Loan Torch is speeding closer and closer to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, a symbol that expresses the determination of Canadian people to finish the job.

The sentence, "Canada's Victory Loan 1941. Part of the tools", is carved on the base of the symbol. Judging by the flow of subscriptions during the first half of the campaign, Canadians will be proud to send along the Torch in the knowledge that they responded to a challenge and supplied $600,000,000 as "part of the tools". There will be much deeper satisfaction, however, if by the time the Torch leaves Halifax for number 10 Downing Street, the Loan shall have been over-subscribed by many millions of dollars, and if thousands more of Canadian citizens are represented in the subscription lists.

One of the primary motives in sending the Torch to Great Britain was to do something unusual that would demonstrate to those living on the British Isles that they are not alone in this struggle. The larger the number of Canadians who buy bonds, the more impressive will that symbol be when it is landed on old country soil.

Buy a Victory Bond—even if you can invest only fifty dollars—and be actively identified with the ambitious plan to provide cheer for the soldiers and civilians now in the front line.

RED CROSS APPEAL

A decrease in the amount of Red Cross supplies for Overseas now being sent by provincial Red Cross branches to the Ontario warehouse, has brought a warning to women from Mrs. Wallace R. Campbell, national chairman Women's War Work Committee, against any slackening of war work during the summer months.

"The war is gathering in momentum," Mrs. Campbell said, "and it is little enough for us to give a few hours each day to a job we can still accomplish in the safety of comfortable work-rooms or the shelter of our own homes."

Red Cross has secured extra shipping space for the month of June and officials are anxious to get to Britain as much civilian clothing and knitted comforts as possible as a reserve for the future.

"It is hoped that every woman will realize

WHEN HEPBURN SPEAKS

We might find it pretty much of a strain to agree with all that Premier Hepburn has done in the way of public policy in this province, but when he makes a speech touching on the war and seeking to jab people into action, there is nothing much to do except agree and applaud.

He has that gift of dynamic utterances, and it is scarce. He uses words until they blister, and he grinds out hard statements until they grip one on the heels of the other.

We have speakers at Ottawa who are more profound, who give more time and more preparation before going into action in order that their statements may be better perfect, but Ottawa does not possess a Mitchell Hepburn.—Peterboro Examiner.

STANDING UP TO BOMBS

On visiting his parish after an air raid, a minister asked an old Scottish lady how she conducted herself when Nazi bombs were falling around, and this is what she said:

"When the air raid warning sounds, I take the Guild Book from the shelf and read the 23rd Psalm where it says, 'Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me.' Then I take a wee drop o' whiskey to steady my nerves. Then I get into bed and pull up the covers; and then I tell Hitler to go to Hell."

—Edinburgh Scotsman

OUR MILITARY EFFORT

We have been shown in the files of a local citizen, a letter received by him a year ago from the office of the Defence Council, Ottawa. This is but one of a score of letters this man has received from government sources since war broke out, all of which were round about refusals of his services. . . . and he offered to serve without pay. This 'Defence' letter states in part: "Unless Canada's military effort expands far beyond that how necessary it is to redouble our efforts and do twice as much work this summer and that it will be a disastrous thing if holidays cause a drop in the quantity of Red Cross supplies," Mrs. Campbell said.

Warm clothing for bomb victims, quilts, knitted comforts for civilians and sailors; sweaters, gloves, mitts, are all needed and volunteer women war workers are reminded that supplies sent overseas now by Red Cross will scarcely reach England before the cool weather.

MORE THAN INVESTMENT

G. W. Spinney, Executive Chairman of the Victory Loan Organization, is a top executive of one of Canada's great banks. As such, he might have been expected to discuss the big loan from the angle of an investment, in terms of security and interest.

But when addressing a large gathering of Victory Loan workers in Toronto the other evening he said this:

"I met a young man a few nights ago in the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa. He was just about to go overseas as a pilot officer, and was referring quite frankly to the fact that the life of a combat pilot in actual warfare is numbered only in hours. I asked him how he felt about it. His answer shows the spirit of the youth of this country. He wasn't considering his own life at all; he was considering only what he must do for Canada. He said: 'The Government now has a $25,000, investment in me, and I certainly must get a couple of Jerries for that before they get me.'"

"Can Canadians withhold money in the face of a spirit like that? I leave the answer to you."

Mr. Spinney set a splendid example in this manner of approaching the public to enlist wholehearted support for the Loan.

If citizens at home are as unselfish as the young man to whom Mr. Spinney spoke, the Loan will be well over-subscribed.

FARMERS' FRIEND SPEAKS

"Obviously, the Government wants food produced below the cost of production. There is nothing foolish about subsidizing the farmer to carry out a program of cheap food production."

In those two sentences, Miss Agnes Macphail, who sat in the House of Commons for many years, knew two Prime Ministers and many cabinet ministers, and fought consistently throughout her career as a stateswoman for the cause of agriculture and the working people of Canada, writing in the Globe and Mail in a copyrighted feature May 20th, summed up the present plight of Canadian farmers.

Miss Macphail used as the basis for her conclusion the facts, figures and recommendation of a Liberal member of the house, Mr. Hughes Cleaver, Halton County, in which the latter urged the Government at Ottawa to work out and adopt a plan of compensating the farmers' present day losses with a bonus paid in War Savings Bonds which could not be cashed in until the war is over. This, Mr. Cleaver pointed out, would prevent inflation as per the Government's wish, and would also help the farmer because he would be able to make necessary repairs, purchase needed equipment, and so forth, when the war is over and when national purchasing power would need to be bolstered in all possible ways.

Miss Macphail's logic and economics seem to be pretty sound, too, because we note that she qualifies her approval of a farm bonus with these words: "I doubt if it (bonus plan) is as sound a policy as parity prices for agriculture. But it is an alternative."

This farm price question deserves plenty of study and thought, right now.

CURRENT COMMENT

Parched farm land took on a new lease of life in this district following Monday's heavy rain which broke a dry spell that had reached serious proportions. Although it arrived too late to benefit the hay crops, farmers welcomed the rain for the benefit it will do the pastures and the later crops. In the words of one prominent farmer, "it was a million dollar rain."

contemplated at the moment, there will be few opportunities, etc., and the whole tone of all these perfunctory epistles is the same: "Wait and See".

And so it goes. This sort of thing, and it is going on even today, is what has persuaded us to write one or two accompanying editorials. Frankly, in spite of bellyhoo and headlines, and the return of profundities in Hansard that roll up the figures and tell of belittling, all-in-the-front-line, universal sacrifices, and what not, the conviction persists, as we sit quietly and think, and as we look and listen around us, that neither the government nor the people are yet conscious of what this war is all about. Reference is made to the above letters as certain background.

We have a top-heavy machine honeycombed with cubby holes housing thousands of workers keeping records for scores of boards and committees, the heads of which know nothing of belittling, and with callous unconcern write letters for higher-ups whose dependence upon deputies and cliques leaves them with but the hollow shell of authority and the salary perquisites that go with it. Hansard has revealed some astonishing things of late. The more these things are viewed the stronger becomes the sense that the bureaucracy must give way to unchallengeable authority.

—Bowmanville Statesman

PATRIOTIC SENSE

Some people lack patriotic sense. When the flag is carried by in a procession they fail to doff their hats or show other respect to our national emblem.

When "God Save the King" is played or sung they either stand in an indifferent attitude or they rudely turn around and start to walk away.

The parade of a well-uniformed army, navy or air force unit fails to arouse much enthusiasm or it is gazed at in a lackadaisical fashion that almost arouses resentment.

CANADIANS GREATEST USERS OF TELEPHONE

Since the outbreak of war, Canadians—for 12 consecutive years rated as the world's greatest telephone talkers—have been doing more calling than ever before according to figures just released by the statistical department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. These figures bring the record up to January 1, 1940.

On the average, each person in Canada in 1939 placed 246.3 telephone calls, as compared with 235 the previous year. Canada is followed by the United States with 231.5 conversations per capita in 1939, Denmark with 189.5, Sweden with 189, and Norway with 96.1.

THE WEEKLY NEWS

BY MURDIE McDONALD

How can do their best work when their minds are unsettled. This applies not only to the individual but to the mass of individuals which makes up a nation.

At a time when Canada is gearing itself up to the peak of efficiency in order to maintain a free community, we are being handicapped by the very freedom we fight for. Our policy which allows free speech even in the war period, enables politicians to criticize those in power to such an extent that the man on the street is left to wonder what he is to believe.

On the one hand we have an appeal for six hundred million dollars, a loan from the people to the Government for war purposes, and on the other hand we have individuals who keep shouting that the war effort is not sufficiently strong and that public money is being wasted.

On the one hand we have an appeal being made for more and more recruits to increase Canada's military forces, and on the other hand we have a member of Parliament telling the House of Commons that our military training is inefficient.

The man who wants to believe in himself and in his country will refuse to be disturbed by the bickering that he hears and reads about. If our administration is weak and inefficient, it will soon be supplanted by something stronger under the heavy pressure of a nation's determination to see this war through. If the critics are confounded by the development of our war effort during the next few months, they will soon become silent.

If we need to be reassured, we can reflect on the fact that this country is producing as much war material in one year as it did during the whole period of the Great War 1914-1918. We can take pride in the fact that our air fighters and our ground forces now in England are the equal of our fighters during the Great War. We can take a look at the income taxation, at the excess profits taxation and at the stiff control of prices paid to manufacturers who are producing war goods and compare all this with the 1914-1918 situation when millions of dollars sprouted over night and Government contracts were juicy plums.

We can stand firm in our knowledge that Canada's war effort will be the sum total of the individual effort throughout the country, and that the average citizen in Canada is grimly determined to do everything in his power to beat Hitler.

There is nothing that the Nazis would like better than to see Canada seething with unrest. And if many of the rumours and charges which are circulating throughout the country are not started by Nazi agents, then Hitler is a myth.

If Canada is to continue aggressively during this war, we must believe in ourselves and in our representatives. If we can't do that, then it is high time, we took steps to make such belief possible.

Canada's Victory Loan 1941 needs the $50 and $100 subscriptions in much greater numbers than the lists show at present.

Our men in uniform cannot be properly equipped by these million dollar subscriptions from large corporations. If the final total of the loan is to exceed seven hundred million dollars, the smaller subscriptions are vital.

Ontario manufacturers are of the opinion that the Industrial Disputes Act of 1927 is an ineffective measure for wartime. They are of the opinion that the government has been somewhat lacking in its efforts to prevent strikes and lockouts in war industries. They feel that the labor men as a whole do not wish strikes and are in most instances the victims of labor agitators using the national emergency to advance their own subversive objectives.

The manufacturers are not antagonistic to unionism, their opposition being directed to the small communistic groups which are seeking control of unions and are taking advantage of loopholes in the Act that cause trouble everywhere. In the past the Federal Authorities have shown a disposition to pass the buck from department to department when troubles arise. The manufacturers claim it is the duty of the government to keep the plants running. The problem is to know how that can be done when a small minority in a war plant can press for a vote on some trivial question that the man on the street is left to wonder what he is to believe.

In the matter of the strike at the Canadian General Electric which the men called a 'holiday', the Labor Department after several warnings passed the matter over to the Justice Department. After a week of delay the workmen who walked out in an illegal manner have heeded the warnings and gone back to work to await the decision of a conciliation board which they should have asked for in the first place. Several of the more active agitators have been summoned to appear in court, and the outlook at long last is that the government has decided to put some teeth into its regulations.

EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENT REPORT GIVEN TO COUNTY

Equalization of assessment of the municipalities within the County of Hastings will be the same in 1942 as it is for 1941, according to the report of the Committee on Equalization presented to the County Council at its session last week.

The report, presented shortly after the body resumed its sitting, was adopted unanimously by council. There was no discussion.

Total assessment of the county municipalities amounts to $18,282,800.

IS YOUR CISTERN SOUR?

Are you one of the local householders who are complaining about the sour cistern, due to weeping California Maple Trees. If so, here is good news for you. Go to your local drug store and buy a dime's worth of saltpetre and throw it in the cistern. The sour odor will disappear over night. If your cistern is an unusually large one, increase the amount of saltpetre. This remedy has been tried and proves to be quite efficient in offsetting this nuisance.

GAS MAY BE RATIONED

Eastern Canada can be prepared to face imminent rationing of oil and gasoline supplies, J. L. Stewart of Toronto, deputy oil controller, said in a statement on Wednesday. Mr. Stewart was not prepared to say when or under what conditions these measures would be introduced. Shortage of oil and gasoline in eastern Canada is due to the fact that 50 of the 250-tanker fleet of the United States have been loaned to Britain.

County Tax Rate 11.6 Mills

In spite of more or less strenuous argument for a reduction to the same tax rate as a year ago a readjusted Estimates Committee report which called for a rate of 11.6 mills was adopted by the Hastings Council Friday. The rate struck in the original report presented to council, Thursday, and which was tabled for further discussion, was 11½ mills, an increase of ½ mill over the 1941 rate.

The motion for adoption was made by Estimates Committee Chairman, Jas. H. Sprackett following a spirited discussion. The yeas voted in a majority but the nays did not signify their attitude.

Cheese Price Up Last Week

What is possibly the greatest number of cheese ever offered on the Belleville Cheese Board was sold at the regular board meeting on Thursday evening when a total of 5,296 boxes were offered for sale. The increase over the normal amount offered, however, was due to the fact that at the previous board meeting no cheese had been boarded that was manufactured after May 25th.

The Government's decision to increase the price of cheese manufactured after May 25th by one cent per pound had its reflection on the local board last evening when 15 5-6 cents, the highest price in several years, was offered. All cheese were sold at this figure with buyers Fraleigh, Murphy, McCreary and Morton being the purchasers. The factories represented were:

VICTORY LOAN FOR WAR PURPOSES ONLY

It is reported in Ottawa that the total cash proceeds of the Victory Loan will be used for war purposes. Indeed, by expressing it in percentages, Canada's total expenditures, including vital aid to Britain, for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1942, will be ordinary expenditures 18% and war expenditures 82%, with 54% of the money coming from taxation and 46% from Victory Loan, War Savings Certificates, etc. Moreover, it is important for the man-in-the-street to know that Canada is financing both her ordinary and war-time revenue up to 79% as she goes along in this war.

NEW TAXES POURING INTO TREASURY

Though past estimates have been conservative, yet it is intimated in usually well-informed circles in the capital that the total new revenues from taxes will exceed all expectations. Taxes from estates or successions will yield about $39,000,000 in the year; motion picture taxes of 20% of receipts will supply at least $8,000,000, with the additional impositions on sporting events, concerts, etc., bound to double this amount; personal income taxes will bring in another $75,000,000 and the increase in the excess profits tax from 12 to 22 per cent will produce $80,000,000, deducting the amounts that will be given to the provinces in compensation for leaving their income taxation fields; the national defence tax is certain to return about $80,000,000; the Gas Tax will involve a minimum sum of $25,000,000; railway tickets and other minor taxes will bring another $10,000,000. In other words, these new or increased old taxation schedules promises to produce monies or levies far in excess of all past speculations or estimates.

STRIKES WILL NOT IMPERIL CANADA'S WAR EFFORT

There is every reason to believe that strikes will not imperil Canada's war industry as may have happened in other countries. Under the Industrial Disputes Act, a strike is illegal without resort to conciliation, though when findings are made and enquiries completed the acceptance is not mandatory. In any case, there is no official inclination to permit interference in war industries by strikes.

WAR AND POLITICS ARE NOT MIXING IN OTTAWA

Notwithstanding all reports of supposed political intrigues or activities in Ottawa right now in face of the war emergency, yet well-informed circles insist that politics has gone out of the window on the national scene where war matters are concerned, with the importance or significance of certain political manoeuvres being exaggerated statements or misleading information. ### MOUNT PLEASANT

Women's Missionary Society celebrate their 40th Anniversary.

On Wednesday afternoon, June 11, over eighty ladies gathered at Mount Pleasant United Church to commemorate the Fortieth Anniversary of Mt. Pleasant Woman's Missionary Society.

The church was resplendent with baskets of peonies and vases of cut flowers which made a pretty setting for this happy occasion. Posters, Press Scrap Books and W.M.S. periodicals and Books were prominently displayed.

On either side of the altar was a table covered with a cut-work luncheon cloth. The Birthday cake with forty pink candles adorned the one, while a silver basket of pink and white peonies graced the other and this table was used as a memorial to the departed members.

Every woman on Rawdon Circuit was specially invited to attend and several accepted the invitation, there being eleven from Wellmans and four from Bethel.

Several ladies in the near-by communities who had been members at Mount Pleasant also accepted the invitation to attend, among these being a former president, Mrs. Thomas McKeown and her daughter, Margaret, of Springbrook. Mrs. Herb David, Stirling. Mrs. Frank Bailey, Carnel; Mrs. Milton Shaw and Wayne, Ivanhoe; Mrs. Ray Williams, Hoards; Mrs. Gilbert Smith, who is spending a few weeks in our midst; Mrs. Baldwin Reid, Ivanhoe, and a few men also attended this function.

The service opened with quiet music played by Mrs. John Holmes. The president, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, presided and gave the call to worship "We know not the way that's before us", and all sang "God is with us", followed with a prayer from the May Monthly.

The guests were graciously welcomed and the Roll Call of 1940 paid members was answered with the keyword, "A favourite Bible verse."

The afternoon Devotional took the form of an "In Memoriam Service" for twenty-two departed members who have passed into higher service.

Mrs. Percy Hubble placed a cross on the memorial table with the words "Pray—Study—Give"—the motto of those who had gone on. She then read the lists of deceased members and placed a spray of yellow roses and fern at the front of the cross and then read a poem by James Whitcomb Riley, "They are not dead—they are just away."

Mrs. John Holmes read several Bible passages and gave a splendid talk in memory of those faithful workers, followed by prayer. List of deceased members:

The list was read as follows:
Mrs. James Williams—First President from 1901—1911.

Mrs. Frank Potts—First Secretary. Five charter members: Mrs. Daniel Johnson, Mrs. Nancy McConnell, Mrs. Rueben Hoard, Miss Lottie Johnson and her mother Mrs. Will Johnson. Mrs. Robert Pounder—Leader of Mission Circle 1912—1917. Mrs. A. W. Garrison—Life Member; Mrs. Nettie Maines, Mrs. Alex McMullen, Mrs. Wm. Emmons, (Sr.), Mrs. David McAdam, Mrs. Kenneth Valleau, Mrs. James Hubble, Mrs. Manson McConnell, Mrs. Claude Sharp, Mrs. Conger McConnell, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. Lewis Locke, Mrs. Orval Jackson, Mrs. Wm. H. Scott.

Miss Muriel Sine read the May minutes and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver reported over seventy-two dollars to date.

On July 9th the W. M. S. will entertain leader and members of mission band who will furnish the programme and the mother's and babies of the community.

Forty Years

Forty years ago in June, Mrs. Levi Massey organized a W.M.S. at Mount Pleasant and the names of the ten presidents was read by the secretary. Names of Presidents.

Mrs. Will Heath, a former member, represented Bethel community and sang a vocal solo, "There always a blessing for me."

Three Charter Members

When the Auxiliary was organized there were ten charter members and seven of these have passed on to their reward.

The three who are living were all in attendance and gave brief addresses, telling how the work was begun and their reminiscences of the days gone by was very interesting.

Mrs. Allan Bailey, honorary president of Mount Pleasant, W.M.S. and the second president of the organization, has been a continuous member and worker and she gave a portion of her address which she gave at Wellmans when they celebrated their 40th in 1938. For the first few years the ladies of the circuit all gathered at Wellmans for their meetings and then in 1901 the Mount Pleasant ladies' decided to have a society of their own.

Mrs. Frank Williams, the first treasurer, and who had the honour of choosing the hymns used at this service, brought a cheery word of greeting and spoke of pioneer days.

Mrs. James Honeywell, of Castleton, a former member of Cobourg Presbyterian, and who is well known here as Miss Phronia McDonald, was the third charter member and she came especially for this service. She gave an interesting message and said Mount Pleasant is always home to her. She brought greetings from Castleton W.M.S. and there were reciprocated.

Those in attendance were particularly delighted to hear from the three charter members.

The Society has Five Life Members

Mrs. George Weaver, who has held some office continuously for thirty-five years; Mrs. Allan Bailey, honorary president; Mrs. John Holmes; Mrs. Frank Jeffs; Mrs. J. E. Beckel; sixteen annual members and three associate helpers.

Last year the Auxiliary and Mission Band remitted over two hundred dollars to the Presbyterian Treasurer.

It was regretted that Mrs. George Weaver, Mrs. J. E. Beckel, Mrs. Morris Rose and Mrs. Don Campbell were absent on this festive occasion.

Mission Band History

Mrs. Cyrus Summers who has given splendid leadership to the Mission Band since 1938 gave a brief resume of that organization.

In June 1924 a Mission Band was organized by Mrs. John Holmes, with the pastor's wife, Mrs. F. G. Joblin, as First President, and later in 1926 it was divided into two bands, the meetings held at the Allan and William's School. In 1929 the band was again combined with Mrs. Frank Hutchison as leader. In 1930-1931, Miss Helen Smith guided the children and then Miss Edna Thrasher carried out the duties of leader for six years.

At present the band is studying Trinidad and they had a membership in 1940 of 19 annual members and they remitted $32.50 to Presbyterian Treasurer. All were delighted to have Mrs. Milton Shaw, formerly Miss Edna Thrasher in attendance.

The ladies of Wellmans were disappointed in their number, so at this juncture, Mrs. Edgar McKeown and Mrs. Carleton Potts contributed a duet.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, former press Secretary of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch, gave a brief resume of the "Highlights" of the recent branch meeting held at Brockville.

At this meeting the special guest speakers were Miss Ida Mackenzie, the new travelling secretary, who pointed out the wonderful work being accomplished in China and Canada despite the war. She asked that each individual thank God for Missionaries.

Miss Bernice Cairns brought a message from South China and said, "The spirit of the Chinese is marvellous, they have such a forgiving spirit toward the Japanese."

Dr. J. W. Woodside, pastor of Chalmers' Church, Ottawa and ex-Moderator of the United Church, pointed out with the use of Bible quotations that "God is Supreme over Everything."

He also gave brief glimpses of the workings of this large organization, which comprises seven presbyteries.

The offering was gathered by Mrs. Arthur Phillips, Stewardship's Secretary and Mrs. K. Weaver, Treasurer. The members used their monthly envelopes and the guests gave silver collection and the total realized was over fourteen dollars. All goes direct to Missions, as the president and two other ladies assumed all the expenses of this event.

Mrs. Roy Thrasher dedicated the offering and took our three missionaries, Miss Wilma Paddock, Miss Elsie Hunt and Miss Mabel Clazie, to the "Throne of Grace."

Birthday Cake Ceremony
Mrs. Allen Bailey provided the lovely Birthday cake and Mrs. George Weaver was responsible for the decorating of it, and these two ladies had the honour of planning the cake, and also shouldering the expense of it. The cake was beautifully iced in white, with 40 pink candles and holders.

In the absence of Mrs. Weaver, she requested that Mrs. Holmes take her place at the table and assist Mrs. Bailey with the lighting honours.

While the candles were burning, Misses Lois Weaver and Ruth Rose, two Mission Band members sang,

MOUNT PLEASANT

"Jesus Wants me for a Sunbeam." After the candles were blown out Mrs. Thrasher carried the cake to the back of the church and cut a serving for each guest.

Brief remarks were given by Rev. J. E. Beckel, pastor.

Miss Emma Rainnie, president of Wellman's W. M. S. and Mrs. Harold Elliott, president of Bethel Ladies' Aid, also spoke. The President thanked all who had assisted in any way to make the afternoon a success and she was especially grateful for the lovely flowers.

The Service closed with "A Better Day is Coming", the pastor pronounced the Benediction—followed by the National Anthem. A little later Grace was sung.

A large table was placed at the rear of the church and the tasty lunch was nicely arranged by Mrs. Ross Hoad and Mrs. Frank Smith. Mrs. Arthur Phillips brewed the tea at the hall. The lunch consisting of Sandwiches, cookies, pickles, tart, tea, and Birthday cake was served by Mrs. Edgar McKeown, Mrs. Cyrus Summers, Mrs. Kenneth Weaver, Miss Ellen MacMullen, Mrs. Percy Hubble, Mrs. Lindsay McKeown, Mrs. Gordon Linn, Mrs. Frank Jeffs, Mrs. Muriel Sine, Mrs. M. ### WEST HUNTINGDON

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cooke, was packed to capacity on Friday evening, with neighbours and friends from far and near, who assembled to honour Miss Annie Cooke, whose marriage to Mr. Raymond Baker of Madoc, took place in Stirling, on Saturday. Mr. Kenneth Stewart, acted as chairman. Community singing was indulged in and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Miss Jean Farrell and Mr. Vincent Farrell, gave two appropriate vocal duets, with Mr. Farrell accompanying on the piano.

Mrs. John McInroy gave a reading. Mr. Philip Carr spoke briefly, and Miss Theda Moorcroft read an address embodying the good wishes of the audience to the young couple and regret that Annie would be removing her residence from the community. A host of beautiful and useful gifts were given which were evidence of the esteem of the bride and her worth in the neighborhood. Both Annie and Raymond suitably repaid and invited their friends to visit them in their new home in Kingston. Ladies served refreshments.

Funeral services for infant Edward Mitts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitts, were held on Thursday afternoon, from the parent's home at Fuller, with interment in Moria Cemetery. Mr. Kenneth Stewart conducted the service and spoke comforting words based on the Text "Of such is the Kingdom of God." The sympathy of a host of friends is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mitts in their sad bereavement.

The May meeting of Daisy Mission Band was held at home of Miss Joan McCurdy, with eight members and one visitor in attendance. A song and prayer constituted the opening exercise and Theda Moorcroft conducted the Reading of Scripture lesson. The Roll Call was answered by each member re-calling a thought their leader read on Trinidad, at a previous meeting. Jane Gay and Joan McCurdy each gave readings. Theda Moorcroft gave a piano solo, and Mrs. Foster Wilson had charge of study book.

Mrs. Albert Mitts, Jr., and Mrs. Albert Mitts, Sr., entertained the members of the W.M.S. of Fuller United Church, at their home on Wednesday afternoon. ## "PAID IN FULL"

A Short Short Story

By LESLIE HAMILTON

It was July, 1939, in Hamburg, one of the largest cities in Germany on the eve of goose-stepping over Europe in the second act of the Great War. The scene was a gaily bedecked pavilion overlooking the little Alster, a beautiful lake nestled in the heart of the famous seaport which has since been pounded to a pulp by Britain's indomitable R.A.F.

Gazing pensively over the sunlit waters toward the Lombard bridge which separates the inner and outer Alster, a girl—both young and very beautiful—but definitely ill at ease, sighed with the sigh of loneliness which only those who have been a stranger in a strange land can feel while in the midst of hundreds of their fellow creatures.

Suddenly, the girl glanced toward a nearby table where a German airman was drinking a bottle of Rhine wine and eagerly scanning the headlines of a newspaper. The Journal the man was reading—like an irresistible magnet whose power would not be denied—had already drawn her fascinated gaze in his direction on two or three occasions during the previous fifteen minutes, and although it was only a newspaper which intrigued her interest, it was as a friend calling in the wilderness to the young woman on the balcony, for it was the one and only London Times—a veritable breath of home to the lonely girl spending a few days' holiday in the heart of a foreign land.

Obviously, the man could read English. Perhaps he also spoke it fluently. He was also an officer—and would therefore be a gentleman—so it would be all right to obey that impulse which urged her to speak to him. It would be unconventional—yes; but the very air of her cosmopolitan surroundings was distinctly unconventional—so why not?

"Pardon me, Herr Lieutenant," she approached him. "I noticed you reading the Times, so I assumed you also speak English. Am I right?"

"Your servant, Fraulein," the officer smiled in reply, rising and bowing from the waist with a flourish and clicking his heels together with that manifestation of surface Kultur, which is the stereo typed response of his kind in acknowledging an introduction or coming to attention in the presence of a superior.

"I hope you will forgive my intrusion," the girl returned his smile in answer to her advances, "but I simply had to converse with someone in my own language; you understand?"

"You are lonely, my dear?" he queried, shrewdly appraising her trim figure with the experienced eye of a seasoned veteran of many a flirtatious campaign.

"Simply bored to death, I'm afraid,"

"Ach! But that is only because you lack a friend to show you the sights."

"I think you are probably quite right about that. Hamburg itself is a delightful city, but when one cannot speak the language, doesn't know any one, and doesn't know where to go, it might just as well be dreadful—since been pounded to a pulp by Britain's indomitable R.A.F."

"How very fortunate you spoke to me, my dear. You are lonely and at a loose end, as you English so quaintly put it; while I, on the contrary, know where to go but haven't anyone to go with either; so it looks as if we could get together. Yes—No?"

"That would be simply splendid, if you're sure you wouldn't mind?" she thanked him, darting a glance of admiration at her companion's commanding and handsome appearance. And that's how the couple, who were total strangers to each other a short time before, came to leave for San Pauli, that playground of Hamburg, where any variety of diversion may be found at any hour of the day or night, providing only that one has the wherewithal to pay for it.

Several hours later, considerably after midnight in fact, another taxi drew in to the docks on the river where a tourist steamer lay waiting to pull out on the early morning tide. Stepping out of the cab and beckoning to a steward who was leaning over the side of the vessel, the resplendent officer of Hitler's air armada discreetly tipped the man before surrendering into his keeping the poor, deluded girl who had set out to enjoy the sights with a chance acquaintance.

"Auf Wiedersehen, my dear," the girl hissed in her face as she reeled into the arms of the obliging steward. "You have been most charming in your stupid little way. Perhaps I shall look you up in England when I visit your cold, mutton eating country in the not too distant future. Good morning, Fraulein, and Bon Voyage!"

"I hate you! You brutal swine!" the girl hissed into his arrogant countenance, allowing the steward to lead her up the gang-plank and shuddering at the shameful recollection of what had transpired in a den of San Pauli during the earlier part of the evening.

A year passed away before the victim of the foregoing episode began to forget her forcible outrage by the callous Ober Lieutenant Manfred—a year in which the world scene had changed so rapidly that her beloved England stood ready to meet the massed invasion threatened by a key tones, surveying her prisoner with a look of venomous contempt. "You and domination. Like many other women of the old country, Daisy you, Lieutenant Manfred? Especially Sharpe was doing her bit as a member of the W.A.T.S., and in the daily round of duty was slowly but surely obliterating all memory of the harrowing experience she had so foolishly allowed herself to fall into. There was one thing she would never forget, however, and that was the lecherous face of her seducer as he had mockingly bid her farewell on the pier at Hamburg. If only that dastardly Hun would suffer for it . . . then she could dismiss the matter from her mind entirely and face the future with calm confidence in the knowledge that justice had been done. But it was no use wishing for anything like that; the age of miracles was past—and nothing but a miracle would permit her to know whether he had already paid, or would ever pay, a compensating penalty for the grievous injury he had inflicted upon her person.

"Daisy! Daisy! Jump into your uniform—quick!" a comrade of the same company awoke her in the early hours of a morning in late September of 1940.

"What's up," Daisy jumped out of her cot in the dormitory of C Platoon. "Is there another raid on?"

"No! But there's a big German bomber crashed in the woods near Oxford, and the troops are out looking for the crew who jumped in parachutes before the smash."

"But we're not supposed to join in hunts for Nazi raiders," Daisy tried to hold her friend, who was chattering with suppressed excitement and vowing threats of dire vengeance while she dressed. "They'll shoot us as quick as look at us!"

"They will, if they see us first," the other girl retorted viciously, recalling the mess a previous raid had made of her home a short distance from the scene of the present crash. "But we know the country and they don't," she continued, "so if we're lucky and spot any of the blighters, we can pot 'em from behind a hedge if they won't surrender."

"But we haven't any guns," Daisy argued, although she reached for her own skirt and tunic as her pal snorted. "Haven't we—by gum! That's where you're fully well mistaken. I to say 'Good Morning' and 'Bon Voyage' from the artillery just in case a chance like this ever popped up!"

"Stay where you are!" Daisy commanded in harsh tones as she covered a skulking figure beneath a hedge, breathing a silent prayer of thankfulness as she did so for the first faint flush of dawn behind them.

"Blimey! It's a Boche!" her comrade gulped, grimly following Daisy's example and covering the Hun with her own gun.

"Don't shoot," the enemy airman pleaded. "I know when I'm caught."

"Step out into the light," Daisy ordered, striving to suppress a tumultuous beating of her heart as she recognized the voice.

"Fraulein! You, here?"

"Yes, it's me!" the girl replied in a key tones, surveying her prisoner with a look of venomous contempt. "You and domination. Like many other women of the old country, Daisy you, Lieutenant Manfred? Especially Sharpe was doing her bit as a member of the W.A.T.S., and in the daily

German corrected her. "Our 'Leader' has seen fit to regard me since our little affair of just over a year ago."

"I'm afraid your 'leader,' as you call that butcher Hitler, is going to be shy about a future air vice-marshal," came the sarcastic retort, while the girl racked her brains for some means of evening the score against the man who had wronged her so brutally.

"Yes, I'm afraid I'm doomed to enjoy the hospitality of one of your so very comfortable internment camps," the other laughed with a derisive chuckle.

"Lucy!" his captor whispered to the girl at her side; "Run over to your house—it's only a few hundred yards across the fields—and bring me a suit of your brother Dan's."

"Right-o, old girl! I'll be back in a jiffy," Lucy remarked, "I don't know what the dickens you want it for, but it's all right with me" she muttered, departing on her errand for the garments requested.

"Hadden't you better turn me over to the military authorities?" her captive demanded, wondering what the determined young woman with a gun pointed at his heart was going to do.

"Don't worry," she flashed him a Mona Lisa smile; "I'm going to, as soon as my pal gets back."

"Here they are, Daisy," Lucy reported a few minutes later, handing her comrade a sports suit of her brother's.

"Put these on, and make it snappy" Daisy commanded the prisoner, while Lucy looked on in stunned surprise.

"Good work, Sergeant Sharpe," the officer in command of a British patrol praised Daisy for her capture a little later . . .

"Auf Wiedersehen, my friend," the satisfied young woman threw at the Boche as he was marched away. "It is most unfortunate you were captured wearing civilian clothes—for that makes you a spy—and deals you a firing squad instead of the so comfortable internment camp you expected for the duration. It's my turn now to say 'Good Morning' and 'Bon Voyage,' my Captain. Our account will shortly be 'Paid in Full.' Cheerio!"

The End.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN CANAL

The body of Mrs. Fred Lang, wife of a Campbellford barber, was found at 1.05 p.m., Thursday in fifteen feet of water below the dam near the Black bridge in the Trent Canal here. She had been missing since Tuesday night, and when a fawn coat and pair of tan shoes were found by Mrs. Ernest Lee, fears were entertained that she might have fallen into the water.

Dragging operations were begun Thursday afternoon by several men, who located the body an hour later near where the clothing was found. Stop logs at the dam stopped all but a light flow of water in this area and it was presumed the body, if in the river, would be found near this spot.

Surviving is her husband, Fred Lang, and a daughter, Mrs. Don Grills.

SIDNEY COUNCIL MEETING

That the 1935 taxes on property purchased by Wm. Buss be written off the Collector's Roll and that this property be taken out of the tax sale.

That accounts under road voucher No. 6, be paid.

That relief accounts for May be paid.

A petition from residents of Oak Lake district asking that the road around the south side of the lake be closed to overcome the dust nuisance was presented to the Council by Messrs. M. Bird and B. Saries and the Council agreed to give the request favourable consideration, the matter to be left in the hands of the Reeve and Road Superintendent.

The afternoon session of the Council was taken up largely by the Court of Revision deciding appeals against the 1941 Assessment with the following results:—

That Mr. Edward Grass be granted exemption on wood lot, $300. Mr. H. Donnelly's assessment was reduced from $2600 to $2050, Mr. D. Mc-

Curdy was granted a provisional assessment on 20 acres of wood lot, Mr. Wm. McMullen's assessment was reduced by $600 on buildings because of his loss by fire and Sidney Town-Hall Cheese Co. for the same reason had their assessment reduced by $1000. Mr. Frank Baalim's assessment was also reduced by $1000. In the appeal of Mr. Evans no action was taken. After the close of the Court of Revision the Council resumed and adjourned to meet Monday, July 7th at one o'clock p.m.

WALLBRIDGE CHEESE FACTORY RE-BUILT

Canadian Pacific Builds First Canadian Tank

It was a proud day for the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus Shops at Montreal when D. C. Coleman, vice-president, announced to a gathering of Government officials, company officers, workers and newspaper men that he had great pleasure in delivering the first Canadian-built tank to the Canadian Army. "The machine," he said, "is the child of sweat and tears. It will be followed by hundreds and thousands of others to help the Empire to its victory."

The tank was gratefully accepted by the Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, who praised Mr. Coleman, H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, and other Canadian Pacific men for the effort they had put into building this splendid war machine. He, in turn, gave the tank and all others to come off the Angus assembly line to the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, who thanked the Canadian Pacific workers for the fine job they had accomplished. "You men have put your whole heart into this job," he said. He also mentioned that 300 of the thousands of tanks being made at the Angus Shops were being produced for the British Purchasing Commission.

The pictures above show Mr. Coleman officially delivering the first tank to the Department of Munitions and Supply and, inset, Corp. Colin Burton, a veteran of Dunkirk, complimenting an Angus worker on the construction of the tank.

WAGE WAR ON WEEDS THEY ROB THE SOIL

The early completion of spring planting has provided an exceptional opportunity for an aggressive weed eradication programme this year. Already the "showy" weeds of early summer, daisies, sheep sorrel, cinquefoil and many others are blotting out the verdant foliage of meadows and pastures; and mustard will soon be flaunting its golden florescence far and wide over the grain fields. Other less apparent weeds, couch or quack grass, sow thistle and bindweed are busy obtaining a strangle hold on the crops. Later in the summer, their work of destruction will be more conspicuous.

News reports from Germany tell of the government's efforts to encourage the people to utilize daisies, dandelions and other weeds as substitutes for vegetables in the daily diet. Fortunately, we in Canada do not need to fall back on such objectionable forms of plant growth for food purposes, and there are more pleasant ways of getting rid of them than by eating them. War on weeds can be waged in many ways. There are, however, seven weapons that have proven especially effective: a determination to get rid of weeds, clean seed, crop rotation, thorough cultivation, suitable fertility conditions, smoother crops and chemical weed-killers.

Powdered cyanamid of special weed-killer grade has proven very effective in controlling mustard in grain fields. Properly applied, it destroys the mustard without injuring the grain. Patches of weeds can be eradicated most economically and effectively by means of chemical weed killer. Several types of these are very effective with annual and shallow-rooted perennials, but those containing sodium chlorate have proven most effective in the destruction of deep-rooted perennials such as bindweed, couch grass and perennial sow-thistles.

Where weeds are thriving over the whole field, the combination of an early season summer fallow plus the growing of buckwheat, millet or rape as a smother crop is the most practical control method. Experience indicates however, that the cover crop should be aided by a liberal application of fertilizer—2-12-6 or 2-16-6—applied in the row with the seed. This will enable the crop to make the rapid growth necessary to quickly form a dense covering.

While waging war against weeds, one should not overlook the fact that from both an individual and national standpoint weeds do perform a valuable service in drawing attention to the rapid depletion of soil fertility. The crimson blanket that sheep sorrel casts over meadows in many sections of the country in early summer indicates a probable lack of lime in the soil. Blueet, the little pale blue flowered plant, and rough cinquefoil, the yellow flowered plant that grows in meadows, generally indicate a low phosphate supply. Most weeds establish themselves more successfully where cultivated plants die out or where conditions are unsuitable for the culture of the specific type of crop planted on that area. The progressive farmer would be well advised to add soil sampling to his war on weeds programme, so that after harvest he will be prepared to follow up on his weed destruction with a definitely constructive soil improvement programme.

TREAT FALL WHEAT CROP REPAYS CARE

Many a field of fall wheat was plowed up this spring, for the reason that the crop lacked vigour to survive the winter or to withstand the effects of the alternate thawing and freezing of the subsequent period. It is significant and not surprising to find that in nearly every instance of failure the application of a suitable fertilizer was omitted. Some who thought to save money by this omission now realize that it was false economy. Fall wheat is one crop that can rarely be grown successfully without the aid of fertilizer, be it 2-16-6 or on the heavier loams, 2-12-6 or 2-12-10 on the lighter soils. A fertilizer high in phosphate encourages rapid and firm establishment of the young plants and the development of sufficient top before winter sets in.

Another measure of protection that should not be neglected is the treatment of the seed grain with ethyl mercury phosphate dust which not only controls smut or bunt of wheat but promotes vigorous germination and growth by destroying other seed-borne organisms that produce roots if unchecked. The cost of this highly commended treatment is negligible. The cost of this highly commended treatment is negligible, as only half an ounce of the dust per bushel of seed is required.

As mercury dust is poisonous, precautions are necessary in its use. The directions printed on the label of the container should be read and followed carefully.

FARM SERVICE FORCE

Although many thousands of High School students and young women have volunteered for service on Ontario farms and to undertake picking in orchards, a great many are urgently needed to assist in this vital war service, reports A. MacLaren, Director of Farm Service, Department of Labour. Camps for farmerettes have been established throughout the Niagara Peninsula and, without exception, the girls are doing a good job.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture states that fruit crop prospects look good. There is also an increased acreage in vegetables needed to fill Military demands. This means additional labour will be required to harvest the crops needed to feed Canada's rapidly growing army.

Agricultural authorities stress the fact that the hay crop is badly in need of rain and unless moisture is forthcoming the hay will be short. Should this be the case it is imperative that the hay crop be harvested with minimum loss. Hence the important fact that the necessary help must be recruited without delay.

WASTE NOT—

WANT NOT

Now is the time for all loyal Canadian youths to come to the aid of the Greater Food Production movement. The Motherland needs all the bacon cheese and milk products that can be obtained from Ontario. Help win the war meeting the urgent needs of the brave and courageous people in the British Isles.

MOST VALUABLE

This year particularly, hay will be most valuable and from a feeding standpoint it will be just too bad if because of ho.p shortage the entire crop cannot be harvested. Any loss could be construed as food shortage. Furthermore, every effort will have to be made to make sure that a complete harvesting of oats, wheat and barley, etc., takes place as these crops, too, are most important in Canada's effort to supply Britain with bacon and cheese for which there is practically a limitless demand.

Director MacLaren and staff of Farm Placement Officers are leaving no stone unturned to insure that the farmers' requirements are met with the very best type of farm help that is obtainable. Everything points to the Farm Service Force campaign attaining its objective of recruiting at least 10,000 High School youths and young women, as well as males unsuited for military service, for work on the farm.

100 PER CENT. CROP

Every possible assistance and encouragement must be given Ontario farmers to successfully get out a 100% hay crop, as well as harvesting all other crops. Secondary School students are being asked to lend a hand to harvest these crops. City youths who are not gainfully employed on munitions and allied war services and high school and University students, have and are still responding to the urgent call of the Farm Service Force. They are setting aside their tennis rackets, golf clubs, badminton sets, etc., in order to meet the call to duty.

The practical suggestion has been made to Director MacLaren that bus-ines men and industry release alternately their male help at least one day a week to assist the farmers harvest their hay and grain. This would be specially applicable to smaller cities and towns whose residents are in closer touch with the farm population than those in larger cities. With the necessary co-operation forthcoming, no trouble should be experienced in marshalling what labour is available to supply the farmers' immediate needs.

The slogan of the Farm Service Force campaign is "We Lend a Hand." If this telling slogan were embraced by all available patriotic and loyal Canadians, without doubt, farmers' requirements will be met and unquestionably Ontario's Farm Service Force campaign will attain its objective and go "over the top."

SOW MILLET NOW FOR HAY, PASTURE

With the hay crop likely to be short in many countries due to continued dry weather, farmers might be well advised to consider the merits of Millet as either hay or pasture, says the Ont. Dept. of Agriculture.

Millet should be sown during the first half of June on well-prepared soil at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds of seed per acre, depending on variety and size of seed. Some of the varieties grown are Empire, Siberian, Hungarian and Common.

The crop can be pastured when one foot high or cut for hay when it comes into head. Some varieties will be ready for hay in about eight weeks from time of seeding.

Millet is not particularly high in feeding value, but they will produce a large amount of roughage which can be used to advantage in conjunction with alfalfa or other legumes.

Marrowstern kale makes good fall pasture. It is not readily injured by frost and will furnish pasture for cattle later than most other crops, if the snow keeps off.

This crop can be sown in drills 24 to 30 inches apart, using 1½ to 2 pounds of seed per acre. Seed should be sown six to eight weeks before the crop is required for pasture.

INSTALLMENTS

You can buy your Victory Bonds by instalments—ten percent down; the rest on easy terms over six months. Pledge your credit and buy all the Victory bonds you can, on the instalment plan. When you have paid for them, your dollars will be earning a good interest return. Your canvasser, bank, trust company or Victory Loan headquarters will explain and take your order.

HELP TO KEEP THE "FRONT LINE" AWAY FROM YOUR DOORSTEP

Urge Your Menfolk to Buy Victory Bonds NOW

You can no longer depend upon the Atlantic Ocean for protection. Any day between breakfast time and noon, a bombing plane can fly from Greenland to our own Maritimes and Quebec—a mere matter of 5 hours; to Winnipeg in less than 9 hours, to Vancouver in 10½ hours. From German-occupied France, bomb-laden planes can carry destruction to Toronto, Niagara, Ottawa and Montreal in less than 10 hours. Night and day, in the British Isles and on the sea, in and out of uniform, men defend your home from attack as surely as though they stood and fought at your own doorstep. Will you help to supply them with tools to carry on the fight—your fight? Will you help to make certain that there shall never be an "occupied" Canada?

Your Government needs some of your savings to buy more ships, planes and tanks—munitions of war that will hurry the return of our men to their homes, insure our way of life. Lend your money by buying Victory Bonds NOW!

The money you invest in Victory Bonds will come back to you with interest. Lend your money. We must win this war. Lend to preserve the things that money cannot buy. Urge your menfolk to protect your home by investing in Victory Bonds now. All that you hold dear is threatened.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the canvasser who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Canvasser, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

Their trip was very enjoyable and instructive and covered about two thousand miles.

Entered Into Rest

WILLIAM McMULLEN

The death of an old and highly respected resident of Rawdon Township, in the person of William McMullen, who for the past seventeen years has been postmaster at Harold, occurred at his home on Sunday, following a lingering illness.

Born in the Township of Thurlow on April 10th, 1868, the deceased was a son of the late Robt. McMullen and Margaret Townsend, and was 73 years of age. Leaving Thurlow, he lived in Huntingdon Township for three years and Springbrook for thirteen years, before coming to Harold, where he has conducted a grocery store and acted as postmaster for the past seventeen years. On November 29th, 1893, he married Ida R. Papst, of Rawdon. Fraternally he was a member of the Masonic, Oddfellow and Orange Orders.

Left to mourn besides his sorrowing widow are one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Brady, Harold, and three sons, Wm. McMullen, Jr., Harold; Chas. McMullen, Niagara, Ont., and Earl McMullen, Copper Cliff; four brothers, John, of British Columbia, Bruce, of Airways, Alta; Charles, of Oakland, Cal., and James McMullen, of Holloway, and two sisters, Mrs. Jane Wenger, of Belleville, and Mrs. Elizabeth Atwood, of B.C. Three sisters predeceased him.

The funeral took place from his late residence to Bethel United Church on Tuesday, June 17th, where service was conducted by Rev. H. W. Young, of Springbrook, assisted by Rev. Jas. E. Beckel.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Bailey, John Runnalls, Louis Wilson, Carman Sine, Albert C. Cook, Clarence Runnalls, all of Harold, Ont. Interment in Stirling Cemetery.

ALBERT B. FINKLE

The funeral of the late Albert B. Finkle was held at the home of his great-nephew, Mr. Burton Morton, sixth concession of Rawdon on Friday afternoon.

His pastor, Rev. J. E. Beckel conducted the service and read the hymns. Mr. and Mrs. George Watson sang "Where the Gates Swing Outward Never."

The deceased was a valued member of L.O.L., 172 Wellman's and the Orange members were in charge of the service at the grave.

The bearers were Messrs. Walter Scott, Boulter Johnson, John Fletcher, Charles Treverton, Gerald Hyde and Roy Finkle.

Interment was made in White's cemetery, Sidney in the family plot.

GEORGE WAYMARK

Mr. George Waymark, passed away at the home of Mr. David Burditt, Mill Street, Stirling, where he made his home with his son, Albert C. Waymark, on Thursday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Mr. Waymark, who in July would have celebrated his 71st birthday was born in Belleville, going to Belmont township with his parents in the year 1879, and resided there and in Havelock until the death of his wife, when he came to Stirling to reside with his son.

He was married to Clara Presley of Bonarlaw, who predeceased him two years ago, this September. In his younger life he worked as a mason with his father, later being employed on the Canadian Pacific Railway as foreman over bridge and building. About six years ago, he retired from the C.P.R. and since then has spent his time enjoying life at home.

Besides his son Albert of Stirling, he leaves to mourn his loss two sisters, Mrs. William Backus of Smith's Falls and Mrs. Thomas Curtis of Havelock, and five brothers, Ben of Moose Jaw, Will of Shannanvoo, Sask., and Jesse, Albert and Clarence of Havelock.

Mr. Waymark was a staunch member of the St. John's Anglican Church,

ST. JOHNS TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

Agency Frankford was separated from Stirling and its Services supplied from Trenton. In 1878 the new Mission of Marmora was consigned to the pastoral care of Rev. C. M. Harris, leaving Stirling just one outstation at Rawdon. To this Parish came the Rev. T. Godden, who laboured there for ten years. Under his supervision St. Thomas' Church, Eighth Line, was built and the Rectory in Stirling purchased, as well as a bell and organ for St. John's Church. The Rev. R. J. Harvey was the next incumbent, entering upon his duties in 1889. In 1890 a beautiful Rood Screen was placed in the Church in memory of the late John and Elizabeth Bygott by the members of their family.

The following clergy served in the Parish between 1892 and 1900: Rev. G. A. V. Rollin, Rev. W. H. Smythe, Rev. A. L. Geen, Rev. S. Daw, Rev. F. Newham and Rev. H. J. Spencer. In 1899 the Parish of Rawdon was formed from the Parishes of Stirling and Marmora and in the following year Stirling and Frankford were united again and the Rev. J. H. H. Coleman appointed incumbent. In 1904 the present Rectory was purchased and the Parish reported to be in a sound financial condition. In 1905 the Rev. B. F. Byers was appointed Rector and during his incumbency many changes have taken place in the congregation and many beautiful and serviceable gifts presented to the Church. Through the efforts of Mr. Byers a beautiful oak altar was placed in the Sanctuary. Brass vases were presented by Marion Moore, Helen E. Boldrick and Dorothy B. Moore in 1909 and a Credence Table in Oak presented by the Chancel Guild in 1910. In this year, through a gift from the late Geo. E. Cryer an enlargement of the Vestry was built and called the Geo. E. Cryer Memorial Hall. A beautiful Brass Cross of excellent design and workmanship was presented to the Church by Mr. John Black in memory of his father and mother. In 1926 a Brass Altar Cloth was presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon in memory of her family and in 1927, Mr. J. T. Belshaw placed in the Church an oak shawl placed in the Church to commemorate the Communion Hall to commemorate the 64th Wedding Anniversary of himself and his wife, Mrs. Mary Buttmer Belshaw, the first marriage ceremony to be performed in the church. In 1930 the church was beautified by three stained glass windows at the east end of the church, the gift of Elizabeth Gordon, in memory of the Preston family.

After over 28 years of faithful service to the Parish, the Rev. B. F. Byers retired in May, 1933, and was followed by Rev. A. S. McConnell, in June, 1940, Rev. L. Harding, the present Rector was appointed to the parish.

On June 19th, 1936, the Parish Hall was dedicated and the fine stone structure was completed the same year.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

REV. N. R. STOUT OF GANANOQUE DELIVERS IMPRESSIVE
MESSAGES AT BOTH SERVICES

After several weeks of preparation the congregation of St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, celebrated the 29th Anniversary of the building of the church. Special music by the combined choirs of Trinity, Frankford and St. John's, under the direction of Rev. L. Harding, added greatly to the interesting messages brought to the large gatherings by Rev. N. R. Stout, of Gananoque, who was the special preacher for the occasion. Mrs. Harry Morrow presided at the organ console. The church was very artistically decorated for these special services with flowers of many colours adorning the chancel and altar.

The morning service was marked by a deep interest and devotion and all were in a reverent expectant attitude. Well known hymns were chosen for the congregation to sing and everyone entered into this part wholeheartedly. At the offertory the choir rendered the anthem, "Send Out Thy Light" in a most impressive manner.

Rev. N. R. Stout, based his remarks on St. Matthew, 16: part of verses 15, 16 and 18: "But whom say ye that I am," "Thou art the Christ, the son of the living God," and "upon this rock I will build my church." Jesus was the greatest personage and the centre of attraction of the people in Galilee wherever he went. But even though they realized he was a great man their answers, unlike Peter's, were incomplete. Upon St. Peter's answer Jesus Christ placed his approval with the words "Upon this Rock I will build my church." Is our answer as direct as that of St. Peter's? Does Jesus Christ find it possible to build upon that faith of ours? We should make the same confession of faith. Upon that foundation, with Christ as the corner stone, the church we know today was built. For the past eighty years St. John's congregation has taken its part in building that church, stated Rev. Stout, who paid tribute to the faith and courage of the church members and their forefathers. We are challenged today with the same question as Peter and we should be explicit in our answer. The continuation of Democracy in the world depends upon how much we put into our answer. May Jesus find in us that rock, that faith, upon which the Church is founded.

Sunday Evening
A good congregation was on hand again in the evening to welcome the preacher. In his address he urged his hearers to push forward, and never to slacken their efforts. The older ones who feel that their time of activity is at an end, must still push on, training the younger ones so that they in their turn can carry on the work. There must never be any stopping. Gen. 1:1. "In the beginning, God." The preacher said that if God had not been in the beginning, Christianity would not have stood the test of years as it has.
The combined choirs rendered as a special number "Saviour When Night Invades the Skies," with the solos being taken by Rev. L. Harding. The Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis were also sung in anthem form.

JOINS LOCAL FIRM

John O'Neill, of Oakwood, Ontario, has accepted a position with R. B. Duffin, local undertaker and furniture dealer, and assumed his duties on Monday of this week. ### TO RESIDE HERE

Mr. Thomas Locke and Mrs. Anna Cumming were married at Belleville June 18th. Mr. and Mrs. Locke will be by the Rev. Dr. Semple on Wednesday leave on an extended trip after which they will reside in Stirling, where Mr. Locke has purchased the property of Miss Jennie Clements.

OVER THE TOP IN VICTORY LOAN

Stirling and district went over the top in the Victory Loan 1941 Campaign. Huntingdon and Rawdon Townships and Stirling Village were given a quota of $125,000 and although final figures are not available this amount was oversubscribed. The Honour Pennant, signifying that the quota had been reached, has been hoisted beneath the pledge flag which has floated in the breeze from the flag pole on top of the community building since the opening of the campaign.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE

The Sacrament of Baptism was administered at St. John's Church, on Sunday morning, when Nancy Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Prince, was baptized.

PURCHASES GROCERY

A business deal of interest was completed recently when Mr. F. E. Bartlett disposed of his grocery business to Mr. A. K. Stinson, of Warkworth, Ont., who took possession this (Thursday) morning. Citizens of Stirling and community will join in welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Stinson and daughter to their midst.

MT. PLEASANT WINS LEAGUE

LAST YEAR'S CHAMPIONS WIN
TWO GAMES THIS WEEK—
STIRLING TIED FOR THIRD

Mount Pleasant softballers finished in first place in the Rawdon Softball League by virtue of their wins over Stirling and Springbrook this week. Glen Ross took second place while Springbrook and Stirling are tied for the third play-off position, with one more game to be played. The dates of the play-offs have not been announced, but it is expected they will open next week.

In the softball game played Thursday, June 19th, between Mt. Pleasant and Stirling, the locals came out second best in a game which was not good—not bad. It was fairly close up to the end of the third inning with the score 3-2 in favor of Stirling, but in their half of the fourth, Mt. Pleasant went ahead by scoring four runs.

The game was featured by heavy hitting for Mt. Pleasant and poor fielding by the locals, both in the in and out fields. Both teams in their half of the third had men called out after hitting homers. Foster for Stirling, when Bill McGee paced him down to second, and Heath, of Mt. Pleasant when their coach chased him over the plate.

Mount Pleasant put the game in the bag in their half of the 5th, when they batted all round, scoring six runs. Stirling came back with one, making it 12 to five at the end of the 5th, when time was called. May fanned 3, Potts, 5, left on bases, Mt. Pleasant, 2; Stirling 7. Umpires, Connelly at plate, Cranston on bases. The game between Stirling and Springbrook which was scheduled for tonight, (Thursday) has been postponed.

TUESDAY'S GAME

On Tuesday Mount Pleasant defeated Springbrook on their home diamond by a score of 18 to 7 to clinch first place. The game was featured by heavy hitting by both teams and some air-tight pitching by Bedford, who relieved Potts, on the mound for Mt. Pleasant, after Springbrook had scored five runs in the first inning and looked to be sure winners. A homer by Don Rodgers with one on accounted for Springbrook's other tallies.

IS YOUR AUTO SAFE?

Is your automobile safe to drive? Due to the curtailment of the manufacture of new cars there is an increase in the number of ancient jalopies on the highways and the above question is one that should be answered by the drivers of many of them, before they are permitted to jeopardize the lives of other motorists.

In the horse and buggy days, says an exchange, if a man wanted to hitch Nellie up to a buggy whose wheels were about to drop off, it was nobody's business but his own. If the wheels did drop off nobody was hurt but the driver, or the persons with him.

Things are much different today with thousands of cars, capable of travelling at high rates of speed, on the move. The failure of the steering gear, or the brakes of some old crate of ancient vintage or a blowout of a tire may result in fatal injuries to not only its occupants but to others as well. Modern conditions impose an obligation upon all car owners to be sure that their cars are safe to drive.

HELP NEEDED — NOW!

Can you sew? Can you knit?

Do you want to help the gallant people of Britain?

Here's another chance. And it comes as the result of a very special call for help from Herbert Morrison, who as Minister of Home Security, is in charge of Britain's Civil Defense Services—air-raid wardens, war police, auxiliary firemen, ambulance drivers, rescue squads, and men and women in other fields of war endeavor.

"Our men and women need knitted comforts badly," he says. "They are working under incredible difficulties and dangers to save their fellow men and women. They are fighting fires; driving ambulances; doing rescue work; caring for the injured; digging out the victims. All of them work ceaselessly. The civilian men and women are standing side by side with our fighting forces."

They need warm clothes. They need woollen caps to fit under their steel helmets. Warm sweaters to help fight the damp and chill of long nights under bombfire. They need heavy stockings. And gloves. They need clothing of all kinds.

The women of Britain are working superbly to help the bombed out civilians. The women of Canada have sent most generously. But the need is growing greater week by week. The men and women of the voluntary services need more—and more—MORE.

Will you set aside a definite time each day during the long summer days and evenings to knit or sew for these men and women who need what you can send them so much? Knit sweaters, balacava helmets, scarves, mittens, socks. Make warm skirts; underclothing; slacks—anything you think would be useful for a man or woman fighting under the conditions you know they are facing.

Will You Answer the Call?—Will you sew or knit now—in order that the fighting men and women of Britain may have warm comforts in the coming winter?

The call has come direct to Canadian women!

KEEP SMILING!

Keep smiling! If things go wrong, as they are sure to, sometimes, perhaps there is trouble on every side and you are almost ready to give up. If you carry your burden in your face, you will only sadden the lives of your friends. While there is plenty of trouble, remember, doubt will only add to your burden. Keep smiling! There may be times to weep, but the time to smile is when the clouds are the darkest. The darker they are the more welcome is the light of a smile. It cheers, it encourages, and helps to banish fear. Try it!

THE FOOL SEASON

The fool season lasts for twelve months of every year. In the Fall the fool who "didn't know it was loaded" occupies the spotlight. In the winter the one who starts the fire with the coal oil can is not yet extinct, even if the person who looks for a gas leak with a lighted catch runs him a close race for a place in the obituary column.

What Others Say

Highways Too Bad for Photos

Condition of the provincial highways in Eastern Ontario is the explanation of why no pictures of summer resorts in this part of the province appear on the weekly road bulletin so expensively printed and distributed by the Highways Department.—Almonte Gazette.

DIFFERENT, ALL RIGHT

viewing or leading his troops.

—Christian Science Monitor

IT WOULD BE!

It would be just our luck to have the German bombers drop bombs on every place in England except the spot occupied by one Rudolf Hess.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

But in the Summer the fool who experiments with a canoe leads all the rest. His season is just climbing to its height. Of course, who rocks the boat is a full brother. You will find both of them in the news columns in the morgue quite often. Moral: Don't be a fool.

SO ALSO IS THE VILLAGE

Business never stays the same. One does not need to think hard to remember grand old firms which have gradually disintegrated for not keeping abreast of the times. In many instances, not only is the village blacksmith gone, but so also is the village. The horse will remain a useful animal but the buggy is becoming a museum piece. Other industries of the horse-and-buggy era have survived—where they have survived—mainly because of the resourcefulness, adaptability, alertness and energy of certain people in that industry.

The printed word goes on forever, but from decade to decade it is never the same industry. It survives because printing has become a universal human need. Even radio is not a threat, for radio's contribution to the world's need for information has been simultaneousness, and that only. In other respects, radio is a poor substitute for printing. So long as the printing industry retains its ability to keep abreast of the wishes of its consumers, who are the literate people of the world, it need fear no rival.

The needs of the printing industry are forever to resist the temptation to stay in the same groove. New and better and more efficient means of production must be gladly embraced. Sales promotion must ever be adaptable. Sales departments must ever find new customers and new ways of serving old customers, for old customers die and old needs of surviving customers die also.

It is this filling the sales loss due to the demise of customers and customers' needs that inspires these words, for the printing industry, as much as any other industry, will find, and in some measure has found, that conditions of war are not the conditions of peace. In many instances the demand for printed matter, of the kinds which have become standard in so many plants, will tend to lessen as the war continues. The simple explanation is that industries which find it difficult to meet demands for products, directly or indirectly for war purposes, inevitably tend to lessen their output of sales literature. The effect on the printing industry will be serious unless the printing industry finds other business to take up the slack.—The Printed Word.

CURRENT COMMENT

After a man gets into trouble it is easy for him to see how he might have kept out of it.

The eastern part of the country may soon be enjoying gasless Sundays as a result of the war. Motorists can sit quietly at home, like olden days.

Some crops in the district may be light but the crop of June brides is said to break all records opines the Fergus News-Record. The same may be said to apply in the Stirling district.

The Marmora Herald reports large numbers of June Beetles in that section and predicts one of the worst outbreaks of white grubs two years hence that part of the province has ever experienced. So far as we can learn this district has been spared this plague.

Events of recent weeks have clarified matters as regards opponents in the world war. Admiral Darian of France is out in the open as an active supporter of Hitler's, while the latter by his attack on Russia has revealed his attitude towards Stalin and his followers. It will be interesting to see what action Turkey will take in the attack on her neighbour. Hitler's violation of his agreement with Russia should impress the Turkish government and people with the fact that he is wholly unreliable and that they or no other country are safe from invasion by this war maniac.

If there are any employers of labour in Stirling or district, who have so far failed to register with the Unemployment Insurance Commission, they should do so at once as the plan goes into effect on July 1st. It is compulsory for all employers, other than those of the exempt classes, to have all employees registered in order that the plan will be in full operation on the above date. Under the proposed system contributions will be made by both employer and employees and are paid by the purchase of stamps by the employer from the local

GIVE THE FARMER HIS SHARE

It has been announced from Ottawa that bacon prices have been raised 75 cents at Canadian seaboard. The Government should see, also, that the farmer gets a fair share of this advance in price and that all of it does not go to the packers and transportation companies.—Durham Chronicle.

DID THEIR PART

The authorities in the government cannot but be impressed by the "all out" support given to the Victory Loan by the weekly newspapers across Canada. Granted an amount of paid advertising has been placed in the weekly papers, yet the publicity given without any thought of recompense has been marvellous. The response of the smaller subscribers located in the small urban and the rural centres has fully justified the use of the weekly press in this campaign.—Carlton Place Canadian.

IT COULD WAIT

The Federal Government has paid over one-half million dollars for a brewery in Ottawa, the reason given being that its removal was in the "plan to beautify the nation's capital." This reason seems a bit "frothy" and some day soon the Government must be checked in making such unnecessary to the war effort expenditures. People are not going to give, willingly, their hard-earned cash in different loans, taxes, etc., if it is going to be squandered for such ridiculous projects "as beautifying the nation's capital."—Smith's Falls Record News.

DUE FOR OVERHAULING

A friend of ours visited the Canadian House of Commons the other day and found slightly over fifty of the 245 members in their seats. Where were the rest and what were they doing to earn their $4000.00 a year? One Federal member had the nerve recently to suggest that their expenses, while in Ottawa, should be deducted before they are subject to Income Tax. Our whole political system is due for an overhauling and we have an idea it's going to get it after this war's over. Canadian people have almost reached the limit of their patience in some respects.—Tweed News.

STAGGERED HOLIDAYS

The Board of Education has advised local authorities to stage school holidays.

This is done so that school children can help on the land with hay-making, the gathering of peas and fruit, and the harvest.

To facilitate work on farms during the summer, schoolmasters are asked to arrange for camps.

It is anticipated that the demand for youthful labor, which could be satisfied through the schools, will be greater than ever this season.—London News Chronicle.

THE SCOTS DON'T QUISE

We seem to have people in high places confirming our early impression that a rat doesn't change his characteristics because he happens to sneak into a lion's cage.

When the staid and proper Anthony Eden refused to talk to the "so-and-so" it indicates his belief that the conversion of Rudeawful Hess is neither sincere nor lasting.

A fantastic possibility suggests itself, which we haven't noticed more than hinted at, but which is as likely as any of the Hess guesses.

Hess contacted a former acquaintance, the Duke of Hamilton.

He knew the duke was a descendant of the Black Douglas and descended from a line that had married into the Royal blood of Scotland. Among other things a Hamilton had married Mary, a daughter of King James II. of Scotland.

Remember Bonnie Prince Charlie? So why not establish a Quisling duke in Scotland, a Quisling of royal blood, why not put a Scot on the throne of England?

Since Britain cannot be beaten down on the field of battle, why not get at them from behind and within?

One thing the Hesses and other Nazis overlooked is that, regardless of their many differences, Scots, from the Duke of Hamilton down to the David McLean, would rather fight and die than sell out the freedom of their land to a foreigner, even if it meant that they would become a puppet prince.

The Duke told the British Government about the first letter from Hess.

The fantastic Hessian plot was nothing but a little squib—and so is Hess—and so would all those Nazi kangarooes be if the friends of freedom would stick together.—Thomas Richard Henry in Toronto Telegram.

Overseas Mail

The following is a letter in part received by Mrs. Vernon Matthews from Major E. W. Matthews, who is overseas.

Stirling, Scotland

Dear Mae, Vernon and Lillian, It seems like old times to be heading my letter from Stirling, but here I am for the night, just below Stirling Castle and resting for the night. Last night I stayed at Newcastle-on-Tyne at the Grand Hotel there, but I was late and tired riding and didn't take time to write anyone. So since both places are dear to me, I will write you first. Sorry I didn't the address of your people in Newcastle.

But I'll begin farther south with my letter. Last week I received the appointment of educational advisor with the Canadian Forestry Corps and other Canadian forces in Scotland. The Administration of this is by the Canadian Legion, headed by Dr. Chatwin, the director of education. I have been given a car, a nice little Ford, which does 44 miles to the gallon and quite a comfortable car.

After lunch with my friend in Leatherhead, on Tuesday, the 20th, I started out with the back seat packed high with my trunk and other gear. I had spent an hour of the morning planning my route generally and the first day particularly, and armed with a map or book of maps I set myself the task of telling the driver where to go. His home is in Newcastle-on-Tyne, by the way, hence that place just had to be included. We went by way of Kingston-on-Thames, past Kew Gardens and through Ealing and the north circular route through the West and North of London to Barnet where we got onto the Great North Road.

At St. Alban's, I thought my location was not correct for a map is no good unless you know where you are. I went into a garage to get my bearings. An electric heater in the office got too close to my trouser leg and scorched it rather severely. That was our first and only mishap so far. We were alright as to our road, so continued on through Luton, Bedford, Finedon, and Kettering to Leicester where I called and had dinner with Mrs. Selby's sister, Gladys, who is a nurse there. Being blossom time, this part of the trip was most enjoyable from the beauty of the fruit trees and the flowering peach trees, an ornamental variety of marvellous blossoms. The English gardens were tempting sights to make us drive slowly with the map reading we just had to be careful of the road forks and turnings. You know every sign post is shown and only once on the whole journey did I see the name of any place mentioned. People give wrong directions on purpose to enquirers. After leaving London I don't believe we saw a half dozen bomb holes. Of course some of the places had received a little damage, but you would have to hunt for them. Leicester had a little compared to some other cities I had seen previously. Wednesday morning we started north again through Nottingham which like Leicester is about 275,000 population, then to Doncaster where we varied our route through Wakefield to Bradford to call on some people whom I had met near London who had moved north but they were not at home. So after lunch, we moved on. This part is practically a continuous city, for miles and could well be called one name and made the largest city in the world. It is somewhat hilly with brilliant green patches on the steep hill-sides. There are iron mines and coal mines everywhere. It seems where there isn't a mine there are huge factories. Everything is coated with black soot, even the sheep at what fields there are. I wish I had had a month to make the trip.

We travelled after lunch Wednesday north east through Darlington and Durham to Newcastle-on-Tyne. Oh yes, and Ripon, Yorkshire, where Canadians were in hospital in the last war. The highways in the north part of England are much straighter. In the south they build the new ones with curves. At Newcastle-on-Tyne, it was raining so we took to see the Roman Wall. I let north of Gosforth for the night and this morning came in at ten for me. In the meantime I managed a haircut after breakfast. Newcastle-on-Tyne seems a city of monuments and parks and I was quite interested in their large bridge.

But the best part of the trip was to-day when we came north along the Tweed, where we entered Scotland and had lunch, including some short bread, of course. Then we followed the coast around to Edinburgh. I had difficulty in getting films for my camera, but made better use of it today. It will not do justice to the scenery for the colouring of the Scottish landscapes is grand. The air was clear and you would just gasp with amazement to see this country.

We came on after a half-hour stop on Princess Street to Lillithgow, where we had a glimpse of the birthplace of Mary Queen of Scots, then Falkirk, through Bannockburn to Stirling. I haven't mentioned much. The Trent, Edinburgh Castle, the Cheviot Hills, famous battle fields in Northumberland, all this we had to pass for there is a war on. Here the place is filled with soldiers. Accommodation is at a premium. It is a city of about 25,000, well built despite its age and the view from the castle is superb. I am running out of suitable adjectives, but I have enjoyed the trip immensely and hope to repeat it again sometime. To-morrow I go about 60 miles north to Blair Athol, near the pass of Killecrankie, where I am to spend a week with an area of troops in the Forest of Athol. Then I go to Inverness to see the head of the Forestry Corps and get an idea where to find everyone, etc. Inverness will be about the centre of my work and probably my headquarters. Anyway I will be in the Highlands for the summer.

THE WEEKLY NEWS

BY MURDIE McDONALD

Canadians have loyally supported military hospital. The transfer from the Victory Loan of 1941, and equipped with the necessary money, the Government may continue to step up its program of production for war that must be won. But the Canadians at home who are working to support Canadians and their allies abroad have not concluded their work with the closing of the Victory Loan.

The enlisted soldier does not return after winning one battle. He must stick until the end. Just so will the great civilian army of Canada keep on the job to provide the tools.

Thrill will be the keynote for the whole nation from now on, so that citizens will be ready again and again if necessary, to buy more bonds, more War Savings certificates.

Taxation in Canada is now heavy and may become heavier, but the great spirit of co-operation displayed thus far in support of voluntary saving and voluntary lending is keeping us away from compulsory savings and lendings as the Germans know it.

Democratic principles are still holding up in Canada.

And as each month swells the total of cash reserves being set aside by hundreds of citizens in every province, the picture of post-war adjustment becomes brighter and brighter. The money which is being saved now will be a God-send to the economic well-being of Canada when it is reclaimed and put to work in behalf of peacetime industry.

With J. P. Bickell flying to Canada from the old country, the old question as to Premier Hepburn's ambition to join with Beaverbrook, Bennett and Bickell in war work in the old land has been reviewed. Mr. Hepburn has never conceded his desire to get into the thick of the fight. At present he will neither affirm nor deny that he contemplates going to Britain. He has all along expressed impatience at what he terms the laggard quality of Canada's war effort. Those who know his temperament are quite convinced that he would have no hesitation in giving up his work in Ontario and proceeding to Britain if an invitation reached him from either Churchill or Beaverbrook. His cable of congratulations to Bennett on his elevation to the peerage may or may not be significant. Mr. Hepburn is a very close friend of J. P. Bickell and no doubt would feel quite at home in being associated with him in war work in the old land. In the meantime, Mr. Hepburn is reticent in regard to the matter and all Mr. Bickell has to say is that time is on the side of the Allies.

James Franceschini, who came to Canada many years ago from Italy and worked as a dollar-a-day teamster, is now in Christie Street Hospital. Aided by his own shrewdness and industry coupled with fat Government contracts he amassed a large fortune in Canada. When the war broke out it was ascertained that Franceschini entertained Fascist sympathies and despite his millions he was sent to an internment camp. Several attempts by men prominent in public life to secure his release have proved futile. (Franceschini was released last Monday.)

It is now said that there is nothing suspicious about his removal to a

BOWLING NEWS

Irvia Lisagor in the Chicago Daily News digs up the following concerning the shady past of lawn bowling:

Playing at "bowles" in the days of Edward III or Richard II. was worse than hanging around the pool halls of a later day. You not only were a "disolute gamster", but you were jeopardizing your skill as an archer, the bow being a valuable weapon just in case the Spaniards or French wanted to pick a fight. National defence had to be served then, too, and detracting from the popularity of archery by bowling on the green was no way of serving it.

Even when the bow fell into disuse after the invention of gunpowder and firearms, lawn bowling still was risky business. Henry VII, an indulgent despot, imposed fines of 6s 8d upon anyone caught at it, even though he himself waded on his skill in clandestine contests in the backyards of the palace. Queen Mary banned it as an excuse for "unlawful assemblies, convectives, seditions and conspiracies," and Charles I. drove his old man frantic by playing for 1,000 pound stakes and inspiring the couplet that he "drank from the bowl and bowl'd for what he drank."

They say that Sir Francis Drake was bowling on Plymouth Hoe as the Spanish Armada churned up the Channel and that he insisted upon finishing his game before going out for battle with the invaders. A friend discovered Calvin Bowling at Geneva, and Samuel Pepys often mentioned finding the great of his day rolling the biased balls across the turf.

REDUCE RAILWAY FARES FOR SERVICEMEN

In future all soldiers, sailors, or airmen in Canada who are on embarkation leave or annual furlough will get railway fare at one-third of the former rate as a result of an announcement in Ottawa by the Minister of National Defence, Hon. J. L. Ralston. Since the original rate granted servicemen worked out at an average of 1 1/2 cents a mile and ran as low as 1.03 cents a mile, it means that servicemen on the above-mentioned leaves will ride on Canadian trains for little more than a third of a cent a mile. The serviceman will pay one-third the cost of the ticket, the railway absorbs a third, and the Government takes up the other third. The only occasion on which free transportation was granted in the last war was when troops were proceeding on harvest leave, and that was granted only in 1915 and 1916, being effective only the first 300 miles.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS EXPLAINED

It is understood in well-informed circles on Parliament Hill that future shipments of wheat to Japan will be considered by the Government before any permit will be granted. Moreover, the action which the Government had taken in this matter in the past was an action which the Government of the United Kingdom was anxious should be taken by Canada at this time. This is the official explanation.

GOVERNMENT'S POLICY ON DECORATIONS

In view of a Viscountcy being bestowed upon the former Prime Minister of Canada, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, the question has been raised on Parliament Hill as to the Government's policy on decorations or honours. The answer is that there is no change of policy in this matter on the part of the present Government in Ottawa. There are two kinds of honours in the eyes of officialdom, one being a title and the other a decoration. It has never been the intention of the Government in any way to deprive the fighting forces of any recognition for gallantry, but the others were ruled out. In other words, the attitude is that a citizen of Canada can accept a decoration for gallant service, and Indeed, there is official recognition that such decorations have the psychological effect of lifting the morale of the fighting forces more than anything else one could imagine.

CANADA'S PROSPECTIVE PARTNERSHIP IN THE GREATEST ECONOMIC POOL

Although it would appear that the House of Commons and Senate will stand adjourned until the beginning of November, yet this does not mean that important and history-making news will not emanate from Ottawa now. In fact, the impression exists in the capital that if any real or threatened emergency should arise, both the House of Commons and Senate would be summoned back immediately on very short notice. Furthermore, within the next few weeks almost any kind of vital news may come out of the capital as developments move at a rapid pace in this war. This means, also, that if the St. Lawrence power and waterway agreement is sanctioned at Washington, Canada would not want to hold up the work by delaying ratification until the fall of the season. So there is little doubt a long Parliament Hill that the legislators would be called very quickly if anything happened and almost anything can happen during this summer, including a request by the Canadian Government that the House of Commons and Senate shall ratify the

A SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATE

A supplementary estimate was prepared to provide for the continuation in the recess of the inquiry of the committee on war expenditures where-in it is stated that the 22 members of this committee shall be paid $5 a day plus living expenses, probably at least $10 a day additional, without payment for Sundays. It is quite possible that this committee will travel about in order to inspect plants at first hand and this implies that it will not concentrate all its attention on the inquiry in the capital.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND PUBLIC UTILITIES

An official announcement has been made in Ottawa that Canadian Life Insurance Companies are allowed to own and operate public utility companies. Canadian Life Insurance Companies have been restricted by delaying ratification until the fall of the Insurance Act of 1910 and other statutes, including the Canadian and British Insurance Acts, 1932, from acquiring more than 30 per cent of the common stock, or of the total of any corporation. Control of any corporation acquired before 1911 may continue to be exercised thereafter.

AT LAST!

A Horse-Sense Horse Feed!

● The Quaker Oats Company, due to a widespread demand for a high grade horse feed, at a reasonable price, has perfected Quaker Thorobred Horse Feed. This reliable feed is carefully compounded to meet the bodily needs of hard working horses from whom a steady output of energy is required without losing weight or condition.

More Easily Digested

This unique feed is made from choice re-cleaned, crimped oats and barley, cracked corn, wheat bran, alfalfa meal, linseed oil cake meal, soyabean oil cake meal, calcium carbonate, iodized salt and molasses. It is extremely palatable and the processing greatly aids the digestibility, reduction of colic and other ailments to which horses are commonly subject. It is the feed to use if you take pride in the health and appearance of your horses.

WEST HUNTINGDON

Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross Society of the Ridge Road School held a delightful ice-cream and strawberry social on the beautiful lawn of Ever Green factory. Mr. Volney Richardson was chairman for the evening's entertainment which consisted of a chorus by the school, chairman's address, chorus by the Juniors, "Laughing Brook", recitation by Eugene Burrell, musical duet by Marion and Phyllis Hammond, reading by Miss B. Keene, chorus by Senior pupils "Gay as the Rose", Recitation by Joan McCurdy, Solo by Dorothy West, recitation by John Lanigan, duet, Beulah and Lorna Keene; Mr. Philip Carr gave a report of the convention he attended at Easter, Mr. Arthur Wilson presented the Book to Miss Louis McGee.

Miss McGee was judged the best all-round pupil in the school for 1941. The book is a gift from Mr. Geo. A. Kingston of Toronto, and will be presented each year to the best pupil. A chorus by the school and National Anthem closed this part of program. A lunch consisting of ice-cream, strawberries and lemonade, cake also was served. Proceeds of the evening amounted to $14.00.

Endeavor's Class Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sables entertained the members of the Endeavors class for their June meeting on Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance present. Mr. Clifford Green was chairman and was assisted method, it does create a mutual in the worship service by Mr. Kenneth Stewart and Mrs. Howard Cooke. Mrs. John Haggerty was the special speaker for the opening and gave a very interesting and instructive address on Nova Scotia in travelogue style. Miss Haggerty gave the story on "How this province received its name. The customs of the people and many of the fine places in the province. She closed her address by appealing to all to help all they can in the Red Cross work.

The appreciation of the class for this fine address was given by Mrs. Sandy McCurdy and Mr. Clayton Wright.

Readings were given by Mrs. Clifford Green and Elmer Post. Mrs. W. J. Fitchett contributed a solo and following Benediction a lunch was served.

A large number of the farmers will complete their hay harvest this week. This is no doubt the earliest of any year as the dry weather has hastened the harvest. The continued dry weather is becoming real serious among the farmers and causing an acute shortage of pasture. Some are contemplating pasturing some of their grain fields.

The neighborly spirit has not been so prominent in many years as it has of recent date, due to the scarcity of farm labourers. Many of the farmers have had to revert back to the old fashioned method of changing work with the next door neighbor, and while this is not rated as the best method, it does create a mutual friendliness among neighbours that has its reward.

The family of the late John Wright have the sympathy of a host of friends in this, their time of sudden and sad bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. William Donald of Minto were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fitchett.

Miss Ruby Bray and Barbara Smith of Belleville, were Wednesday guests of Mrs. William Bray.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moorcroft, Melbourne and Warren, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Tom Moorcroft, of Hassard's Corners.

Mrs. Florence Stewart and Kenneth were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Charlesworth, of Stockdale.

Mrs. Peter McInroy, has returned home after spending past few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Albert Campbell of Anson.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wilson and Mrs. M. A. Adams were Mr. and Mrs. W. Nottall of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. W. Howell, of Newfoundland; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bush and Gwen; Mrs. Henry Burditt of Sydney; Mrs. Mary Wright, of town. Monday guests of Mrs. Edward Pitman and George were: Mr. Charles E. Dawson of Batavia, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pendire; Miss Mary Natress of Mill Brook.

Mrs. A. Gunning of Stirling, spent a few days recently with her daughter Mrs. Mae Sables.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McCurdy and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Kingston and Velma of Palermo, made several calls in community recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex McInroy, Mr. and Mrs. John McInroy, attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burditt, of Allisonville, on Tuesday.

A/C and Mrs. Jack McQuarry, of Trenton (newlyweds), were Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy McCurdy.

HAROLD

Mr. Charlie McMullen has returned to Niagara Falls, after spending past week with his mother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bailey, spent Thursday at Coe Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Luery, of Myrtle Station, called on the former's sister, Mrs. Martin, Monday evening.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bailey, were Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Bailey and Allan, Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sandercock, of Belleville.

Mrs. Murney Herrington left last week for military training in Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Bailey, spent tea hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons and Miss Goldie Jones Campbellford.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spencer, Roy and Gordon, Brighton, were supper guests Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Spencer.

Miss Ann Rannels, Harold, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay McKeown.

Mrs. Emma MacMullen, Springbrook, is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Higgs, Oshawa, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Metz, of Ottawa, is visiting relatives at Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Mackenzie and Hazel, Burnbrae, Mrs. Alfred Merrill, Campbellford, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer.

Mrs. Emma Summers has returned home after spending a month with relatives at Ottawa.

Miss Jessie Johnson, attended a shower on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Carl Linn, in honour of Miss Leafa Linn, who is a June bride.

Mrs. Lindsay McKeown opened her home on Tuesday, June 17th, for a Red Cross quilting and sixteen ladies attended and two quilts were completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer, spent a couple of days at Havelock and Mrs. Sarah Campney accompanied them home for a holiday.

BETHEL

The home of Mrs. Harry Preston was opened to Bethel Ladies Aid on Thursday afternoon last, when fourteen ladies quilted a quilt, which is for sale. A business meeting was held and it was decided to have a pot-luck dinner and quilting at the home of Mrs. Fred Martin early in July. Offering was taken amounting to $1.66. A vote of thanks was given to the hostess. Lunch was done away with.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sine, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Badgley, Sydney.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Barton, of Havelock, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reid and family were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McMullen.

Mrs. Alex Allen of Montreal is visiting this week-end with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Elliott.

Mr. Nelson Luery, of Stirling, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin on Sunday.

Mrs. B. C. Tucker, returned home on Friday from Belleville hospital much improved in health. Mrs. Roy Shortt and baby returned home on Sunday.

Few were in attendance Sunday afternoon at Bethel church. Plans are being made for a S. S. Picnic sometime in July.

Most of the farmers are through haying, owing to dry weather as it is very short and the gardens and grain are badly in need of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren, spent Friday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Linn's home. "It isn't your church, Morrow, it being Mrs. Elliott's Birthday."

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Stewart Brady in the death of his father, who died Sunday evening.

Some from here have visited the huckleberry rocks and report berries very scarce.

BONARLAW

The Rawdon Branch of The Red Cross shipped to Red Cross Society headquarters, Toronto, last week the following articles: Refugee, 11 quilts, 1 ladies blouse, 1 girls dress, 1 ladies slip, 1 man's coat 1 pair mitts. Army and airforce comforts: 20 pair 2-way mitts, 71 pair socks, 19 sweaters, 1 scarf, 1 pair mitts. Navy Comforts: 2 turtle neck sweaters, 3 scarfs, 7 helmets, 1 pair seamen's socks, 1 pair whole mitts.

The sum of $7.72 was handed to Mrs. Lindsay Tanner, Chairman of Ward 4, a donation from the pupils of Sino school, accompanied by the following letter: "The pupils of Sino school take great pleasure in giving you the enclosed $7.72 to be used in any branch of the Red Cross in which it may be needed. This money has been raised by making breaches and knitting wash clothes. On behalf of the Sino School, signed, Earl Kirkey, Secy. Jr. Red Cross."

On Friday evening of last week the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Church held a strawberry Festival on the rectory lawn which was well attended. A musical concert was then enjoyed by all consisting of an oratorio by the members of Christ Church Male Choir of Belleville, under the leadership of Organist and Choir Leader, Mr. Maybee. The scriptural passages and chants were taken by Rev. C. C. Wright, Rector of Christ Church.

Vacation Delights In Old World Setting

Tourists who previously found the time-mellowed cities of Europe the answer to their vacation problems are today enjoying those same old world delights on their own side of the Atlantic—in old Quebec City where practically every vacation sport and pastime, including golf, tennis, fishing and hunting, combined with the most up-to-date accommodation, awaits the visitor in a medieval setting unique on the North American continent.

Easily accessible by Canadian Pacific rail lines from Montreal, New York, Boston, and other large eastern centres, Quebec is experiencing one of the liveliest seasons in its 300 years of history. The opportunity of attending service in century-old churches, rambling through narrow, cobbled streets, over long-enclosed battlefields, and seeing the colorful "habitant" at work in the fields, is a rare privilege in the new world, and one that Quebec alone can offer.

The ancient dwellings of Quebec's "Lower Town" stand out in sharp contrast to the modern grace of the Chateau Frontenac, popular headquarters for the Quebec visitor. This famed Canadian Pacific hostelry is starting point for many a delightful sight-seeing tour by bus, cab, or lofty, horse-drawn calèche. Within easy distance lie the historic Plains of Abraham, the Citadel, the ancient city walls, the Great Gates, numerous monuments and other interesting landmarks. Further afield the tourist is drawn to the picturesque Isle of Orleans, where farmers still sow by hand, plow by oxen, reap with flail, while women ply ancient hand-looms and spinning wheels. Other nearby attractions include Wolfe's Cove, Quebec Bridge, the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, Montmorency Falls and Kent House, while northward lies the famed Laurentides Park, a vast area of virgin lake, forest and stream country where vacation delights await at every turn.

JOBLIN-LIPSETT

Deer Park United Church chapel, Toronto, arranged with tall standards of pink peonies and delphiniums, was the scene of the marriage Saturday afternoon of Miss Mabel Margaret "Pat" Lipsett, daughter of Mrs. Lipsett and late James Herbert Lipsett, Toronto, to Rev. Kingsley John Joblin of Weston, son of Rev. F. G. Joblin, Port Perry, formerly of Stirling, Rev. G. Stanley Russell officiated, assisted by the groom's father. Robert Crosby played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, R. B. Lipsett, wore a gown of blush white slipper satin made on princess lines, the skirt falling into a fan-shaped train. She wore pearls, the gift of the groom and a heart-shaped halo with finger tipped veil. The bride carried a shower of roses and bouvardia.

Bridal attendants were Miss Helen Toll as maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Joblin, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. They wore similar gowns of forget-me-not blue sheer with fitted midriff and full skirt. They wore matching mittens and on their heads clusters of pink flowers with shoulder veils to match their gowns. Each carried a bouquet of roses and gypsophylla. Rev. Fred H. Joblin, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Rev. D. C. Amos of Brantford and Rev. R. J. McKnight of London.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother who wore cameo rose sheer with corsage of yellow roses and bouvardia. The groom's mother was in liberty blue Nottingham lace with corsage of pink sweet peas and bouvardia. After a motor trip east, the couple will reside on King Street, Weston. The bride travelled in a smart navy sheer with maize eyelet embroidery yoke, maize straw hat. Both are graduates of Victoria College, and the groom is minister of Westminster United Church, Weston.

WRIGHT — At West Huntingdon, on Sunday, June 22nd, 1941, John Wright, aged 59 years. Interment in Stirling cemetery.

MARRIED

GOULD-LINN — On Tuesday, June twenty-fourth, 1941, at the home of the bride's parents, Leafa Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Linn to Arthur Roy Gould, of Guelph, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gould, Stirling.

NEW INSPECTOR APPOINTED

The appointment of Mr. H. H. Loucks, B.A., Principal of Morewood High School, as Public School Inspector for the Inspectorate of Hastings North, Nipissing (in part), and Renfrew (in part), has been announced by the Department of Education beginning September 1st. He succeeds Mr. J. D. Deyell, B.A., Paed., who has been inspector since 1938.

PROCLAIM DAY OF DEDICATION

Sunday, June 29th, is proclaimed a "day of special dedication to national service and sacrifice" in a royal proclamation announced by Hon. Pierre Casgrain, Secretary of State. Heads of churches and clergy of all denominations are requested on June 29th to "bring before our people the duties of citizenship, the justice of our cause and the need for service and sacrifice by all our people for the preservation of our civilization and for the bringing about of a lasting and righteous peace."

STENOGRAPHER'S ERROR

Newspaper publishers are inclined to be philosophical when they are criticized for typographical errors, knowing how easily they occur even in the best of regulated offices. It is comforting to know that we sin in good company, for a Royal Commission appointed by the Government of Ontario has just acknowledged a serious mistake in the copy of its report delivered to the printers.

The Commission is the body headed by Mr. Justice C. P. McTague, whose report on the affairs of the Abitibi Power & Paper Co. was tabled in the Legislature on March 31. In the report, considerable space was devoted to the question of proration of newspaper, a policy which the Commissioners favored as a means of stabilizing the affairs of the Canadian newspaper industry as a whole. In the printed report, the Commission's findings on this question concluded with the following sentence: "We agree with Mr. Clarkson that it should not apply to publisher-owned companies that do not sell in commercial competition."

This qualifying sentence was peculiar in that the chief difficulty in enforcing proration in newspaper production has been the obstinate refusal of publisher-owned mills to prorate. It now appears that, before the report was tabled in the Legislature, the Commissioners had deleted the sentence, leaving their report as recommending newspaper proration without special exceptions. Then something slipped. The sentence was left in the copy of the report sent to the printers and was not discovered until the report was printed and distributed. Now those who received the report are receiving a letter from the office of the Prime Minister, pointing out the unfortunate error.

The letter of correction clears the printer from all blame, which in an affair of this kind is really front-page news. Where the blame should be placed is left unsolved, but internal evidence supports the theory that it should fall on an anonymous stenographer. In the letter of correction, the word "amendments" is spelt "ammdments."

CHANCE TO HELP FARMERS

Mr. E. R. Hall of the Farm Service Branch of the Department of Labor, was in Stirling, on Monday for the purpose of forming a committee to act in connection with the scheme of furnishing vitally necessary assistance to the farmers of this district for the production of food essentials.

A committee composed of Reeve W. C. West, R. A. Patterson and H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative, to which will be added the executive of the Stirling Community Welfare Club, will sponsor the movement here.

The scheme calls for the placing of young men and women on farms for the duration of the war and those employed in other vocations to give all or part of their spare time in harvesting the county's crops.

In short, a man who has a day's leisure on his hands, may register with the proposed committee and work for that day on a farm. Or whole vacations can be spent in the rural districts of the city, providing assistance to hard-up farmers.

LEAVE FOR CAMP NEXT WEEK

Five hundred strong, under command of Lieut-Col. B. C. Donnan, K.C., the 2nd Battalion of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment will leave for summer military camp at Connaught Park in Ottawa some time over the next week-end. A detachment from the Argyll Light Infantry (Tank) Battalion in Belleville, under the command of Lieut-Col. A. B. Gribble, is also scheduled to leave for the Capital City and a summer military training period at the same time.

PRESENTATION TO SOLDIER

On Wednesday, June 18th, a large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rilles Harringtons to bid their son, Murney, good-bye, as he has joined the army. They presented him with a gold wrist watch. The early part of the evening was spent in dancing. At about half past ten order was called. Mr. Roy Bronson read an address and Miss Kathaleen Bronson presented the watch. All joined in singing "For he's a jolly good fellow."

TOP RANK PLOWMEN LEAVE ON "SALADA" TEA TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP

The International Plowing Match held at St. Thomas last year set a new record in the number of entries and attendance. The most coveted prize offered was that for the special class sponsored by the Salada Tea Company and open to all horse plowmen in Junior Plow and classes, who had qualified at branch matches—a six weeks' motor trip to the west coast and back.

It is a coincidence that the trip, along with the gold and silver medals for first and second prizes in this class, was won by two neighbour plowmen, John Liater (left) and Harold Pickett (right) both of Hornby, Ontario. Their journey was planned under the guiding hand of J. A. Carroll, manager of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, and will take them to areas of agricultural interest in the United States and Canada from Toronto to Vancouver. Gordon McGavin (center), another well-known plowman, of Walton, will accompany the winners as guide, companion and manager.

The trip should prove intensely interesting and of great educational value to these three lucky plowmen.

The one country where the five day week was most general was France. France was crushed like a rotten vegetable because, among reasons, the five day week had not given her time to get ready. Now the workers of occupied France have no choice in the matter of hours of work. The factories and guns and airplanes they refused to build for themselves are now being built by them for Hitler—as chains to insure their continued slavery. For their labor, the French workers receive paper money printed for the purpose by Hitler and redeemable, if it is ever to be redeemed, only by the workers themselves. One of the best informed observers of the European scene told The Financial Post in New York the other day, "It is a dangerous illusion that time is on our side. Hitler is actually gaining on us in production of war materials because we on this side of the Atlantic have not yet begun to produce more than a fraction of what we could produce. If we do not hold Hitler with the equipment we can

"A Bit of Bunting"

A Short Short Story

By LESLIE HAMILTON

"You're quite right," I agreed with the gentleman to whom I was talking at the time of Chamberlain's "cap in hand" visit to Godesburg. "There are times when a bold front is the only course to pursue, otherwise the end of it all is a nasty job that's worse for the 'putter off'ers' delay."

"You remember the time of the Vichy troubles in Mexico," my story telling friend went on, "and how the British Government cracked down on them for compensation in the Benson case?"

"Yes, I remember it quite well," recalling how a firm attitude had forced the Mexican Government to recompense Benson's widow for the murder of her husband.

"Well, this incident I'm going to tell you about occurred before that time, but it proves what a healthy respect a national reputation can command in foreign lands, even with illiterate rebels who are usually afraid of nothing."

"Would the time you speak of have been during the Maderia revolution?" I asked the old soldier, a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

"That was the time," the gentleman continued. "I was employed by an American oil company drilling new wells in Sonora, and we had a youngster just out of his teens as our paymaster."

"Bit young for the job, wasn't he?" I commented.

"Yes. But Bob was alright; he a nickel in change."

"Nice gang of playmates," I remarked, filling my pipe and preparing to listen to the meat of the old fellow's yarn.

"We managed to put them off for a couple of days, during which we burned the wires—or, rather, tried to burn the wires to headquarters—begging them to rush us some cash to pay them off."

"Couldn't you get through?"

"Only by going via Mexico City. The wires were down on the other lines, and that was before the radio, remember. No such luck as having a portable transmitting station in those days. When the telegraph went out, you were just cut off from civilization; that's all there was to it."

"What happened when you didn't get the money; or did you get it?"

"The reception committee called on us about midnight of the third day. Started to cut up rough and throw rocks at the freight car, not to mention calling us all the names in the vocabulary of a hard-bitten sailor, and threatening to hang us to the nearest tree if we didn't find the money due them—muy pronto!"

"Bit of a hot spot I should say," dumping the ashes out of my pipe and lighting the dregs again.

"It was hot, all right, and it got warmer as the night dragged on. Some crazy nuts found a bottle of 'tequila,' and when they tasted that stuff they really began to have us worried."

"Did they attack the car?"

"Worse than that. They made torches and tried to burn us out; at least they would have if Bob hadn't grabbed a rifle and fired a few shots over their heads to scare them away."

"That should have sobered them."

"It sobered them, all right. How of the shots polished off a ringleader—and that did it."

"Did you have to kill a few more?"

"We were just getting ready to mop up the lot when a patrol of the rebels on their shaggy ponies rode up and took a hand. Being soldiers of a sort, we decided the best thing we could do was to turn over the situation to them."

"Seems like it was the best move under the circumstances."

"It was—all but one thing. The captain of the outfit, pardon me for calling that cut-throat a captain—arrested Bob and after a mock court-martial sentenced the kid to be shot at sunrise for killing the Mex."

"Phew! That was bad! What did you do then?"

"We argued for a couple of hours, and finally got him to hold off till we could get the nearest American consul to contact rebel headquarters and Washington; but, of all the red-tape merchants I ever saw, that consul was a prize package."

"He should have been able to stop it if the kid was an American citizen," "That's what we thought. But we got around to the next night, and nothing doing; so we held a council of war to talk the situation over. Lucky for us and the kid that we did for it suddenly transpired that Bob was still English, having been born in Liverpool and never having taken out American papers."

"But how did that help? You still had to try and get help from a British Consul."

"That's just what we did. One of us rode twenty miles to the nearest legation, and after convincing him that Bob was English, the Johnnie said: 'All right! Those Mexicans won't shoot him—I'll see to that!'"

"Good work!" I thrilled to the old man's story, being a British subject who had experienced the protection of the Flag in foreign climes myself.

"It didn't look so good, though, when that consular chap talked to the 'Mex' captain, whose gang were hungry for a Roman holiday, and it looked as though we'd need a squadron of American cavalry or a company of British regulars to stop the execution."

"The consul was up against it, as far as force was concerned, undoubtedly; but couldn't he have got Washington or London to communicate with the Mexican authorities and have them send a regiment of Federals to the scene?" I queried.

"There wasn't time—and the consul knew that. No, sir, that feller was a smart guy, and just put a bold front on it when that Mex marched Bob out with a firing squad to do the dirty work."

"But what in the world could he do—or did he do?" I asked, hanging on for the unpredictable ending of this strange yarn.

"The consul waited until they stood Bob against the side of the freight car, and then walked over to the kid and threw a Union Jack over him. He must have figured he might need one, for he had it folded under his coat all the time."

"But, good heavens, man! A bit of bunting wouldn't stop a renegade like that Mexican rebel?"

"The bit of bunting didn't," the old vet. smiled at my eagerness to hear the finale. "But what the consul said to the Mex as he threw the flag over Bob stopped him though; stopped him as though someone had shot the boulder in his tracks."

"What in the world did the consul say?"

"He just looked that Mex in the eye and said: 'Go ahead if you want to take the consequences of putting a bullet through that flag. But don't say I didn't warn you!'"

"And did he?"

"Put a bullet through the flag of England?" the old soldier scoffed. "Not by a jugful he didn't! You never saw such a change in a Mex in your life! He just passed the buck to his commander, but the commander wasn't having any part of it either; so Bob went home with the rest of us, and that was that!"

The End.

SEARCHLIGHT ON FRANCE

France to-day has been divided by her conquerors into three zones. There is the forbidden zone, consisting of the departments of the Nord and Pas de Calais, familiar to those who used to cross to France by the short sea routes. This one is attached to the German G.H.Q. at Brussels, not Paris, and the Germans have more than once remarked that "after the war" this detachment from France will be permanent.

In the occupied one the Nazis have been careful to include not only the ports and air bases suitable for attacks on England, not only space to which to mobilise a huge army for invasion, not only the capital, but most of the richest land and of the wheat-growing areas. The remainder forms the so-called unoccupied zone, whose capital is the mountain spa of Vichy.

To these three divisions must be added a fourth—a non-geographical division—the prisoners of war who number 2,000,000 and who have for the most part been transported to Germany. The historic provinces of Alsace and Lorraine have been torn from France and have become part of the Reich. The majority of the French inhabitants have been expelled and forced to leave all their belongings, except a few personal effects, behind them.

Ninety-five percent of the inhabitants of occupied France live only in the hope of a British victory. They detest their conquerors with a great and growing hatred. They do not believe a word of the Paris Radio and Press, controlled by the Germans and staffed by Frenchmen whom they consider traitors. They listen eagerly to the French transmissions of the B. B. C.

French women will shake their skirts as they step out of the Metro after brushing against German soldiers. The showing of German news films frequently provokes disturbances. In a Dieppe cinema recently a film showing the exploits of the German and Italian air forces provoked cries of "Down with Hitler—down with Mussolini!" Result, a fine of 1,000,000 francs imposed upon the town.

Hitler was never more cunning than when he decided to leave that part of France which was no use to him economically or militarily in the illusion of freedom and to stay Mussolini's grasping hand in the seizure of the French African Empire. Had the Germans occupied the whole of metropolitan France and the Italians even a part of the Empire, the spirit of resistance would soon have flamed up again.

CROOKSTON MAN FACING SERIOUS CHARGE

Robert Anderson, Crookston, will face a charge of manslaughter and drunk driving as a result of an accident which occurred at Chapman's Corners, three miles south of Tweed early last Sunday morning. Richard C. Thompson, 108 Cannifton Road, Belleville, died in the General Hospital at that place, on Wednesday afternoon of injuries received, and Chief Constable J. C. Hayes of Tweed laid a charge against Anderson.

Mrs. Edna Thompson, the other passenger, escaped with minor injuries, and is expected to recover.

NEW COMPANY SECURES CHARTER

Letters patent have been granted to a number of clergymen and business-men for the formation of a company, known as Oak Lake Camp Stirling Incorporated. The object of the company is to establish, maintain and conduct summer schools, boys' and girls' camps, and family groups for the purpose of religious training at Oak Lake.

The directors of the company are Rev. W. J. H. Smyth, Port Perry; S. G. Saywell, merchant, Oshawa; Rev. R. M. Patterson, Omenace; Rev. W. P. Woodger, Cobourg, and Rev. R. H. Rickard, Cobourg. Head of office presumably will be at Oak Lake.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

GRAIN MIXTURES AID MILK FLOW IN DRY SEASON

Cows must be kept in full production if Canada is to meet cheese output promised Britain.

With a threatened decrease in summer milk production owing to acute pasture conditions in many counties of Ontario due to near drought conditions, The Feed Board of the Ontario Department of Agriculture is advising farmers to resort to heavier grain feeding to keep up the milk flow. This is deemed absolutely necessary if Ontario is to do its 70 per cent share in providing 112,000,000 pounds of Canadian cheese for Britain.

Statistics show that Ontario is down 330,000 pounds of cheese this year as compared with last year's production for the first five months. Officials have been hoping the figures for June will show this deficit wiped out.

Reports received by the Ontario Department of Agriculture from the heavy cheese-producing counties of Eastern Ontario state that many cheese factory patrons have materially increased production per cow by judicious grain feeding. While farmers cannot control pastures owing to weather conditions, they can control supplemental grain feeding, Feed Board officials point out.

Grain mixtures for cows on good pasture are recommended by the Board as follows: (1) oats 200 pounds and barley 100 pounds; (2) oats 200 pounds, barley 100 pounds and wheat 100 pounds; (3) oats 100 pounds, barley 100 pounds, wheat 100 pounds, and soybean oilmeal 100 pounds.

Grain mixtures for cows on poor to medium pasture: (1) 200 pounds, barley 100 pounds, wheat 100 pounds, soybean oilmeal 100 pounds; (2) oats 200 pounds, wheat 100 pounds, dried brewers' grains 100 pounds and linseed oilmeal 50 pounds.

The above mixtures are considered ideal but if these grains are not available, it is better to use what are available than one at all.

The condition of pasture, condition of cow and milk flow should be taken into consideration when deciding the amount of grain mixture to be fed.

THE WEED OF THE WEEK—OX-EYE DAISY

The Ox-eye Daisy, sometimes called White Daisy, White Weed, or Poverty Weed, is another of those perennial weeds that first came from Europe and is very closely related to the Chrysanthemum or national flower of Japan. It is on the increase in Ontario and most troublesome in pastures, says John A. MacLeod, Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

It is hardly necessary to describe the Ox-eye Daisy. It is in full bloom right now and will flower until August. Most city dwellers refer to it as a flower but the farmer has other ideas. He looks upon it as a pest that can only be controlled by plowing and cultivation.

If the field is in a pasture, plow shallow (not more than four inches) towards the end of August and harrow at once. Let the field stand for a couple of weeks, advises Mr. MacLeod, and then cultivate it the same way it was plowed two or three inches deep. If possible, cultivate a third or fourth time, going a little deeper each time.

In the spring, cultivate the field often enough to keep the Daisy from making any growth above ground until it is time to put in potatoes, corn, roots or rape. It must be remembered that daisies have short, thick root-stalks of tremendous vitality and the hood crop must be repeatedly and thoroughly cultivated in order to be effective, Mr. MacLeod states.

A chemical weed killer can be used to advantage to destroy this weed in meadows and pastures. Write the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto, for Circular No. 60 "Weed Eradication by Chemicals."

BRITAIN MAY REQUIRE LARGE SUPPLY OF EGGS

Indications are that Great Britain will require an increasing large supply of eggs from Canada during the third year of the war. The Dominion Department of Agriculture believes it is now too late to prepare for this demand through the purchase of baby chicks, but a great deal can be done by a careful selection and carrying over of all available laying stock. There is a noticeable tendency at the present time on the part of poultry producers to reduce flocks, the marketing of fow being quite heavy during the first two weeks in June.

While systematic culling is desirable at all times, the present situation would not appear to warrant heavy reductions. There has been no break in the price of eggs and all indications point to a particularly strong egg market during the summer and fall of this year.

While it is true that a great many yearlings were kept over last fall and in the ordinary course of events now is the time when two year olds, and birds that have completed their lay, should go to market. Poultry producers, however, would be well advised to look over their yearling stock carefully and to retain for laying purposes all birds which are physically fit and in such condition as to insure a maximum egg production during the next twelve months.

BROKEN EGGS—DAMAGED FRUIT DELAY MILITARY MAIL

Damaged fruit, broken glass jars which had contained maple syrup and cartons of fresh eggs, all broken, causing damage to the surrounding mails, are being removed from parcels addressed to our overseas troops at the base Post Office, Ottawa.

Canadian Postal Corps officials have reported to Hon. William P. Mullock, K.C., Postmaster General, that last week 16 parcels in one bag of army mail missed a despatch because they required repacking, as a result of the breakage of a glass jar of maple syrup in one parcel. Fresh eggs that had been enclosed without wrapping, along with two tins of maple syrup, in another parcel had also broken and spread. Five bananas with but a single paper cover and two thin cartons of eggs merely wrapped in paper were removed from other packages.

The above examples illustrate the folly of sending perishable or fragile articles through the mails to our troops, especially in view of the long journey by land and sea under wartime conditions. Parcels containing perishable goods likely to spoil within the time required for transportation and delivery, or which contain articles likely to become damaged in transit, are not acceptable for mailing.

If a parcel is worth mailing it is worth care in packing. All parcels should be fully prepaid, securely packed in strong containers, wrapped in several layers of thick paper and tied with strong twine. A slip containing the address of the soldier and the return address of the sender should be enclosed with the contents. The sender's address should appear on the cover. Completed Customs Declaration forms are required on all parcels for our troops abroad. Parcels for overseas should be addressed as follows:

Regimental Number, Rank and Name. Name and Details of Unit (i.e. Company or section, squadron, battery, holding unit, etc.)

PETHERICKS

Petherick's Softball Team won from Seymour West on Saturday evening, at the High School grounds in Campbellford. A home run by A. Tinney with bases full put Pethericks in the lead which they held until end of game.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay attended the Holstein Picnic at Stirling Fair grounds, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Barnum attended the graduation of their daughter, Helen, at Albert College, on Thursday afternoon. Helen has accepted a position in the office at the college for the summer.

The pupils and teacher of Petherick's school are to be congratulated on the success of their Red Cross concert, held in the hall on Friday evening. The proceeds amounted to over $43.00, which will be for Red Cross fund.

Mr. Alfred Barnum, who is census enumerator for this district, expects to finish the work this week.

The Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. Caroline Wright, on Wednesday afternoon last. There was a good attendance. A quilt was quilted for the Red Cross. During the business part of meeting an address was read by Mrs. Thos. Fry and Mrs. (Dr.) Reddick was presented

JOINT AIR TRAINING PLAN IS CANADA'S GREATEST ENTERPRISE

By Hugh Templin

It was a quiet April Sunday here in Ontario, but over in Europe, the war had boiled over in a new direction. As usual, Hitler had chosen the beginning of a new week and the time of the full moon to launch another attack. The radio was pouring out bits of news at regular intervals. Actually, there wasn't much to tell yet, and most of the bulletins were made up of what some government thought or what another statesman had said. It seems that most of Europe was being heard from—London, Vichy, Berlin, Rome, Athens, Moscow and Washington.

There was no official comment from the Government of Canada, and yet there was one to be heard, even louder than the voices on the radio. Every few minutes, there was the sound of a plane passing over our village—the loud roar of a Harvard trainer or the duller sound of the twin motors of an Avro-Anson bomber. It was Canada's answer to Hitler.

Some time before that, Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of National Defence for Air, had put it into words. From one of his speeches in Parliament, I quote just one paragraph:

"Canada has a responsibility to bear. We are the senior partner in the Commonwealth outside Great Britain. We are not, as was the case in the last war, simply making a contribution to the common pot; we are in the war as a partner. It is patent to all the people of the world that eventual success cannot be won until we first achieve air equality and then gain such air supremacy as will permit us to take the offensive without which no war can be won. In this respect the Dominion of Canada has a far greater responsibility than was ever dreamed of during the last conflict. We are the mainstay and right arm of Great Britain. In so far as the

ALLANS MILLS

The W. I. held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed. Huff, with 24 members and several visitors present. The President, Mrs. J. F. Baker opened the meeting with O' Canada and the Ode, with the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll call, paying of fees.

The Sec. Mrs. W. J. Barlow, read the annual report for 1940 and 41. Also several overseas letters read thanking the W. I. for the Easter boxes received.

The report of the years war work was read, and the leaders of the groups reported the work done during last year.

Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Melklejohn, Mrs. Burkitt, thanked their groups for the cooperation and help they had received during the year as $393.36 had been raised by the groups.

Mrs. J. F. Baker, gave a report of Red Cross work that had been done. The following officers were elected:

Mrs. J. F. Baker, president; Mrs. W. J. Barlow, sec.-treas.; Mrs. Geo. Eastwood, 1st vice-president; dist. dir. Mrs. A. Burkitt; Directors: Mrs. A. V. Brown, J. S. McKeown; M. Fitzgerald, M. McIntyre; pianist, Mrs. Jason Baker; conveners for standing committees: Education, Mrs. J. Brown; health, Mrs. Melklejohn; agriculture, Mrs. M. Neal; Canadianization, Mrs. D. Wellman; community activities, Mrs. E. Huff; Legislation, Mrs. F. McKeown; home economics, Mrs. L. Munby; press reporter, Mrs. D. Wellman. The meeting closed with National Anthem and a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel McKeown, of Campbellford, Mr. and Mrs. A. Reid of Springbrook, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. McKeown on Sunday.

Several from this vicinity attended the shower in honour of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cotton on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Burkitt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burkitt and Beverly, returned to Sudbury on Monday after spending a few days in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grills visited at Mr. and Mrs. A. Burkitt, on Sunday.

Mr. Marvin Wellman of Waterloo, is holidaying at Mr. D. Wellmann's.

Mr. Ronald Kerr of Toronto, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wellman.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Burkitt, spent Saturday with friends in Colbourne.

with a lovely floor rug. Mrs. Reddick made a very fitting reply.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Miss Effie Davidson, when a number of ladies met and quilted a quilt for Red Cross. The hostess served lunch at the close.

Mr. Alymer Petherick has been appointed trustee for Petherick's school in place of Mr. Grant Kerr, who has moved to Belleville.

Joint Air Training Plan is concerned, we believe that we have reached the point where we can predict the success of the plan and the attainment of our common object. In order to do this, we need the help, the advice of Canada. I do believe that we will receive it."

Canada's Greatest Enterprise

The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan has been called "Canada's greatest single enterprise." It is our country's outstanding effort to help Britain to hold out at home and later to strike back so hard that the war is certain to be won. It attracts the attention of much of the world. Canada has placed at the disposal of Great Britain and the Empire her vast area in which to train student pilots unmolested, and has also assumed the responsibility for much of the cost of the plan, and supplying most of the young men who will become the members of the air crews and the ground crews.

As to the suitability of Canada as training ground, there can be no doubt. There is plenty of room; the sites for landing fields and the buildings for training schools are available. The United States is nearby to supply certain types of planes and a large number of extra instructors.

The total cost of the project was originally estimated at $600,000,000, of which Canada was to pay somewhat more than half. But as the pace of the war accelerated, the cost of the plan has mounted. It is now revised to $824,000,000, of which Canada is to pay $531,000,000.

The men come from various parts of the Empire—England and Scotland, Australia and New Zealand, with a sprinkling from the Argentine, the far-off Straits Settlements, the United States and numerous other countries. But the Royal Canadian Air Force is in charge of the training and four out of five of the recruits are Canadians. Every one of them seems determined to become a pilot and to follow in the footsteps of Bishop, Collishaw, Barker and the rest—but of that, more and later.

Canadians Don't Know the Story Yet

With such a great and important task on their hands, it seems strange that Canadians don't know the story of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. They have read about it again and again, without realizing what it really means.

Early in May, the editors of weekly newspapers in Ontario and Quebec had an opportunity to visit one of the Bombing and Gunnery schools near Lake Erie. More than one expressed surprise at the magnitude and efficiency of the camp. Yet this is but one of 83 training camps and schools which will be used in the completed plan.

Another Ontario editor recently spent an afternoon in a great big bog on the high tableland of South-Western Ontario. It is a flat country, side where there is nothing to obstruct the view for miles and no sound except the occasional bird. He was amazed at the continual procession of planes high overhead. It seemed that before one was out of sight and hearing, another would be coming over the horizon, most of them bombing planes which had travelled many miles. Back home that night, he stayed outside for an hour to watch more bombers cutting across the sky, one more star, distinguishable only though all he could see each time was because it moved and was sometimes red or green. He was filled with a great curiosity about how these men are trained.

The First of a series

This is the first of a series of articles about the Air Training Plan and the R.C.A.F. They are being written for the readers of Ontario's weekly newspapers to answer some of the questions so often asked and to tell Canadians what their Royal Canadian Air Force is doing.

When the officers of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association met at Ottawa recently, there was much discussion about what their papers could do to help the war effort. It was suggested that one editor be chosen to write about the Air Force. The fullest co-operation was freely offered by the Department of Public Information, not only in the matter of arranging visits to the various camps and schools, but in supplying pictures to go with them. I was chosen for that interesting task.

Already I have visited several centres; in the next few weeks, I will be going to many others. Already, I can testify to the courtesy and warmth welcome from all whom I have met. Questions have been freely answered and I have been shown all I asked to see. The only restriction is as to the numbers graduating and going to the Motherland. The need for secrecy is apparent to anyone. But already it has been announced in Parliament that over 50,000 young Canadians have enlisted in the R.C.A.F.—enough to make up three divisions of infantry. NEXT WEEK—Enlisting in the R. C. A. F.

CHEESE PRODUCTION UP IN MAY

There was a decided increase in cheese production in Hastings County during the month of May, according to H. L. Fair, Agricultural Representative, production was up approximately 300,000 lbs., while production for the season so far is also up approximately 300,000 lbs. The total production for the Province of Ontario is still behind the production of this time last year by around 200,000 lbs.

The actual figures are as follows:

	1940	1941
Production for the month of May	815,163	1,099,968
Total production to the end of May	926,468	1,201,981
Production for Ont. to the end of May	15,030,859	17,639,613

Recent showers will help to improve the pastures and will assist materially in helping maintain the present high production of cheese.

Great Britain will take as much cheese as Canada can produce. Every effort should be made to produce as much as possible.

REUNION COMING

We saw, in 1917, the marriage of the United States fleet with the Royal Navy—and there has not been a divorce. For the time being they have lived apart, but we may be quite sure that in a little while they will again take up housekeeping together—Ottawa Journal.

Entered Into Rest

ADAM L. HOUGH

The death of an old and highly respected resident of this village, in the person of Adam L. Hough, occurred in Belleville Hospital late Sunday evening, June 22nd, following a three months' illness.

The late Adam Loucks Hough, who was in his 82nd year was born in Stirling, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hough. All his life was passed in this village and vicinity and during his active years he was engaged at various times as a butcher and carriage maker. He was well known in the district and throughout his long life he was held in high esteem by many friends and acquaintances. In religion he was a member of St. Paul's United Church and fraternally he was a member of long standing of the Independent order of Oddfellows.

Surviving him are one son, Mr. James B. Hough, principal of the High school at Deseronto; two daughters, Mrs. W. J. Whitty and Mrs. Henry Tulloch, both of Stirling; one sister, Mrs. W. J. Graham, Toronto. He was predeceased by his wife and two children.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, at 2 p.m., from his late residence, Front St., to St. Paul's United church, where service was conducted by Rev. A. M. Lavery. Members of Stirling Lodge, No. 239, I.O.O.F., attended in a body and performed the last rites of the society at the graveside.

The pallbearers were Messrs. C. F. Linn, J. B. Thompson, Harry Hullin, A. Vandervoort, Alex Park, of Stirling, and Walter Jeffrey of Belleville.

JOHN WRIGHT

Residents of Huntingdon Township were shocked to hear of the sudden death of John Wright, well known West Huntingdon farmer, who died at his home on Sunday. He suffered a heart attack.

The late John Wright was born 59 years ago in Huntingdon Township and resided in that community all of his life. He engaged in the occupation of farmer and was road superintendent of the township for many years. The late John Wright was a Presbyterian. Friends and relatives were shocked to learn of the deceased man's sudden death, as he seemed in apparent good health.

Besides his widow, one son, John Wright, of Geraldton, Ont., three daughters, Mrs. Stafford Meraw of Tweed, Miss Margaret, principal of West Huntingdon School and Miss Lorna, a school teacher at Springbrook survive. Others to mourn the loss are four brothers, Walter of Stirling, William of Rawdon, Morley in Western Canada and Robert of Foxboro, as well as two sisters, Mrs. Will Donald of Minto and Mrs. George Morrow of Frankford.

The funeral of the late John Wright was held on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, North Front Street, to West Huntingdon United Church for service, and was largely attended. The Rev. W. H. Walker conducted the service, assisted by Mr. Kenneth Stewart. Miss Annie Fleming gave as a solo. When we come to end of the way. The pallbearers were, Messrs. Chester Sills, Sam Donnon, John Hassall, Tom Fleming, Albert Clements and Reg. Haggerty.

Interment was made in Stirling cemetery.

PERCY J. MORTON

Sgt. Percy James Morton, 51, of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, died in Toronto on Monday. A native of Stirling, he was proprietor of a drug business in Chapleau, Ont., until his retirement last November.

He was a graduate of the University of Toronto in pharmacy and had taken post-graduate study at Ann Arbor, Mich., and the University of Los Angeles, Cal.

He is survived by his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Ina Houlihan, and one son Bennett Morton. Old friends in the Stirling districts will regret to learn of his death.

The funeral took place at Campbellford on Thursday morning, June 26th.

Mr. Hugh Morton of Stirling, is a brother and Mrs. Merton Harter, of Herkimer, N.Y., a sister, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

ROBERT BRADY

The late Robert Brady died very suddenly at his home in Hungerford Township, on Sunday evening, June 22nd, from a heart attack. Mr. Brady had celebrated his eighty first birthday a few days before and seemed to be much as usual, but suddenly he slipped away to be with his God,
